GARDEN, FARM, BEES, ETC.

FRUIT-GATHERING.

Writing on this subject in the Weekly Irish Times, the Garden Correspondent says: Both Apples and Pears from now out demand watching to catch the auspicious time for gathering and storage; that is apart from ultra-early kinds of either, which have already had attention, such as Beauty of Bath Apple and William's Bon Chretien Pear, the last-named having, perforce of the bird and wasp worry, being, or having been, gathered to save them from the enemy, and but a few days under storage reaching their best, and but a few days more going rotten "inwards." The still earlier Pear, the estimable Jargonelle, which does so well on a cold, sunless wall, being, of course, over. With all other kinds of Apples and Pears the gatherer's motto is hasten slowly, for nothing spoils them more than premature picking. We have, however, a good test apart from some knowledge of early and late kinds, which is useful, and that is—(1) Good specimen fruits commencing to fall; (2) lifting a fruit, which, parting readily from the spur to which it is attached, shows its fitness for gathering, and (3) cutting open a fruit to disclose the seeds, which if black or deep brown, according to variety, reveals fitness for the purpose. Next comes storage in a cool, dark place, in single layers if possible, no damaged or bruised fruit in the picking being admitted; and in gathering some Pears, like the noble Pitmaston Duchesse, want handling like eggs, after which it may be a week, a month or months ere it matures in perfection, or, in fact, not until spring, as with Easter Beurre, for instance, it is fit for eating.

EGGS.

Writing on this subject in the Weekly Irish Times, the Poultry Correspondent says:—

Eggs are becoming scarce, so that those who are anxious to have supplies for their customers should hurry up the pullets that have arrived at laying maturity and are not laying yet. There is always a shortage of eggs during September—the young birds have not all commenced laying, and the old ones have not recovered from the moult. Late-hatched pullets of the previous year should be laying now, and a little forcing with the aid of extra meat and spices should be used with these and the old hens that have moulted, to bring them on. We do not like forcing as a rule, and birds for breeding purposes should never be forced, but it is allowable in some special cases.

MERCHANT FOR TRIAL.

MANCHESTER FIRM'S BOOKS.

Thomas Wolstenholme (45), a cotton merchant, of The Priory, Worsley, was committed for trial at Manchester Assizes when he appeared on remand at Manchester City Police Court yesterday charged with fraudulent conversion and falsification of accounts. Bail was allowed. Wolstenholme pleaded not guilty and reserved his defence.

Wolstenholme was arrested at Hamilton, Ontario, on a warrant charging him with the fraudulent conversion of a banker's cheque for £500.

At the previous hearing Mr. J. C. Waddington, for the Director of Public Prosecutions, said that Wolstenholme became managing director of Messrs. T. Wolstenholme and Company, Ltd., cotton merchants, of Portland street, Manchester, in 1922, but the firm ultimately went into liquidation.

The main allegation against Wolstenholme was that he had promoted false transactions in cloth and artificial silk which appeared from one of the books to have been ordered by his firm. If the whole of the transactions disclosed in the book were taken instead of a few selected instances, the charge would involve a total of £43,069.

There were nine charges against Wolstenholme.

The evidence given yesterday included that of an accountant, who stated that, following a meeting of the shareholders of T. Wolstenholme and Co., Ltd., he saw Wolstenholme and questioned him about the affairs of the company. Wolstenholme showed him certain ledgers purporting to set out various purchases by the firm of artificial silk.

"Wolstenholme told me," said the witness, "that the entries were fictitious. He was quite candid about it, and said that no goods as shown in the books were purchased by the company."

DUBLIN DISTRICT COURT.

MISSING PROPERTY.

THREE GLASGOW MEN IN THE DOCK.

John Smith, ship's cook, Lyon street, Glasgow; Robert Bowie, ship's steward, Hillside street, Glasgow, and Thomas McGill, greengrocer, West Russell street, Glasgow, were charged on remand with having, on the 17th inst. at Stapleton's public-house, Naas, conspired to steal a purse, containing £13 in notes, from the person of Mr. Patrick McKenna, Peace Commissioner, Raheny, County Dublin.

The prisoners were now further charged with being in illegal possession of a cheque-book, the property of Mr. Edward Field, Ranelagh, and McGill and Bowie were charged with being in illegal possession of a rolled gold watch, a watch chain and other articles, including a Post Office savings bank-book.

The savings bank-book, it was stated, was in the name of Bowie, but the police believed that the prisoner Bowie had another name.

Sergeant Hayes, one of the witnesses, said that McGill when charged with the illegal possession of a rolled gold watch replied that the watch and the other articles were his personal property. Bowie made the same reply. The witness, not being satisfied with the replies, asked for a remand for the purpose of making further inquiries. All the prisoners, he said, denied knowledge of the cheque-book.

Brendan Walshe, a 'bus cleaner, gave evidence of having found the missing cheque-book under a seat of a 'bus at O'Connell Bridge.

The accused men were remanded for a week and were allowed bail, the amount fixed being £50 each, the same sum as before.

Mr. E. H. Burne, solicitor, appeared for Bowie and McGill, and Mr. Patrick Campbell, solicitor, for Smith.

IMPRISONMENT FOR BEGGING.

James Hughes (48), Garden lane, off Frances street, and Edward McCluskey (64), whose address was given as the Morning Star Hostel, North Brunswick street, were sentenced to seven days' imprisonment for begging.

COAST EROSION AT ROSSLARE.

FORTHCOMING INQUIRY.

The Free State Minister for Industry and Commerce has appointed Messrs. E. J. Smyth, barrister-at-law, and Arthur Hassard, C.E., to hold a public inquiry at Rosslare on Monday, 29th September, in connection with an application by the Wexford County Council for an Order prohibiting the removal of sand, gravel and shingle from the foreshore at Rosslare strand. Very serious erosion has taken place in the district, and it is felt that immediate steps must be taken to prevent further erosion.

MOTOR CAR IN LOCH.

LITTLE GIRL RESCUED FROM WATER.

Through some mishap to the steering gear, a motor car yesterday crashed through a stone wall and fell into Loch Ness, near Inverness—one of the deepest lochs in Scotland—the four occupants having remarkable escapes from death. They were Mrs. Robertson, of Durham (who was driving), and her little daughter, and Mrs. Mackerrow, of Kilmarnock, and her little daughter.

Three of the occupants of the car were thrown on to the loch side, but one of the girls fell into twelve feet of water. Fortunately, an American professor happened to pass along the road and observed the car, and the little girl, who was unhurt, was rescued. The others suffered from shock. Mrs. Robertson was conveyed in a boat to a friend's house, while Mrs. Mackerrow and the girls were taken to Inverness, where they were medically treated.

MEDICAL APPOINTMENTS.

The following is the monthly list of medical candidates appointed to offices under local authorities on the recommendation of the Local Appointments Commissioners:—

Doctor Thomas Galvin Roche, Newcastle West, County Limerick, to be Visiting Medical Officer, County Home, Newcastle West, County Limerick, 13th August, 1930.

Doctor Thomas Edward Pierse, Mount George, Wexford, to be Visiting Physician and Anæsthetist, County Hospital, Wexford, 14th August, 1930.

Doctor Michael Kirby, Connaught street, Athlone, County Westmeath, to be Medical Officer, Robertstown and Kilmeague Dispensary District, County Kildare, 18th August, 1930.

Doctor Patrick Joseph Cassin, Mental Hospital, Kilkenny, to be Assistant Medical Officer (Male), Grangegorman Mental Hospital, Dublin, 20th August, 1930.

Doctor Jeremiah O'Driscoll, Compass Hill, Kinsale, County Cork, to be Medical Officer, Ballyduff Dispensary District, County Waterford, 20th August, 1930.

THE LIGHTS OF THE TOWN.

The latest addition to the lights of Dublin consists of two striking coloured signs which have just been erected for the Mineral Waters Distributors, Ltd., at Upper O'Connell street. One sign is for "C. and C." (Cantrell and Cochrane) ginger ale and the other for Thwaites's soda water. Each of these signs is approximately 28 feet long, with letters ranging from 4 feet to 18 inches in height. The signs work on a high-tension voltage of about 7,500 volts, and are the largest of the kind in Dublin.

FINANCIAL NEWS AND NOTES

TONE AND COMMENT.

DUBLIN "LOCALS" SUPPORTED.

INDUSTRIALS MOSTLY FLAT.

The opening opportunity yesterday for dealing for the new account was largely shadowed by the continuance of very unfavourable weather conditions, with the disturbing consequences to so many large interests in the country, and consequently both the volume of business current and market prices on 'Change proved disappointing. Government National Loans were quiet, but Dublin Corporation 5 per cent. Stock (1950-1970) added a further fraction to the substantial premium already quoted. War Loan Fives were the turn easier, but one or two others tended to harden. Among Banking securities, Nationals were better, and other shares in this group were quietly steady. Guinness shares were supported firmly, and the Preference further improved. British and Irish Steam Pref. were easier for a small lot, but Grand Canal Ordinary and Preference remain firm, but nominal. Cable "B" Stock gave way further. Home Rails were quietly dull, but the only actual change was a fall of ¼ to 44 in Great Northern Preference Stock. Ordinary Stocks were idle, and the same remark applies to Tramways and Trusts. Alliance Gas were again in keen request and improved still further. Bakery and Drapery shares closed firm. Leading Tobaccos turned weak, and Dunlops were less firm. Courtaulds were under sale pressure for the other side, and this comment applies to Imperial Chemicals, and especially Unilever Ordinary shares, all of which show a distinctly reactionary trend and considerable weakness. Edward and John Burke Debentures and Alex. Findlater Debentures both were bid for at higher prices. Motor shares show weakness.

LONDON GENERALLY DULL.

GERMAN BONDS AGAIN LOWER.

Extremely quiet conditions marked the opening of the new account in the London Stock Markets yesterday, and in the continued absence of interest, the general trend of values was again in the downward direction, a number of the depreciations recorded being of substantial amounts. The offer of £3,500,000 5 per cent. Mortgage Debenture Stock of the General Electric Co., Ltd., met with instant success, the subscription list being closed at noon, heavily over-subscribed. Little of interest transpired among the gilt-edged securities, but after opening the turn lower values stiffened again, and at the close showed little variation from Friday's levels. Dublin Loan held firm at 5 prem. Foreign Government Stocks presented a dull appearance, with German Bonds again sharply depressed. There was, however, some slight recovery from the worst values, the 5½ per cent. closing 1½ points down at 78, after touching 77½, while the Sevens commenced at 101, but later went to 102, at which they showed a loss of 2 points. Poland Sevens and Peruvian Corp. Debs. also lost the turn, but elsewhere the week-end values were easily maintained, with Turkish Unified a further ½ harder to 12. Dull conditions continued in Home Rails, and values were from ½ to a point lower all round, Metropolitan and Undergrounds suffering in common with others. Interest remained on small lines among Colonial and Foreign Rails, and further recessions were registered. The Buenos Ayres issues went back all round, and "Can Pacs," Central Argentines and San Paulo Ord. also lost ground.

Dull conditions prevailed in Industrials, quotations receding afresh, following an uncertain opening. Other sections also displayed an easier front.

DUBLIN BUSINESS DONE.

FUNDS AND COGNATE SECURITIES FIRM. CABLES AND INDUSTRIALS WEAK. BURKES, ALLIANCE GAS AND FINDLATER DEBENTURES BETTER.

Government National 5 per cent. Sterling repeated 103¾, but the Second 5 per cent. eased ⅛ to 103⅝ and Land Bonds 4½ per cent. ⅛ to 95½. Agricultural Credit Corporation 5 per cent. Guaranteed Mortgage Bonds closed 100¼ bid.

In British Funds, War Loan 5 per cent. fell 1/16 to 103⅞, but the Deed Stock rose ⅛ to the same price, and Consols ⅛ to 54⅞ for an odd lot.

Dublin Corporation 5 per cent. (1950-70) Stock rose ⅛ to 101¼, and Sligo Harbour 4 per cent. 1 9/16 to 46.

In Banks, National rose 6d. to 48s. 6d., while Bank Stock repeated 325 and Munster and Leinsters 6.

In Breweries, etc., Guinness Ordinary repeated 102s. 9d., and the Preference improved 1/16 to 11⅞.

A small lot of British and Irish Steam Preference realised 15s. or 1½d. under last marking.

Cables, etc., "B" fell 1 to 13¼, and the Preference quoted 74 x.d.

Rails were very idle. Great Northern Preference fell ¼ to 44, but the Guaranteed at 58½ and Great Southern Debentures at 62 were unaltered.

Alliance Gas rose ⅛ to 9 5/16.

As regards Commercial and Industrial shares, Coats Ordinary repeated 57s. 6d., but Courtaulds fell 1s. 3d. to 43s. 6d., Dunlop Rubber Ordinary 4½d. to 10s. 10½d., Imperial Chemicals 1s. 1½d. to 20s. 6d., 20s. 4½d. Tobaccos were weaker. British-American fell 1s. 9d. to 105s. 10½d., 105s. 3d., and Imperials 7½d. to 96s. 6d. after opening at 96s. 9d., 97s., but ditto of Canada improved 3d. to 40s. 3d. Unilever Ordinary slumped 3s. 7½d. to 45s. 7½d., Burke Debentures improved ⅛ to 8⅛ bid, and Alex. Findlater and Co. Debentures 1s. 2d. to 50s., with Goulding Ordinary firm at 80s. 6d. Irish Times Preference were called 69s., and the Second Preference 15s., both bid, but did not offer. Irish-American Oil Preference closed at 23s. to 23s. 6d. nominally.

Other business done included Ford Motors at 80s. 9d., Leyland Motors at 60s. 3d., Swedish Match "B" at 14⅞ and Turner and Newall Ordinary at 60s. 9d.

BELFAST.

Belfast Exchange was dull, and only a moderate amount of business was transacted for the new account. War Fives brought 103 13/16, 7/16. Northern Bank "A" were marked 5 9/16. London, Midland and Scottish Railway Ord. repeated 35. Leahy, Kelly and Leahy Ord. advanced 1/16 to 8. Dunlop Rubber lower at 10s. 10½d. Swedish Match B 14⅞. Imperial Chemicals Pref. 23s. Unilever Ord. 47s. 6d.

OIL PRODUCTION.

Petroleum Options (1925)—Production for week ended 20th September 5425 barrels. Production from which company receives royalties, 1,074 barrels (previous week 1,080).

INDUSTRIAL MARKET.

NEW ACCOUNT'S DISMAL START.

IMPERIAL CHEMICALS DOWN.

As anticipated, the carry-over in the Industrial sections disclosed a fair-sized "bear" account open in some of the favourite counters. Imperial Chemicals Ord. were arranged at "even" to 2 per cent., Courtaulds on a similar basis, while on "Bats" and "Imps" the rate was 1 to 3 per cent., on British Celanese 1 to 2 per cent., and on Molasses 2 to 4 per cent. Dunlops were done at 4½ to 5½ per cent., which proved to be the general rate for other shares. Dismal conditions ruled at the opening of the new account. Little disposition was seen to give support at the present juncture, though a few inquiries from bargain hunters were reported towards the close.

After a steady opening the trans-Atlantic favourites lost ground. Brazilian Traction Common gave way from 36⅜ to 35⅜. Radio Corporations dipped to 37¼ at one time, the final quote of 37½ leaving them with a net decline of ⅞.

The Record leaders presented a weak appearance, notably "Gramos" (H.M.V.), which lost 5/16 at 3, with Columbia "Graphs" finally 3/16 down on balance at 3 3/16.

Cables and Wireless Stocks continued under the influence of the coming reduction in cable rates. The Pref. finished at 74, the "A" Ord. at 24 and the "B" Ord. at 12½. Canadian Marconis dwindled to 16s. 3d.

Motor shares reflected the general trend. Leylands fell back to the extent of 2s. 6d. to 59s. 6d. Electrical Equipments developed an easier trend.

Rayons and Textiles were lower, but there was no pressure to sell. Courtaulds gave way 1/16 to 2 3/16, with British Celanese Ord. on offer at 8s. and Snia Viscosa at 8s. 3d.

In the Textile section losses of a few pence were recorded by Bleachers at 17s., Bradford Dyers at 20s., Calico Printers at 9s., Patons and Baldwins at 33s. 9d. Sewing Cottons weakened to the extent of 1/16 to 1 1/16. Scribbans were an active counter, changing hands up to 16s. 3d.

There was more doing in the Unilever issues, which lost ⅛ to 2¼, and in other directions Home and Colonials shed a few pence to 12s. 10½d.

In the absence of supporting orders, the Tobacco leaders were marked down. "Bats" gave way ⅛ to 5 3/16.

Apart from Allsopps and Benskins, which hardened a trifle, the Brewery issues moved toward lower levels. Distillers dwindled to 61s. 6d., Guinness to 102s. 3d. News remained on the dull side.

In the Insurance group slight improvements were registered by Northerns at 16½ and Prudential "A" at 23⅞.

P. and O. Deferred lacked support, and receded a few pence to 44s., with Cunards a similar amount at 19s.

United Molasses were a prominent feature. After opening 3s. 6d. lower at 26s. 3d., there was a large turnover, substantially on provincial account, during which the shares changed hands up to 30s. and down to 25s., leaving off eventually at the opening level. The interim announcement appeared after official hours.

"Bears" of Imperial Chemicals gained the upper hand, and the shares were on offer in the late "street" dealings at 19s. 7½d., a loss of 1s. 7½d., while the Deferred shed 6d. to 5s. 6d., and the Preference were levelled to 23s. Dunlops registered a further loss of a few pence at 10s. 7½d. Kreuger and Toll lost ¼ to 26¾, and Swedish Match that much to 14⅝.

RECENT ISSUE DEALINGS.

Little of interest took place in this section. Courage, Marks and Spencer and Newcastle Electric Debentures were all unaltered following a very moderate turnover, other issues being neglected.

OIL SHARES GENERALLY LOWER.

A distinctly unpromising start was made for the new account in the Oil Share Market, and at the close losses of a more or less substantial character were general. Anglo-Persians were the chief sufferers among the leaders, the price giving way sharply, while the Eagle issues were offered on an unwilling market, and declined. Some fairly heavy lines of British Controlled were on offer, and failing to find buyers the price weakened. There were buyers about of Phœnix, which kept steady, but lower prices ruled for Trinidad issues.

RUBBER SHARES WEAK.

Dealings remained on an extremely small scale in the Rubber Share Market, and the tendency was to lower values still further. Malacca were an exceptionally heavy market, a loss of 1s. 7½d. being marked to 14s. 4½d., while Damansara, Labu, and Sapong were each 1s. 3d. lower. Rubber Trusts slipped back to 21s. 7½d., at which a loss of 7½d. was shown, but otherwise the week-end levels were fairly well maintained. Quiet conditions characterised the commodity section; spot and October sold 3 15/16d. per lb., December 4d. per lb., and January to March 4⅛d. to 4¼d. per lb. London stocks of raw material at 82,648 tons showed an increase of 415 tons, rather smaller than had been anticipated, but Liverpool stocks at 34,085 tons were no less than 2,289 tons higher.

THE MONEY MARKET.

CAPE GOLD DELAYED.

Floating credit remained in abundant supply in Lombard street yesterday. Borrowers renewed day-to-day loans, with lenders, other than the clearing banks, at 1½ per cent., while fresh balances until to-day, after commanding 1½ per cent. in the early hours, were offered before the close down to 1 per cent. One of the largest lenders offered money into October at 2 per cent.

Despite reports of the impending renewal of gold exports to France from the Bank of England, the discount market remained easy in tendency. For three months' bank bills the effective working rate was no better than 2 1/32 per cent., while the "hot" Treasuries were dealt in at 2 per cent. November dates were again taken by the clearing banks at 2 per cent.

Silver prices were fixed 3/16d. higher for spot and ⅛d. higher for forward delivery at 17d. per ounce for both positions. India bought, while Saturday's selling ceased.

Owing to the late arrival of the vessel from the Cape, it was not possible to dispose of the gold in the open market yesterday. The £250,000 of bar gold available will, therefore, be dealt with on Wednesday, roughly £250,000 of this week's arrival having already been sold forward for France. Next week's arrivals from the Cape will amount to £380,000, while the boat due on October 6 carries £957,000 in bar gold.

At the Bank of England yesterday, £106,625 in bar gold was sold.

Outstanding among the movements in the Foreign Exchange Market yesterday was that of the reichsmark, which opened at 20.39½, and steadily cheapened, the final quotation being 20.41¼, as compared with Saturday's close of 20.39⅜. Francs were considerably more favourable to London, and were finally quoted at 123.77, as against 123.71. Dutch florins finished at 12.04 13/16, as compared with 12.05⅞. Pesetas further improved, the closing rate of 44.65 being 35c. lower than the previous finish. Sterling on New York reacted to a little under 486, showing a net fall of 1/16c, and Canadian dollars were again finally quoted at 4.85½. Among the South American exchanges Argentine dollars further declined, and were fully 1/16 cheaper on balance at 40 1/16. Milreis were fractionally better at 5d.

LONDON MINING SHARE MARKET DULL.

NO INCREASE IN BUSINESS.

Preliminary arrangements for the carry-over indicated that the open account in Mines was not large, and consequently no great difficulty was experienced in continuing bargains yesterday, rates being about as usual. The week-end brought no great increase in the volume of public trading, the accumulation of orders being small, while professionals were disinclined to increase commitments in face of the indifference generally displayed here and on the Continent and at the Cape. Kaffirs consequently presented a somewhat dull appearance. It was noticeable, however, that no attempts were made to depress prices unduly, though the changes on the day were nearly all against holders. In the Rhodesian department the fact that maturing options had not been called resulted in the throwing on the market of shares bought against such options, and also encouraged further short selling. In these circumstances the absence of fresh outside demand accentuated the depression, and all the movements on the day were downward. Closing prices:—

* Ex Dividend. † Ex Rights. ‡ Ex bonus.

DIVIDENDS AND REPORTS.

ANGLO-SIAM CORPORATION.—Final dividend on Ord. of 12½ per cent., with a bonus of 7½ per cent., making a total distribution for the year of 27½ per cent., less tax. (Last year the interim dividend and bonus amounted to 10 per cent., and the final dividend and bonus 25 per cent., making a total for the year of 35 per cent.)

BALKIS.—Dividend of 5 per cent., less tax, on Ordinary stock.

DOBSON AND BARLOW (TEXTILE MACHINISTS, BOLTON).—Dividend of 2½ per cent. actual, less tax, on Ord. for year. (Against 9 per cent. last year.)

IMPERIAL SMELTING CORPORATION.—The report to June 30th, 1930, states:—The Corporation was formed on August 3rd, 1929, and commenced business as from that date. The gross dividend and interest received during the period amounted to £360,485. Included in this total was a special non-recurring dividend of £65,000, of which £64,119 has been applied by the directors to writing off the whole of the preliminary expenses. The balance available amounted to £296,364. From this the following deductions have been made:—Administration expenses £7,790, income tax £57,201—£64,991, leaving an available net balance of £231,372. Out of this sum dividends of 6½ per cent., less tax, have been paid on the Pref. shares, absorbing £102,044, and the directors will propose, at the general meeting, to pay a dividend of 5 per cent., less tax, on the Ord. shares in respect of the period ending June 30th, 1930, which will require £93,967—£196,012, leaving a balance to be carried forward to next year of £35,360.

OTHER FINANCIAL NEWS ON PAGE 11.

J. HETHERINGTON AND SONS.—The directors announce that owing to the continued state of trade during the last six months they are unable to recommend the payment of the half-year's dividend on the £450,000 of Preference capital due September 30th. The Preference dividend is now in arrear from September 30th, 1929.

LONDON-AMERICAN MARITIME TRADING.—In their report for the year ended July 31 last the directors state that the profits of the operating company, the Thompson Steamshipping Company, Ltd., amounted to £17,497, as against £31,346 in the previous year, the decline being due to the depressed state of trade. The board reduced the dividend from 15 per cent., tax free, to 5 per cent., tax free. Consequently, it is proposed to reduce the Ordinary dividend of the London-American company from 5 per cent. to 2½ per cent., and no supplementary distribution will be made on the 7 per Cent. Preference Shares.

NORTH CHARTERLAND EXPLORATION (1910).—A loss of £4,090 for the year to December 31st, 1929, is reported, which is stated to be mainly due to the fall in the price of Empire Tobacco, which has affected all operations within the concession. The balance-sheet at December 31st last shows a total debit at profit and loss account of £45,487.

ONVERWACHT PLATINUM, LTD.—The report for the year ended June 30th, 1930, states that the net profit was £10,540, with the balance of £5,037 brought in makes £15,577. Government and provincial taxes absorbed £137, and dividend of 2½ per cent. declared in June £11,250, leaving a surplus of £4,190 to go forward. (Last year net profit was £22,398 and dividend 5 per cent.)

PELEPAH VALLEY (JOHORE) RUBBER.—The report to March 31 last states that the profits were £6,852, compared with £10,157 for the previous year. The sum of £30,000 has been withdrawn from the reserve account and has been written off the estate account, leaving the revenue at £10,000. A contract has been entered into with the Sungei Besi Mines, Ltd., to whom a mining lease is being granted over about 750 acres of the company's estate for a consideration amounting to an average of approximately £150 per acre in cash. The purchase price is payable as to £50 per acre on the granting of the mining lease and the balance as and when the land is mined, with a minimum of £5,000 per annum. Including the amount brought forward, there is £10,535 available, but, in view of the uncertain position of the industry, no dividend is recommended.

P. AND W. MACLELLAN.—Directors have resolved to defer the consideration of a dividend on the 6 per cent. Cum. Pref. shares until after the completion of the company's financial year. (The Pref. dividend is now four years in arrear.)

RADIATION, LTD.—An interim dividend declared of 7½ per cent. (3⅛ per cent.) per share, less tax, on Ordinary, and 3 per cent., less tax, on Preference.

STANTON IRONWORKS.—Preference dividend for half-year at rate of 6 per cent. per annum, less tax.

LIVERPOOL MEAT IMPORTS.

During the past week five steamers landed fresh meat at Liverpool from the various overseas ports with freights as follows:—The Deseado, from Buenos Ayres, with 23,080 sheep and lamb carcases, 386 cases of pork, 3,401 bags, etc., of meat, and 33,790 qrs. of beef; the Adriatic, from New York, with 44 cases of meat; the Scythia, from New York, with 66 boxes of meat; the Doric, from Montreal, with 46 boxes of meat; and the Duchess of Bedford, from Montreal, with 60 boxes of pork and 60 boxes of meat—making a total of 23,080 sheep and lamb carcases, 446 cases, etc., of pork, 105 sides of veal, 3,617 bags, etc., of meat, and 33,790 qrs. of beef. Compared with the arrivals of the preceding week, these figures show a decrease of 115,284 sheep and lamb carcases, 3,339 carcases and cases of pork, 1,789 bags, etc., of meat, and 19,244 qrs. of beef.

IN THE FLOODED AREAS.

TOUR FROM DUBLIN TO CONNAUGHT.

A DEPRESSING PICTURE.

FROM A CORRESPONDENT.

Wishing to renew early associations with real Lammas floods in spate, a party of us set off on Sunday morning. Our design was to take a bite out of the country, from Dublin to Connaught, and see for ourselves how many farmers are really ruined.

Irish farmers, amongst ourselves, have got a reputation for painting every picture black. Ask any of them, any time, about his crop or his stock, or his prospects, and he will express doubt at least. This year, this time, he expresses fear of grave loss; and so may many farmers.

THE LIFFEY.

We decided to go through the Phœnix Park, and thence by the north side of the Liffey to Leixlip. After Knockmaroon Hill, and on running alongside the swollen water for a bit, we began to have doubts. The river seemed higher than the road, and the farther bank was in flood; but there was no trace of ruin. Any crops or stock that had been there had been removed.

By and by, we came to a sharp bend, and we saw one end of a flooded road section, enough to make us slow down. A mischievous bay waved us on as if passage were free, but he did so only for the edification of some comrades. As we almost stopped, where he expected us to plunge along gaily, a long stare from an eye once accustomed to transfix privates, suspended his upraised arm and froze the smirk on his face. Then we negotiated the hundred yards of flood without any trouble. It was not bad, but far from reassuring, and some of the party wanted to turn.

The next flooded section was longer, and the water deeper. We could see it bulge as from a burst main, making a gurgle through the grass bank. This time the water splashed in great drops over all the car, and the engine threatened to stop. It was almost like the slowing of a heart-beat, but a change of gear and more gas got us over in time. Then the engine did stop, but started easily when we had got a photograph.

Beyond Lucan this north road was again flooded, so we made a detour through the town, and regained our direct track for Athlone.

THE SHANNON VALLEY.

Despite the initial drawbacks, the day turned out fine, and we "stood on the Bridge of Athlone" within two and a half hours of leaving Dublin. The old town seemed as usual, and its citizens went about their business in the normal way. They were not touched or troubled by the flood. Neither were some people who had just come from Galway by 'bus.

The Galway and Longford 'buses were running freely and to time, clear proof that the roads west and north of Athlone were, generally, as we had found them east of it. So we decided to visit Clonmacnoise, and go home by Shannonbridge and Tullamore.

The main road from Athlone to Birr was just as it always is in splendid condition, and there was no indication from it of abnormal conditions. When, however, we branched off towards "The Seven Churches" the prospect became extremely dismal. The seven or eight Irish miles of road are all poor, as is the country on every side. The Shannon valley looked like one continuous lake, the river being traceable only by the brilliant red and the black navigation marks on both sides. Here, we thought, farming must be at its worst, but still there were few of the signs we had expected.

The Shannon farmers know their mistress too well to be beaten by her, except when she is very unexpected. Any Lammas may find a flood, and so they are mostly prepared early. This is the secret of successful farming.

A DUBLIN EXAMPLE.

Last week I had a talk with several Dublin farmers. One showed me his large haystacks, gathered in his haggard. They were almost black. "Not worth half the cost and labour," he said. "Fit only for bedding. I must buy hay very soon."

Another, a younger man, who has learned not to leave much to chance, was jubilant. He showed me his large shed already filled with golden wisp.

"It was a job," he declared. "I got in two hundred cocks just before the weather broke; but I had to get extra hands, make them work night and day, and pay them well. However, I will get more back; for I have good hay to sell."

That young farmer will not sell till hay has reached the pinnacle of price later on.

THE MIDLANDS.

Coming from Shannonbridge towards Tullamore we ran into a well-known circus, and it, too, brought back early memories; for this circus has been touring Ireland as long as can be remembered, and it was just the same as ever. Ten or twelve vans and waggons, fifty or sixty horses of every possible size and colour, the same old faces, one thought, met the eye. They were quite unperturbed—cheerful, in fact; for theirs is a trade little affected by the climate, and they thrive only in winter.

Near Cloghan we paused to admire a rare kind of castle and to have a chat with a farmer or two. The latter dismissed all conversation with a hopeless shrug. "The crop, the crop, don't talk about crops." We talked very little about anything; for little is known in the neighbourhood about the remarkable old castle.

It stands just upon the rocky edge of the main road, and invites attention. There is a wall round its square and marvellously preserved keep, and high up in the front of this wall can be seen the place for the ancient gibbet.

There are the two projecting stones, well-carved, upon which stood the fatal trapdoor. Behind them is the trace of the now filled doorway through which the unfortunate went, or was pushed, before execution.

That castle, though we could not find out anything, must have a history, and it is so excellently preserved that it is worth several visits.

THE BROSNA VALLEY.

Before reaching Tullamore we passed through a scene of devastation, that must mean serious loss to many farmers. Along the whole of the Brosna Valley there was flood, and hundreds of cocks of hay were under water. The vast stretch of moorland on each side of the road was also sodden, and about half a mile of the road was flooded, two feet deep in parts. This, the lowest point of the road so far experienced, was safely negotiated, and the journey from Tullamore home was quite pleasant.

It was possible to dismiss the floods and the farmers in the towns and on the good roads; but that will not dismiss them from the problems of the coming winter. When the farmer is badly hit in harvest the whole country feels the pinch in some way later on. He is, too, unlike the trained town dweller, who is insured against everything—sickness, loss through fire or accident, and so on.

The best and only way to make the farmer insure against seasons such as the present is to make promptness in harvesting a habit with him—a part of his education. If he can be induced to save his hay and corn and peat a little earlier, even at the expense of a lighter crop, he will be compensated both in quantity and quality. A small, but good, crop is far better than a big bad one.

COLUMBIA RECORDS.

GRAMAPHONE CONCERTS IN THE MANSION HOUSE.

Columbia gramaphone concerts were given in the Mansion House, Dublin, at 4 p.m. and 8 p.m. yesterday. On both occasions the Round Room was filled, and there was hearty applause at the conclusion of each record.

The latest models of "viva-tonal" Columbia with "plano-reflex" principles and new electric recordings were heard to much advantage, the tone, whether vocal or instrumental, coming through with a delightful softness and perfect clarity.

The programme was an exceedingly interesting and enjoyable one; selections being given from the compositions of Gounod, Liszt, Offenbach and Wagner.

Mr. John S. Capsey, of the Columbia Gramophone Co., Ltd., conducted the concerts, Mr. Harold M. White being at the piano.

The programme will be repeated this afternoon.

Windau to Wexford.

A commercial traveller who visited Wexford last week tells me that he was surprised to see a very large steamer in the harbour discharging a big cargo of timber, which had come all the way from Windau, a port in the Baltic province of Lettland or Latvia. The master of the vessel, a German, gave him some very interesting facts about Latvia, which is one of the small nations formed as a result of the Great War. The population is only a million and a half; it is composed principally of Letts and a small proportion of Germans, Russians and Poles. Large quantities of timber are exported from Riga and Windau. Flax is also cultivated. The official language is Lettish, but the inhabitants are of necessity linguists, and most of them speak German and Russian fluently.

The Return to Work.

The members of the victorious Australian cricket team, now homeward bound, in addition to returning to a new cricket season, are hastening to fill their professional positions, vacant for over eight months. Mr. Woodfull, the leader of the combination, is a schoolmaster, a profession which he shares with Tim Wall, the fast bowler of the team. P. M. Hornibrook, the six-foot, left-hand bowler, is a dentist, holding an M.A. degree. Hurwood is a bank clerk, and the youthful McCabe fulfils the same capacity in an insurance office. The vice-captain, Victor Richardson, is a motor salesman, and the veteran of the side, Clarence Grimmett, is a decorative expert. W. H. Ponsford, who was formerly a bank clerk, is now on the staff of the Melbourne Argus, and a'Beckett, the Victorian all-rounder, is studying law. Three years ago the wonder batsman, Don Bradman, was an auctioneer's clerk, earning £3 per week. He now occupies a position in a big Sydney firm. Alan Kippax, once a grocer's assistant at Bondi, the seaside suburb of Sydney, has built for himself a flourishing sporting outfitters' establishment. His former assistant, Archibald Jackson, is the manager of the sports department of a large stores at a high salary. Fairfax, the other all-rounder, is an electrical engineer, and Oldfield, the New South Wales wicket-keeper, is in business partnership with C. G. Macartney.

W. M. WOODFULL.

Mal-de-Mer.

Your paragraph a few days ago, writes a correspondent, reminds me that a group of medical experts is engaged at the moment in seeking a preventive for mal-de-mer. I wonder whether they will consider the preventive which the late A. C. Benson records as having been used by Henry Sidgwick.

As soon as the vessel on which he happened to be travelling left the harbour Sidgwick would begin to pace the deck, reciting poetry. In a steady stream that did not cease until he reached land again, he would pour forth verse in English, French, Latin, Greek and many other languages, and when he reached the end of his memory he would begin all over again. By this means Sidgwick explained that he always succeeded in escaping illness, except on one occasion.

On that single occasion he was interrupted by an officer of the ship, who brought a message from the captain asking him to desist, as some lady passengers were frightened by his behaviour, which they mistook for madness.

Dublin "Intelligence Office."

The "Servants' Registry Office" of our day was called an "Intelligence Office" in old Dublin over two hundred years ago. One Sarah Rider was then advertising that she kept an intelligence office "at the Blue Bell in William street," and there men or women servants were obtainable, while "servants as can show certificates of their good behaviour may be placed." Yet her intelligence office was outshone by that kept by William Ferguson, Porter of the Tholsel, who offered to supply apprentices with masters and masters with apprentices and with male servants. Carriers, too, "may be informed of lading, and also any Merchant or others may know of Carriers to any part of the Kingdom." Women servants were told to "repair to the Three Keys in St. Nicholas street."

Sea-Gulls Hosting.

I was walking (writes a correspondent) from Sutton to Clontarf along the tram road between seven and eight o'clock one evening last week when I noticed some thousands of sea-gulls flying from the direction of the city towards Howth. They were all evidently making for the same destination, and although they were in disjointed groups of ten and sometimes more, they nevertheless formed a continuous line as far as the eye could see. They moved along noiselessly, like some great funereal procession, and when I had reached Clontarf they were still approaching me in great numbers. I venture to suggest that on that particular evening there was not a sea-gull left in the city or its suburbs. My curiosity as to the final place of assembly of these birds was naturally aroused, and it was, I think, fully satisfied on the following day, when I discovered on the southern shore of the Blue Lagoon, which is rarely frequented by anyone at this time of the year, a thick line of sea-gulls extending for some hundreds of yards on the sands and broken near its centre by an unoccupied space of five or six yards. No human army could have presented a better battle-front or a more perfect alignment. Had a messenger on the previous evening broadcasted a clarion call for this great hosting?

The Seven Wonders of the World.

I wonder how many of my readers could name offhand the Seven Wonders of the World. The question was put recently to three business men of my acquaintance, but none could name correctly more than two. All named the Pyramids, and then, rather hesitatingly, one suggested the Hanging Gardens at Babylon, but all of them overlooked the remaining five:—The Temple of Diana at Ephesus, the Statue of Jupiter at Athens, the Mausoleum, the Colossus of Rhodes and the Pharos of Alexandria.

Some of us, when at school, learned a poetic reminder of the Seven Wonders, which ran as follows, but which in itself is beyond the memories of most of us:—

"The Pyramids first, which in Egypt were laid;
Next Babylon's Garden, for Amytis made;
Then Mausolus' Tomb of affection and guilt;
Fourth, the Temple of Diana, in Ephesus built;
The Colossus of Rhodes, cast in brass, to the Sun;
Sixth, Jupiter's Statue, by Phidias done;
The Pharos of Egypt, last wonder of old,
On the Palace of Cyrus, cemented with gold."

In the Middle Ages a revised list of Seven Wonders was drawn up, and this consisted of:—

The Coliseum at Rome;
The Great Wall of China;
The Catacombs of Alexandria;
Stonehenge;
The Leaning Tower of Pisa;
The Porcelain Tower of Nankin;
The Mosque of St. Sophia at Constantinople.

Several lists of natural wonders of the world have been compiled, and in most of these Ireland is represented by the Giant's Causeway. A list of Seven Modern Wonders would be highly interesting.

Sheridan's Tricks.

A correspondent writes:—A recent paragraph on Sheridan and his tailor recalls the many tricks that he employed to elude his creditors. One of his creditors, who had been dunning him repeatedly, met him in the street and immediately button-holed him. Sheridan brushed his demands aside with the remark, "That's a beautiful mare you are riding." He had touched the creditor's weak spot, and followed up his advantage with the query, "How does she trot?" Carried away by his enthusiasm, the proud owner leaped into the saddle and trotted gaily down the street. When he returned Sheridan had, of course, vanished.

On another occasion Sheridan employed a similar trick to the discomfiture of Richardson. He had been driving in a hackney coach for over three hours, when he sighted the portly author, and, hailing him, made him get in. He then entered into an argument with Richardson, who was always argumentative, and after a while pretended to be in a towering rage. "I cannot listen to such things. I won't drive with you," he cried, and hurriedly jumped out of the carriage, leaving Richardson hallooing triumphantly, "You're beat, you're beat." When the printer's temper had cooled somewhat he remembered that he was left to pay for Sheridan's three hours' drive.

Retired Boxers.

The announcement that Phil Scott, the heavy-weight boxer, has started a hairdressing business, recalls the many strange occupations of his predecessors.

The famous Tom Cribb eked out his savings by doing odd jobs in coal yards. Tom Johnstone combined work as a porter with his training. Fiddle-playing prevented Jem Mace from starvation. But perhaps the strangest was Bendigo, the champion of England in 1830, who sought to support his declining years by street-preaching. The story goes that when he began his first sermon with the words: "I am here to fight with Satan," a voice from the congregation replied: "Well, if you don't fight him any fairer than you fought the other poor lads you licked, my sympathies are with Satan."

A Rugby Venture.

The new season will welcome a new team into Junior League Rugby circles. This new club, the "Old Belvederians," is the outcome of enterprise on the part of old members of the famous Jesuit College. A similar venture was tried after the close of the European War; a team called the "Nomads" recruiting all past students of Belvedere. With the resumption of Senior Rugby, however, most of the Nomads went back to their former connections, and the club was forced to open its ranks to all former students of Jesuit colleges, changing its name to "Loyola." Following a disastrous season the club ceased to exist. In the present instance success seems more assured. A notable recruit is G. Morgan, last season's school captain and interprovincial scrum-half. Further talent is supplied by two members of the very strong second string fielded by Bective Rangers last season, and J. Brophy, the popular batsman-wicket-keeper of Civil Service Cricket Club.

G. MORGAN.

Old Dublin.

A letter which appeared recently in another column brings to our notice the much-emphasised antiquity of Dublin. However loyal we may be to our native city, we must recognise that it is old only in respect to its foundation. The majority of public buildings and dwelling-houses are of Georgian or Neo-Georgian origin. The decayed mansions of the great, familiar on the north side of the city, many of which have now become tenements, belong almost entirely to the Georgian period of our great monuments of architecture. Only the cathedrals of Christ Church and St. Patrick are of earlier date.

New Dublin.

There is a Dublin which may be found only when traffic is hushed from its usual roar to a dull inconstant murmur, when the busy population has seemingly vanished into its hive, and when all is quiet on the city front. Walking down Dame street or any of the central arteries "after hours," we come upon vistas of fine modern buildings. Somehow we had never known that they were there; for in the daytime the life which animates the frame absorbs all attention. But let us view the frame alone and undisturbed, and we cannot fail to be struck with the dignity and grace of modern Dublin. Fine examples of commercial architecture abound; the Government Buildings in Merrion street fittingly represent the more academic order, while in Fleet street an ultra-modern edifice rears its simple white form to the somewhat dusty breeze.

"3rd A."

There is an unknown player who fairly deserves to rank with Stephensons and Davys and Murrays. You may watch him any Saturday from September to April. You will find him in the colours of any club that fields four fifteens. His claim to recognition is not that of skill, but that of devotion to the game. The "3rd A" man is just as important to a club in a sense as a member of its mighty First. His subscription is as good; his services and loyalty are just as valuable. Let him know, too, that internationals have been "picked off" 3rd A's. I can vouch for one such instance.

DUBLIN PHOTOGRAPHER'S WORK IN LONDON.

A characteristic portrait of President Cosgrave is shown in the annual exhibition of the Professional Photographers' Association, now open at the Suffolk street Galleries, Pall Mall East, London. It is by the camera of Mr. Sidney Hicks, 39 Grafton street, Dublin.

While addressing a gathering in the United Methodist Chapel in Dewsbury road, Leeds, last night, on the story of his life, Simeon Dorns, aged 70, a retired gardener, of Burton terrace, Leeds, dropped dead.

LEARNED MEN AT THE VATICAN.

THE POPE'S GREETING.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.

VATICAN CITY, Monday.

The Pope this morning received the members of the International Congress of History and Medicine, which is meeting here. He said that it gave him pleasure to think that the delegates' presence proved that they did not consider the body solely as a material mass, but dealt with it in its wonderful compound of material and spirit, and devoted their energies, not only to material, but also to spiritual, betterments.

WEATHER FORECAST.

General Inference.—A depression South of Iceland is moving slowly eastward, and secondaries to it are likely to develop on its southern boundary and move north-eastward across the British Isles. Some further rain is to be expected at times in all districts.

North-West, North-East, South-East and South-West Ireland.—Moderate to fresh southerly winds, strong later; cloudy; rain at times; some fog early; moderate temperature.

Sea Passages.—Irish Sea and St. George's Channel.—Moderate to fresh southerly winds, strong later; cloudy; rain at times; some fog early; sea moderate to rather rough.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

THE PEDESTRIAN'S RIGHTS.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—Sir Thomas Myles's letter deserves the attention not only of the motorist and pedestrian, but also of our municipal authorities. As a motorist of considerable experience, and likewise a victim, as a pedestrian, of careless driving, I feel that the injuries quoted are not inevitable, and are not the necessary prices of progress. Some time ago a mobile police force was put in being, on motor cycles, to detect instances of improper and careless driving, but I fail to see any trace of their activities. From what I see when driving through the city very little care is exercised in narrow and busy streets by motorists, and there are certain parts that invite disaster. These parts should be noted and patrolled for negligence on either side, and fines should be inflicted sufficiently severe to make culprits think.

I fear that the motorist is rendered careless by his knowledge that he has his insurance to fall back on in case of accident. I give as my reason the fact that the motorist who knocked me down in a quiet avenue, and rendered me unconscious, had me carried into a neighbouring house and stood on the footpath seeking for witnesses to place before his insurance company. He left me to be carried off to hospital by the ambulance. I hope that the very able way in which this matter has been stated by Sir Thomas will be productive of much good.—Yours, etc.,

"KEEPER."

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—On the day when Sir Thomas Myles wrote his letter to you a London coroner, in severely censuring a pedestrian, at the request of the jury, for having caused the death of a motor cyclist, said:—"A good many people crossed a road carelessly. It was just as incumbent on a pedestrian to make sure that he could cross without causing accidents as it was for a motorist to see that he did not run anyone down." That, I submit, speaks common-sense. The Press report on this case noted that, of 339 people killed in accidents in London streets in three months, 133 were careless pedestrians.

Dublin pedestrians have perforce had to learn that they can board or leave a tram only at certain fixed points. London pedestrians, who regard their safety, must cross the streets at certain fixed points. There is a spirit of waywardness in our people that abhors such restrictions; but they will learn in time, though much harm may be done meanwhile. There was more reckless driving in Dublin forty years ago than there is now, though there is, of course, the difference that a horse and cab or car did less damage in the collision than does the heavier and swifter motor car.—Yours, etc.,

"BOTH SIDES."

PROTECTION OF GAME.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—Your correspondent, "Twelve Bore," whose letter appeared in your issue of Saturday, refers to the pugnacity of the cock partridge as a sufficient reason why the Minister should not protect these birds for a year. May I point out that by far the greatest enemy which partridges have is not cock birds, but the gun? If it were not so, we should still see them in the numbers which we remember in our childhood; for pugnacious cocks existed then, but guns did not, as they do now. Partridges are the most unprotected of all game birds. Unlike grouse, far away from human habitation, and unlike pheasants, which wander a great deal (and can so easily be reared), the little brown bird is localised on the farm where the covey has been brought out. He can be seen daily—if desired—by the occupant of the land, and that he has been not only seen, but also shot, accounts in the greatest measure for the disappearance of the species in so many parts of the country. I am quite sure that the vast majority of Irishmen who desire to see this game bird saved from extinction will welcome the decision of the Minister to prohibit its being shot during the coming season.

Undoubtedly, vermin takes next place after the gun as an enemy of these birds, as well as to the raising of game of all sorts, and until the owners of shootings and occupiers of land realise that it is not only for the good of the country, but that keeping down vermin means money in their own pockets, this trouble will not be effectively dealt with. Let us hope that the different local associations now being formed will, in conjunction with the Irish Game Protection Association, bring about more concerted action. It is not easy to see how killing of vermin could be made compulsory, as your correspondent suggests, or, if made compulsory, how compulsion could be enforced.—Yours, etc.,

THE LIPTON CUP.

SUBSCRIPTIONS FROM MANY STATES.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.

NEW YORK, Monday.

Sir Thomas Lipton has captured the imagination of American women by his fine sportsmanship, and many donations to the fund which has been opened for a presentation to him are arriving, accompanied by letters of sympathy signed by women.

From as far west as Chicago, and as far east as Maine, contributions are pouring in. One notable contributor is A. P. Mead, whose father sailed to England in the original America, after which the cup takes its name.

SHAMROCK'S CREW ENTERTAINED.

The Shamrock left Newport to-day for Bristol (R.I.), where her rig will be changed in readiness for her Atlantic voyage. Sir Thomas Lipton, however, will remain in America for another month.

Before the crew of the Shamrock left Newport to-day they were entertained at luncheon by the citizens. The Mayor of Newport was in the chair, with the first and second mates of the Shamrock on either side of him.

Both mates, replying to speeches of welcome, expressed gratitude for the hospitality and kindness they had received at the hands of everyone, including the crew of the Enterprise, which, they said, was, undoubtedly, the better boat.

As a souvenir of the Shamrock's challenge, the crew presented the citizens with one of the Shamrock's flags.

INVITATION TO AMERICAN BOATS.

The Enterprise, together with the three other American boats—Weetamoe, Whirlwind and Yankee—have all been asked by British yachting representatives to race in British waters next year, but no official invitation has been received from the British governing body.

Mr. John Lawrence, the head of the Boston syndicate which built Yankee, has indicated his willingness to go to England, but the others have not yet made any decision. Mr. Harold Vanderbilt, of the Enterprise, is still away cruising.

Sir Thomas Lipton arrived here last night and spent the day quietly in his hotel.

"OXFORD PREFERS BAD EGGS."

ALLEGED LOSSES THROUGH NATIONAL MARKING.

"I do not believe there is a man in England who uses the national mark and has made money," so said Mr. Charles Ernest Parkes, an Ascot-under-Wychwood egg merchant, when being examined in Oxford Bankruptcy Court yesterday.

"I went in for national marking, and since last May I have lost over four hundred pounds," he said. "As Oxford would rather have bad eggs than good eggs, we have to try to compete with Oxford to get the trade together."

The Official Receiver—If people would not have national marked eggs, why did not you follow the example of Oxford and have bad ones?

Mr. Parkes—Because the national mark is the fairest way of selling eggs. The Government wanted me to do this, and this is the result.

IN THE NORTHERN CAPITAL.

Improving the Fruit Crops : Ministry's Action : Film Censorship Controversy : Railway Lines Closing Down : Curious Phase of Housing Problem.

REFERENCE was made recently in this column to the opposition offered by the Ulster Fruit Growers' Defence Association to proposed legislation having for its object the raising of the standard of fruit intended for export. It is contended by the Association that trade is being hampered and the industry virtually ruined by irksome restrictions and officialdom generally. In these circumstances it is of interest to notice that the Ministry of Agriculture has been doing work which, instead of being injurious to business, has been of the greatest value to the growers of fruit.

A few years ago the production of clean, marketable fruit in the orchards of County Antrim presented a serious problem in consequence of the prevalence of apple scab fungus. The research branch of the Ministry of Agriculture carried out a number of investigations, and ultimately a remedy was found and applied, with the happy result that orchards which six years ago were almost worthless have now been restored to perfect health. Crops of the choicest quality are now being gathered at remunerative prices, and the Ministry, in order to drive home the lesson, is at present giving demonstrations of the new and successful methods of fruit culture in various orchards throughout the district.

THE MORALS OF THE FILMS.

Since the advent of the "talkies" these pictures have been subjected to a good deal of criticism, the contention being that many of them are harmful to the best interests of young people. A film committee, stated to be representative of all the Churches in Belfast, has been set up, and this body, in a letter sent to exhibitors of films in the North, says that it views with concern some of the films, both silent and sound, which have recently been screened. It is also suggested that some drastic change should be made in the present method of film censorship in Northern Ireland, the British censorship not being considered sufficient. The idea is that a local committee should be appointed, or "a strict censorship set up similar to that in force in the Free State."

On the other hand the film trade declares that there is not the slightest ground for complaint, and that there is no need for a "Watch Committee" of any sort. Some time ago the Minister of Home Affairs was invested with special powers to seize any film or gramaphone record which he might consider offensive, and the subject has also been discussed in Parliament, but it was thought by those in authority that the good sense and taste of the people who patronise picture houses would be a deterrent, if such were needed, to the display of questionable films. While purists in such things agitate for a censorship of the Free State pattern, others say that the southern method is merely a "butchery."

THE IMPERMANENT WAY.

The development of road traffic at the expense of the railways is indicated in a decision just made by the Northern Counties Committee of the London, Midland and Scottish Railway Company to close certain stations over its system in Northern Ireland. In future these districts will be served by the fleet of motor 'buses owned by the company, many of which were recently taken over from private concerns. From the 1st October various stations on the central line from Magherafelt to Draperstown, as well as on the Ballymena-Larne branch, and between Ballymena and Parkmore, will be closed for passenger traffic, which, as stated, will be diverted to the 'buses.

Under the new regulations for road transport competition by privately-owned vehicles is prohibited, and fares are fixed by a tribunal, which sits when necessary to consider applications for a revision of charges or to hear complaints. This tribunal enjoys the confidence of the public, and it is noteworthy that it has already refused an application from the Belfast Corporation to increase the fares on its 'bus service, an attempt which was strongly opposed by the ratepayers.

The Great Northern Railway Company and the Belfast and County Down Railway are also developing their road services, both for short and long journeys, and, in this way, capturing a great deal of the traffic which was lost to the railways by the advent of the 'buses.

A HOUSING PARADOX.

Although in some of its most important aspects the housing problem of Belfast is still as acute as ever, the number of empty buildings seems to be increasing. In some measure this is, no doubt, due to the decontrol of dwellings of from £26 to £52 valuation, in which the Northern Government got "out-of-step" with Great Britain (where such houses are still controlled), as the rents were immediately raised, in many cases as much as fifty and a hundred per cent., or even more. In any case, whatever the reason may be, there they are, and there does not seem to be much hope of these houses being filled with contented tenants.

At the meeting of the Belfast Water Commissioners this week the report of the Finance Committee showed that during the month of August the Board's officials inspected 2,557 streets in the city, with the result that 1,131 domestic ratings and 1,178 public ratings were found to be vacant. This does not indicate that there is any housing shortage, and the empty public ratings reveal a dismal state of affairs in the business life of the city. On the domestic side it is known that, while so many dwellings of the better type are vacant, there is overcrowding in the very poorest homes.

A CALL TO YOUTH.

The call of youth is insistent throughout the country, and the movement in Ulster to enlist young people in social and religious work is growing in strength and influence. A meeting of the clergy of the Church of Ireland, under the presidency of the Bishop of Down, was held in Belfast during the week-end to make arrangements for a great "Youth Rally," to take place in the city on 28th October. In the course of the discussion the Archdeacon of Connor stressed the importance of bringing youth into closer touch with Church life through the united diocese, and it was ultimately decided to invite representatives from other Irish dioceses to be present at the rally.

In order to perfect the organisation an executive committee was appointed, consisting of the archdeacons of the united diocese, the rural deans of North, South and East Belfast, the secretaries of the rural deanery committees, and the representatives of parochial and Church societies for young people. The Church of Ireland in the North has grown rapidly within recent times. During the last few years three large new churches have been erected and consecrated, while new mission halls in congested areas have also been opened. Quite recently one was opened in East Belfast, four bishops—three from the Free State—being present at the inaugural meeting.

THE DUBLIN THEATRES.

A Delightful Musical Comedy : Celebrity Players Open Irish Season : "Let the Credit Go" Enters on Second Week : An Amusing Revue.

THE GAIETY THEATRE.

"THE DESERT SONG."

The very welcome "House full" notices were to be seen outside the Gaiety Theatre last night when "The Desert Song" opened on a return two-weeks' visit. Evidently Dublin audiences have such pleasant recollections of this delightful musical comedy that they still desire to see it many times.

The desire is entirely comprehensible. More tuneful music, agile dancing and colourful production scarcely is possible, and when all three are combined, as they are in "The Desert Song," everything that audiences demand in musical comedy is here at their call. The popularity of the show is proved by the fact that it grows in public favour with each year of its tour. The company now at the Gaiety Theatre contains many old Dublin favourites, each of whom was received with applause on entry last night. Mr. Sanders Warren and Miss Sylvia Welling were especially so favoured.

"The Desert Song" is now so well known that almost every theatre-goer is familiar with its story and its music. Indeed, such items as "It," "The Desert Song," "Riding Song of the Riffs," "One Good Boy Gone Wrong," and "One Alone" have become so familiar that audiences seem to know both words and music almost as well as the artists. The story of how the son of a French general became a kind of Robin Hood in Morocco, while at the same time maintaining a reputation as a simpleton in his father's house, makes a background which every lover of romantic musical comedy will want to know more intimately. Riff outlaws and the soldiers of the famous Foreign Legion give the necessary glamour, and martial music deepens the spell.

Outstanding members of the company are Messrs. Sanders Warren (the Red Shadow), George Ward (Captain Fontaine), Cecil Dereham (General Birabeau), and Henry Hambleton (Ali Ben Ali), with the Misses Sylvia Welling (Margot Bonvalet), Nancy Eshelby (Clementina), and Ruby Morris (Azuri). The "Dance of Triumph" by Miss Morris was really a triumphant performance, and richly merited the applause that it received. The comedy side of the performance is excellently presented by Mr. George Lane (Bennie Kidd) and Miss Elsa Palmer (Susan). The antics of this excellent pair keep the audience in almost continuous laughter. It is necessary to see Mr. Lane, in his bath-gown, searching for his hands to know how funny such childish behaviour can be; last night some members of the audience seemed as if they might become apoplectic with laughter.

The dancing and chorus work were of a high standard throughout, and the scenery and staging are delightful to the eye as the music is to the ear. The augmented orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Kenneth Morrison, deserved a special round of applause for its rendering of the music.

THE ABBEY THEATRE.

MAJOR COOPER'S "CROOK" PLAY.

The late Major Bryan Cooper's "crook" play has proved to be so popular during its first run at the Abbey Theatre that it has been retained for a further week, and patrons will thus have another opportunity to see this excellent detective play by an Irish author.

The mystery of the robbery at the Moyle Branch of the Connaught Bank is so fascinating that amateur detectives have here an excellent chance to try their skill before the author shows them the culprit.

The company is unchanged: Mr. Fred Johnson repeated his splendid impersonation of the C.I.D. man, Mr. F. J. McCormick his Superintendent, Mr. Carolan the Sergeant, and Mr. Eric Gorman the pseudo-American. The staff of the bank is portrayed with exactitude by Messrs. Denis O'Dea, W. Stephenson, and John Barton; while the Bank Manager finds an ideal impersonator in Mr. M. J. Dolan. The ladies have little to do, but in that little Miss Eileen Crowe and Miss Maurenn Delany show to advantage.

"Let the Credit Go" will be staged each evening at 8, with matinée on Saturday, at 2.30 p.m.

THE CIVIC THEATRE, DUN LAOGHAIRE.

VISIT OF CELEBRITY PLAYERS.

The Celebrity Players, who are visiting Dun Laoghaire for a season, gave a performance of Oscar Wilde's play, "A Woman of No Importance," in the Civic Theatre there last night. The local Development Committee, who are responsible for bringing the company to the township, are to be congratulated in securing so capable a body of artists to add to the attractions of the locality.

Before the curtain went up Mr. J. P. Dooge, Chairman of the Development Committee, welcomed the Players, who, he said, had come to Ireland to give a season of modern and costume plays. The Development Committee were trying to convince the people of Dun Laoghaire that they were in earnest in their efforts to provide the best entertainment for them, and they realised the importance of being earnest.

The production of Oscar Wilde's famous play was fully appreciated, both its cynicism and its emotion being finely interpreted by a company of skilful actors. Esme Biddle was an outstanding figure as Mrs. Arbuthnot, a part which she filled in a convincing and finished manner. Miss Biddle, who was leading lady with Sir Frank Benson, Sir Ben Greet and the Festival Company, Stratford-on-Avon, will be remembered for her acting for three seasons with Anew McMaster at the Abbey Theatre. Ronald Ian MacDonald filled the part of Lord Illingworth, and Ian Priestley-Mitchell that of Archdeacon Daubery—each being a good study of the character represented. The other rôles were well filled by Moyeen O'Meira, Nell Partin, Dorothy Allcorn, Ann Tetley, Maureen O'Moor, George F. Drewett, George Wood and Harold Stuart.

OLYMPIA THEATRE.

"CORK TO NEW YORK."

Large audiences expressed approval of the efforts made to amuse them at the opening performances of "Cork to New York," at the Olympia Theatre, Dublin, last night. This all-Irish production is presented by Mike Nono and Dick Forbes, two comedians, whose adventures as Muldoon and Mulcahy are always interesting and amusing. Mike Nono is a good singer and dancer, his songs, for the most part, being tuneful and catchy, while his dancing is not simply acrobatics. Dick Forbes, as Mulcahy from Cork, is extremely amusing and topical. The first two scenes deal with a trans-Atlantic flight in a machine provided by "Irish Airlines, Unlimited," the airmen being saved from disaster by a jar of whiskey, which is used instead of petrol to enable them to finish their flight. Like all fliers, they get a great reception when they land in New York, but, like ordinary people, they meet with trouble from the Customs, Immigration and Prohibition officers. It is all good fun, and incidentally propaganda for aviation. Tom Collins and his band give two excellent performances, while a pleasant musical interlude is provided by the orchestra, under Mr. John Moody. As Mrs. Muldoon, Daniel Gibbons provided much material for laughter. Nellie Porter sings a number of songs very sweetly, and takes part in a charming duet with Conrad Shade entitled "Honeymoon in the Moon."

Other contributors to the programme include Ralph Goggin, Muriel Ransom, P. J. McDonnell and The Clare Colleens.

WORLD ECONOMIC BATTLE.

INTERNATIONAL WORKERS' CONGRESS IN LONDON.

MR. C. T. CRAMP AND FOLLY OF WAR.

The biennial Congress of the International Transport Workers' Federation opened yesterday at Caxton Hall, Westminster, London, this being the first time the Congress had met in Great Britain since the close of the war. Delegates were present from all the countries of Europe, except Russia, which is not affiliated. Altogether, the Congress represents a membership of 2,275,336, spread over ninety-three organisations in thirty-five countries.

In his presidential address, Mr. C. T. Cramp, General Secretary of the National Union of Railwaymen, said that the delegates were meeting in the land which gave birth to the trade union movement, and in which capitalism had been longer established than in any other country. He did not look for a dead uniformity in the methods employed by the working class in all countries, but rather for mutual understanding and assistance in facing the problems which all of them had to solve.

In prestige, numbers and activity the Transport Workers' International stood out as the greatest of all international secretariats. Comrades from countries outside Europe were coming into their ranks in increasing numbers.

POLITICS AND ECONOMICS.

"Statesmen of the world concerning themselves with political questions in a narrow sense have been devoted to the task of balancing the interest of their particular country against that of all others.

"Using nationality as a slogan, they have plunged others into wars and have diverted the attention of the workers from their own real interests to that of exalting the prestige of the particular governments under which the workers have been grouped.

"Our aim and methods are entirely different.

"We have seen that when a battle for nationality has been won it has not resulted in the emancipation of those who did that nation's work. We, therefore, direct our attention to economic matters, and, as far as possible, employ international methods to advance the interests, better the working conditions and protect the lives of those who are our members.

WORLD PROBLEMS.

"More and more problems of the world are becoming industrial and economical. More and more it is necessary that the workers, internationally united, should strive to win the economic battle, and there is no surer way of protecting the standards of the workers in any one country than by raising the general level throughout the world."

There were countries, such as Italy, where the trade union movement had had to fight against bitter oppression, and, in fact, had been almost oppressed. They rejoiced that the International had been able to do something in the case of Italy. A beginning had been made, and no doubt as time went on they would see the Italian trade union movement free and independent once more.

A great industrial depression was hanging over the world, and it was their duty to assist in its solution.

STANDARD OF LIVING.

"If we can increase the spending power, and raise the standard of living among the many millions throughout the world, who to-day have not the power to purchase and utilise the goods which are produced, we shall have done something towards the solution of this great problem.

"Methods of production are changing, new sources of power have been discovered, there is a redistribution of industrialism throughout the world.

"The task of the working class is not merely to change the system of society. That is not enough. Even under Socialism or Communism many economic problems will still exist. Hard thinking and planning will still be required in this world of varying climates, conditions and unequal distribution of population, before we attain a state of society worth living in."

ATTACK ON WAGES.

Mr. W. M. Citrine, Secretary of the Trade Unions Congress, referring to the rumoured attempts of employers to bring down wages, said that in the countries through which he had passed on his recent tour he found the same tendencies.

Such attempts would set in motion general processes which would lead to degradation all round, and, as far as Great Britain was concerned, to a sharp conflict, the end of which it would be difficult to foresee.

One result was certain—It would set back the clock of progress, and prevent the trade unions from applying themselves to a solution of economic problems, and would revive those antagonisms which some of them had endeavoured to bury. There were only two ways of meeting the economic depression—by maintaining the purchasing power of the people of the world at the highest possible point, and promoting the greatest possible movement of trade between country and country.

The greater part of the day was occupied with speeches by fraternal delegates from other Internationals, everyone of these having to be translated into four languages. Late in the afternoon consideration was given to the report on activities.

The General Secretary said that there were now twenty-two nations affiliated to the International outside Europe. They would rejoice to be the only means of bridging the differences that existed between different races. There was no doubt that the master class was still trying to use those differences in order to set one race against another. As an International they could not join in that, and they were not going to play such a game.

The Congress adjourned until to-day.

OBITUARY.

THE REV. JOHN HENRY PRESCOTT GOSSELIN.

The death occurred at Palmerston House, Co. Dublin, yesterday, of the Rev. John Henry Prescott Gosselin, M.A., at the age of 74. A son of the late Commander Gosselin, R.N., of County Down, the Rev. Mr. Gosselin was educated at Trinity College, Dublin, and obtained his Divinity Testimonium in 1888, B.A. in 1889, and M.A. in 1906. He was ordained deacon for the Diocese of Kilmore in 1887, and priest in 1888. He was curate of Killegar, County Cavan, from 1887 until 1892, and for the following three years he was incumbent of that parish. In 1892 he was appointed incumbent of Kilnamanagh, County Wexford, and in 1896 he was incumbent of Kilmuckridge, County Wexford, where he ministered until 1897, when he was appointed to the incumbency of Muff, Derry. He retired from the ministry in 1915. Since his retirement he had resided at Knockrath, Greystones, County Wicklow.

DR. JOHN O'DONNELL.

The death took place at 3 Merrion square, Dublin, early this morning, of Dr. John O'Donnell, the well-known specialist on pulmonary tuberculosis. Born in Glenties, County Donegal, Dr. O'Donnell was a brother of the late Cardinal O'Donnell. He was senior physician to the Mater Misericordiæ Hospital, and visiting physician to Crooksling and Pigeon House Sanatoria.

Dr. O'Donnell wrote several valuable books on tuberculosis.

MR. ROBERT M. BATES.

Mr. Robert M. Bates, who for thirty-five years was a representative of Messrs. Watkins, Jameson, and Pim, died in Dublin last Saturday. A popular figure in Irish business circles, Mr. Bates was the eldest son of the late Robert Bates, of Fenagh, County Carlow. His wife predeceased him six months ago.

MR. HENRY PHIPPS.

Reuter's New York Correspondent says:—The death is announced of Mr. Henry Phipps, the well-known retired steel magnate. He was at one time associated with Mr. Andrew Carnegie in iron and steel interests. He was 89. Mr. Phipps was a native of Philadelphia, and started life as an office boy. He secured an interest in a small iron mill, and later joined Carnegie in the manufacture of iron and steel, when he built up a large fortune. A generous benefactor of the movement against tuberculosis in the United States, he made big gifts to hospitals, and gave a million dollars to New York for sanitary tenement houses.

DUBLIN ELECTION.

COMMERCIAL REGISTER REGULATIONS.

The election of five commercial members to the Dublin City Council by voters on a special Commercial Register is a new departure in local government.

The voting papers will be sent to the electors on the Commercial Register by post. This postal voting necessitates the signing of a "declaration of identity" to prove that the voting papers returned have been filled in by the electors to whom they were sent.

Regulations, which will be printed upon the declaration of identity, have been laid down by the Electoral (Dublin Commercial) Bill, 1930, for the signing of this declaration of identity.

Where the declaration of identity is not signed in conformity with those regulations the voting papers accompanying it will be invalid.

Companies must seal the declaration of identity in accordance with their articles of association; all other electors must sign in the presence of a witness.

Full instructions as to the method of voting and returning the voting papers will be printed on the back of the declaration of identity.

A copy of the form of declaration of identity is on view in the Chamber of Commerce for the information of its members.

SIGNING THE DECLARATION.

The following extract from the regulations shows the method of signing the declaration of identity by the several classes of electors on the register:—

Every declaration of identity shall be signed by the voter, and (except where the voter is a corporate body) shall be signed in the presence of a witness, who shall also sign such declaration and state thereon his address and description.

The following provisions shall have effect in relation to the signing of declarations of identity by voters, that is to say:—

(a) Where the voter is registered in the register in a trade name the declaration shall be signed by such voter in the said trade name, followed by the signature of such person in his own name;

(b) Where the voter is a partnership the declaration shall be signed in the partnership name by one of the partners, followed by the signature of such partner in his own name and the word "partner";

(c) Where the voter is an unincorporated association the declaration shall be signed in the name of such association by some person having authority to sign in that name, followed by the signature of such person in his own name and a statement of the capacity in which he signs in the name of such association;

(d) Where the voter is a corporate body the declaration shall be signed by affixing thereto the seal of such body in the manner and with the countersignatures required by the constitution, articles of association, or other regulations of such body.

MR. H. J. DOWNEY'S NOMINATORS.

Mr. Herbert J. W. Downey, solicitor, "Ardilea," Stillorgan, who is going forward as a candidate on the Commercial Register, was nominated by the following:—Andrews and Co., Ltd., Dame street; City of Dublin Assurance Co., Ltd., O'Connell street; W. C. Crawford, Ltd., Dawson street; Samuel H. G. Fleming, College Green; Hayes and Sons, solicitors; Atkinson and Co., College Green; Lambert Brien and Co., Ltd., Grafton street; Dr. James A. Mitchell, Ballsbridge; W. Montgomery, Suffolk street; Wright, Pim and Wallis, Dame street; James Beckett, Ltd., Ringsend; Purtill and Co., Anglesea street; R. T. White, Ltd., Fleet street; W. E. Taylor, Stafford street.

NATIONAL BUSINESS MEN.

Under the auspices of the National Business Men's Association a meeting was held at the offices, Westmoreland street, last night in support of the candidature of Mr. John J. Donnelly, who is contesting No. 2 Area. Mr. J. F. Cox presided, and there was a large attendance.

The meeting was addressed by the candidate, Messrs. L. Paul, D. Coyle and J. Welrick, all of whom spoke of the objects of the Association and outlined the policy to be followed by the candidate if elected to the City Council.

RIVAL PARTIES AT THE FOUNTAIN.

ELECTORS TOLD TO VOTE AND NOT TO VOTE.

Between three and four hundred men, women and children gathered round the Fountain in St. James's street, Dublin, last night to hear the claims put forward by the four Fianna Fail candidates, who are seeking to represent No. 4 Electoral Area in the new Municipal Council.

The Fianna Fail Party, who were to have addressed the meeting at eight o'clock, failed to put in an appearance until after nine o'clock, but in the meantime a dray drew up under an electric light standard, and appeals were made to the waiting people by Mr. Laurence Raul and Mr. James Mitchell, on behalf of Sinn Fein, to ignore the forthcoming elections, and not to cast a single vote in the contest. The reason given for this advice was that the Municipal Council, like the Dail, was being engineered by England.

SECOND PARTY ON THE SCENE.

Then the Fianna Fail Party came along and mounted another dray a short distance from the Sinn Fein group, and each of the seven speakers on it—Messrs. L. Dowling, Donnacha O'Healy, M. T. O'Mullane, M.A., Joseph Reynolds, P. Rigney, Seamus Robinson (Senator) and D. O'Brien—called on the electors to cast their votes at any cost.

For over an hour and a half those who had assembled there were asked on the one hand to abstain from voting, and, on the other, to use the franchise to the fullest. The speakers on both sides continued to address the meeting until close on eleven o'clock, when the people left for their homes.

BELFAST CORPORATION ACCOUNTS.

COMMITTEES' EXPENDITURE £1,358,989.

The Belfast City Treasurer, Mr. R. G. Geale, has issued the abstract of accounts of the Belfast Corporation for the year ending March 31, 1930.

According to the summary of the City Fund Revenue account, the expenditure of the various Corporation committtees for the year was £1,358,989, and the income of the committees £438,944. The amount collected from ratepayers in consolidated rate was £844,818; deficiency contribution, payable by the Northern Government under the Local Government (Rating and Finance) Act, £48,222 18s. 4d. There was a balance of credit of the City Fund Revenue account on March 31, 1930, of £31,596.

Belfast's consolidated rate this year amounts to 10s. 6d. in the £. There is, in addition, a 2s. water rate levied by the Belfast Water Commissioners. The rateable value of Belfast is £1,831,392, and of this sum £1,814,392 is valuation on buildings, and the remainder on land. In addition, the Belfast Harbour Commissioners' valuation (based upon tonnage) is £31,267 9s. 8d.

STRAY CARRIER PIGEON.

A stray carrier pigeon, which appeared to be lame when found, and bears two rings, marked 30 U F—1874—I U HP 2—3—G, is being cared for at 1 Palmerston Villas, Upper Rathmines, Dublin, the residence of the Rev. James Haythornthwaite.

THE ROMANCE OF PHARMACY.

CASTOR OIL IN THE TIME OF MOSES.

PRECIOUS STONES FOR BALDNESS.

Mr. W. B. Conyngham (of the firm of Hayes, Conyngham and Robinson) addressed the members of the Dublin Rotary Club in Clery's Restaurant yesterday on "The Romance of Pharmacy."

Pharmacy, he said, was probably the oldest of all crafts except that of music and metal work. When Moses was tending the flock of his father-in-law, Jethro, in the fields of Midian, an Egyptian was laboriously and carefully writing out on papyrus what might be called the first pharmacopeia. It contained seven hundred drugs or combination of drugs. Many of those drugs or materials were still in use, such as castor oil, aloes, opium, saffron, gentian, colchicum, squills, etc.

USE OF PRECIOUS STONES.

The use of precious stones, such as emeralds, jades, lapis lazuli and sapphires, which were resorted to in ancient Egypt as remedies for headaches, worm, baldness, etc., was revived in England in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries. It was in 1872 that George Elber, the famous Egyptologist of that time, was offered for sale a papyrus by an Arab of Luxor, who claimed that he had found it between the knees of a mummy in the Theban necropolis, and it was only then that this ancient book of priestly apothecaries' art came to life again.

Greek medicine began with Hippocrates, who was born in the island of Cos in 460 B.C. It was said that he was the first to separate medicine and surgery from the supernatural. He prepared his own medicines, and practised pharmacy as well as medicine. He was the first authority to write on diet, and insisted on its importance to recovery.

One man before Hippocrates deserved mention—namely, Chiron, son of Saturn and Phylliris. This Chiron was the teacher of Æsculapius, whose emblem, the serpent twisted on a staff, was the crest of the R.A.M.C. to-day.

The word "pharmacy" came from the Greek "pharmakon," which was first used to denote a drug, medicine or poison.

BEFORE THE AGE OF ANÆSTHESIA.

Following Hippocrates came Celsus, who laid down rules for the guidance of physicians. A physician, he wrote, "ought to be young, his hand very shapely; he should be able to use both hands equally well; his sight acute and clear, his mind intrepid—pity should make him desirous of his patient's recovery, but not so as to suffer him by his cries; he should not hurry unnecessarily, or cut less than necessary, but do everything just as if the other's screams made no impression upon him."

"What a picture," said the speaker, "this brings to us of suffering twenty centuries ago, before the age of anæsthesia!"

Claudius Galenus was the last great example of the Alexandrian school, born in 130 B.C. He was for many centuries the outstanding authority on medicine and pharmacy. In his pharmacy at Rome he compounded so many preparations of vegetable drugs that the name "galenicals" remained to this day.

St. Benedict and his brethren did much to preserve the knowledge of drugs, and we owed a great deal to the Arabs also. The first apothecary's shop in London was opened in 1345, but in 1180 the Guild of Peppers included dealers in drugs. Dante was a member of the Guild of Apothecaries in Florence. The first poisons law was passed in 1557, and its provisions were in many details much the same as the poisons Act of to-day.

SKIT ON DUBLIN APOTHECARIES.

The Apothecaries' Guild in Dublin owed its Charter to George II., 1747. A skit, written about its members at the last "riding of the franchise" in the year 1767, ran thus:—

"See where the proud apothecaries drive,
Who most by fraud and imposition thrive.
Whose monstrous bills immoderate wealth secure,
For drugs that kill as many as they cure."

"We have," concluded Mr. Conyngham, "glanced at the practice of pharmacy, passing from the priestly craft of ancient Egypt through the ages of mythology, barely alive through the dark ages of religious intolerance, and gradually evolving itself from error and charlatanism, mixed up and associated with such trades as spice merchants, grocers, barbers, wig-makers, etc., to an honoured position, and contributing not a little to our daily comfort and general well-being."

The President (Mr. G. J. T. Clampett) expressed the thanks of the members to their brother Rotarian for his interesting contribution.

Mr. J. R. Coade brought greetings from a conference at The Hague and told about his kindly reception there.

POLICE ACCUSED OF INTIMIDATION.

ALLEGATIONS IN MOTORING PROSECUTION.

Allegations that members of the Police Force assaulted and intimidated members of a family in their home were made at a special court in Letterkenny yesterday, when Hugh Dorrian, Rossnakill, was fined £20, with £4 costs, for driving a motor lorry in a dangerous manner on the 19th inst., and £3 and £1 costs for driving without a rear light.

Mr. T. A. Finlay, K.C. (instructed by Mr. W. T. McMenamin) appeared for the State, and the defendant was represented by Mr. D. McGinley (instructed by Mr. John Wray).

Preventive Officer Meade, Kindrum, said that on the 19th inst., accompanied by Detective Officers McCann and Donaghy, he was on duty on the main road from Derry, about two miles on the Free State side of the frontier. About 12.45 a.m. he saw a lorry, which he recognised as the defendant's, approach, but he could not see who was driving it. Detective Officer McCann signalled the driver to stop. He slowed down, but when the driver saw who was on the road he accelerated and passed on. Witness and the detectives followed in another car, and eventually reached the defendant's home about 4 a.m.

SISTER'S EVIDENCE.

Rose Dorrian, a sister of the defendant, said that on the night of the 18th inst. she went to bed between 10 and 11 o'clock, the rest of the family following shortly afterwards. She heard a car arriving some time later, and, thinking it was her brother Hugh, got up to let him in. Her brother Patrick opened the door, and two plain clothes men entered. She went back to her bedroom, and on returning saw two plain cloth. men and two Guards standing at the head of the stairs. Later she was informed that they were there in consequence of her brother's conduct. Later on her brother Hugh arrived, and shortly afterwards a number of Guards. They inquired for Hugh, who was taken outside. She went up to bed, and when she came down again she saw her sister Norah in the kitchen crying. She saw a Guard strike her sister and then go out through the kitchen door, which he bolted, keeping herself and Norah inside. When witness got out she saw Guards and detectives beating her brother James, who arrived in the meantime. Hugh was standing on the street, bleeding and crying, and detectives and Guards beat him in her presence, and she herself was assaulted on two occasions when trying to interfere. The detectives had their revolvers drawn.

Corroborative evidence was given by Patrick and Norah Dorrian. Patrick added that Guard Moloney caught him by the collar of the coat, and said: "If you don't tell us where the stuff is we will knock your brains out." Two detectives, he said, pulled revolvers out of their pockets and put them to Hugh's head, while Guards got behind him and kicked him.

Sergeant Carroll, Customs Officers Meade and Donaghy, Detectives McCarthy and Mulcahy, and Guards McHugh and Somers denied having committed any assault.

Dr. McMenamin gave evidence of treating Hugh Dorrian on the 19th inst. for injuries to the ear and the spine.

STAMP COLLECTIONS.

British exhibitors were very successful at the Berlin International Philatelic Exhibition held recently. Mr. J. B. Seymour's collection of Great Britain obtained the Grand Prix, and Miss W. E. Penn-Gaskell won a trophy for the best collection exhibited by a lady. Mr. John Drinkwater, the poet and dramatist, gained a silver-gilt medal for his collection of United States.

STORM OFF THE FRENCH COAST.

MANY LIVES LOST.

WAR VESSELS SEARCH FOR MISSING BOATS.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.

PARIS, Monday.

The storm off the Brittany coast shows little signs of abating. Two torpedo boats have been instructed by the Minister of Marine to put out in aid of a number of fishing smacks in peril off Penmarch.

Concarneau reports that four men belonging to three different fishing boats have been washed overboard and drowned. A fifth was carried away, but was washed back on to the deck by the next wave.

A pilot cutter is missing from St. Malo, and lifeboats have gone out to search for it.

The little fishing port of St. Cado, near Lorient, has lost eleven men.

VESSELS IN DISTRESS.

Twenty vessels have sent out calls for help during the past two days of the storm, and tugs have been busy fighting their way through heavy seas to assist ships in distress.

An Italian cargo boat was disabled ninety miles south of Brest, and has been towed into harbour.

The crew of the Greek steamer, Theodoros Bulgaris, abandoned her after she had been tossing at the mercy of the waves for twenty-four hours with a broken rudder and flooded engine room, but no news of them has been picked up.

Many vessels have been forced to take refuge in Cherbourg, Douarnenez and Treboul, where a sloop and other small craft are reported to have been lost.

AIR LINER IN THE GALE.

Crowds on the shore at Folkestone watched the thrilling and unusual spectacle of an Imperial Airways' liner fighting her way inland against the wind. At times she was held practically stationary in the air. The liner eventually landed at Lympne, instead of flying to Croydon. The passengers continued their journey to Croydon by rail.

STEAMER TOWED INTO QUEENSTOWN.

DISABLED IN HEAVY SEAS.

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

QUEENSTOWN, Monday.

The Dutch tug Humber, with the disabled British steamer Chesham in tow, arrived at Queenstown this afternoon and anchored her charge in Monkstown Bay, where repairs will be effected. The Chesham sailed from La Plata on September 5, bound for Limerick with a large cargo of maize. She encountered the full force of the south-westerly gales off this coast, and at eleven o'clock on Friday night, when about one hundred and forty miles west north-west of Queenstown heavy seas fractured the iron coupling of her steering engine shaft, rendering her helpless in the gale.

In response to her wireless message for assistance the Dutch tug Humber, based at Queenstown, put out to sea at seven o'clock on Saturday morning, and late that night succeeded in connecting up with the crippled freighter, towing her safely to port.

The Chesham is a freighter of 4,295 tons gross, owned by the Britain Steamship Company.

BOYNE IN FLOOD.

HUNDREDS OF ACRES UNDER WATER.

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

TRIM, Monday.

The Boyne has overflowed its banks at many places in the Trim district, and continues to rise. Cocks of hay have been carried away by the flood, and hundreds of acres are inundated.

The drainage scheme, which it was promised would be undertaken with the aid of a Government grant, remains in abeyance for the past couple of years.

CROPS CARRIED OFF IN MEATH.

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

KELLS, Monday.

Much damage has been caused in North Meath by the heavy rains. The Blackwater has overflowed its banks in many places; thousands of acres are flooded; hay and corn crops have been much damaged or carried away with the flood.

At the Oldcastle cattle fair on Friday many farmers and dealers, in their arrival in the town, decided not to risk a drenching by going to the fair green, with the result that business was seriously affected.

ALONG THE SHANNON.

HAY ROTTING IN THE FIELDS.

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

BANAGHER, Monday.

The almost continuous downpour during the week-end has wrought havoc with the harvest in the Midlands. Along the valley of the Shannon cocks of hay in thousands are soaked and rotting and inaccessible. Corn has been beaten flat with the heavy rain, and cannot be cut with machines, and in many places a second growth has set in. Barley that was cut in fine weather is damaged in the "stooks," and cannot be gathered. There is not much flooding on the Shannon north of Meelick, but south of that place and along the Shannon tributaries there are thousands of acres submerged.

USE OF FOREIGN OATS.

POSITION OF THE TILLAGE FARMER.

A public meeting in support of the policy of the Grain Growers' Association was held at Mountbolus, Tullamore, on Sunday, Mr. Jeremiah Guinan presiding.

Mr. P. J. Gorry, T.D., wrote stating that he was in full sympathy with the movement for the protection of the home market, realising the importance of encouraging increased tillage by helping farmers to receive a remunerative price for native grain, or, in other words, a living wage for those engaged on the land as grain producers.

Mr. James Dwyer, T.D., and Mr. William Davin, T.D., also wrote promising support.

Mr. J. J. Bergin, general secretary of the Association, said that in pre-war days farmers got 14s. 6d. a barrel for barley; last year and the year before they got 15s. Was there any other producer who was called upon to accept pre-war prices? If the Government stopped the importation of foreign bacon they would have their own Irish bacon, and the millions of money spent yearly on foreign supplies would find its way to the home producer. Foreign bacon should be put out of their reach altogether by excluding it from the country.

He was not going to say, like the Minister for Agriculture, that the farmers' hope lay in getting in another sow or another cow. There should be an embargo first to enable the farmer to keep another cow or pig.

While they advocated restrictions on the importation of foreign commodities, they believed that it was a good thing to export all they could. They wanted total prohibition of foreign oats, which were being used in this country by racehorse owners and hunting establishments. "If people who hunted over their lands were not prepared to give up using foreign oats the farmers would put a stop to their gallop."

Mr. P. Boland, T.D., said that the party to which he belonged had given the fullest measure of support to the policy of the Association. What they wanted was that the market for the Irish farmer should be protected and not exploited in the interests of foreign countries.

Mr. W. P. Aird, T.D., said that he was glad that that was a non-political meeting. If it had been a political meeting it would not have been possible for Mr. Boland and himself to occupy the one platform. However else they differed, they agreed on one thing—to try and do everything possible to improve the position of the tillage farmer. There was one of two things that they had to do—either stop the growing of barley or look for an alternative market.

IRISH LANGUAGE PROSPECTS.

IN WORSE POSITION THAN A YEAR AGO.

MR. DE VALERA'S SPEECH.

The winter session of the Ard Chraobh of the Gaelic League was inaugurated last night by a meeting of students of Irish in the College, 39 Parnell square.

Mr. de Valera presided.

Mr. Padraic O'Domhnallain said that the schools and colleges in which Irish was the medium of instruction had the best all-round results in the summer examinations. The large number of first places won by Gaelic taught students left their critics dumb. Their successes in the schools were, unfortunately, more than counterbalanced by the economically forced emigration of thousands of native speakers from the Gaeltacht. According to private and Press accounts, America held no good prospects for Irish people either now or in the immediate future. Instead of looking to America, young Irishmen and women should direct their gaze to the rich grass lands of their own country. They could elect a Parliament pledged to place those who were willing to work on just terms on the land. the Administration might copy with much profit to the country, the Italian Prime Minister's agricultural policy.

"ONLY TINKERING."

Propaganda notwithstanding, the Government were only tinkering with the Gaeltacht. He quoted clerical and lay and Press supporters of the Government, who, he said, bore out this fact.

The Vocational Bill, he said, was a sore disappointment, not alone from the religious, but from the Gaelic language and the national point of view. Gaels should be on the alert, because, during a debate on Irish in the Dail, when Mr. de Valera was in America, there was not a single Gael among all the parties to say that Ireland would never be satisfied until every school in Ireland was as Irish as it should be.

Mr. Micheal O'Maolain said it did not matter what work was done in the schools or at the classes if the languege was allowed to die in the Gaeltacht, and the language would soon be dead, because the Gaeltacht was dying, judging by conditions there at present. He was anxious to know what the party likely to be in office soon would do for the language—he did not mean by way of promises, but real practical work, because a party out of office was different when in office. There were many who would be very polite out of office, but very supercilious in office.

LANGUAGE PROSPECTS.

Mr. D. O'Brien, secretary to the Gaelic League, said that among the several questions with which the prosperity of Ireland was concerned, the leading and most important, in his opinion, was the preservation of the Gaeltacht and the Irish language. He had lately spent some time in the Counties of Cork and Clare, and he was sorry to say that from what he had seen and heard the Gaels were flying from the country, and the prospects of the Irish language were not better, but worse, than they were a year ago. If things were to go on as they were going at present, it was generally believed that in ten years' time the Irish language would have disappeared altogether from the Gaeltacht. Those who were engaged in the movement for the preservation of the language should exert themselves and bring public opinion to bear upon the Government to take steps at once to implement the recommendations of the Gaeltacht Commission issued five years ago.

MR. DE VALERA'S VIEWS.

Mr. de Valera said that there was no one learning the Irish language simply for its linguistic value. They wanted to learn Irish because it was the language of their country; they wanted to restore the language which they knew had been destroyed purposely in order to destroy our nationality. They had to ask themselves what ought to be done by the people as a whole in order to achieve the purpose they had in view. If they were not serious about the preservation of the language they would not save it. He admitted that they were not making much headway. It was not an easy task to restore the language. It would be easier to win the complete freedom of the country than to save the language. If the language was to be saved, the people should be prepared to make sacrifices, and they should be strong in urging the Government to tackle the question.

ENTHUSIASM WANING.

It seemed to him that the advocates of the language had lost much of the enthusiasm which they had shown in the autumn of 1921. They were losing constantly by half effort, and the sacrifices that were being made were usless. The best help that could be given to the language would be to put boys and girls who had spoken it from childhood into the positions of teachers in the schools. With him, if it were a question of freeing the country or saving the language, he would choose saving the language, because the freedom of the country could always be achieved, as he believed it would be won some time or other.

TO SAVE THE LANGUAGE.

One of his methods of saving the language would be to place an Irish speaker as an assistant in every school, because there was in the Gaeltacht boys and girls as brilliant and able as could be found in the country. Placing an Irish-speaking assistant in every school would mean much money. The question was: would the people be prepared to make that sacrifice to save the language? At present they were making half efforts to save the language, and if those failed there would seem some justification for the opponents of Irish.

There was no qualification for teaching Irish like that of having spoken it from childhood. In America were large numbers lost to Ireland and the Irish language. If they got the people in a proper state of mind he doubted that any Government would be unwilling to go ahead. They had only a few years in which to save the language. Personally, he was prepared to do everything to get the Irish people to make the sacrifices necessary to save the language.

PEOPLE LOSING INTEREST.

What they needed was a strong public opinion prepared to make the necessary sacrifices. Was it not extraordinary that a nation would be satisfied to have people living on bogs and rocks when the fine fat lands of Meath were left to the bullocks? It would take some money to place these people in the bogs on the lands of Meath. And would those who decided to do that be supported by a majority of the people?

The people were not as interested in the language as they had been fifteen years ago, and the same applied to Irish manufacture. If the Gaelic League was as strong as it had been, then he had no doubt that the people would be prepared to make the necessary sacrifices, but he was not quite so sure that they would be at present. They wanted Irish as the spoken language of the country as a whole.

ORDINATIONS IN BELFAST.

An Ordination Service was held in St. Patrick's Church, Ballymacarrett, Belfast, last Sunday, when the following were admitted to Holy Orders:—

Deacons—Albert Henry Jackson, St. John's College, Highbury, for the curacy of Ballymacarrett; William Frederick Hayes, B.A., Durham, for the curacy of Seagoe; Norman Stocks, St. Aidan's Theological College, for the curacy of Coleraine; Joseph Charles Handley Vaughan, B.A., T.C.D., for the curacy of St. Aiden's, Belfast; Alan Alexander Buchanan, B.A., T.C.D., for the curacy of the Southern Mission, Ballymacarrett.

Priests—The Rev. Graham Fetherstonhaugh Craig, B.A., T.C.D., curate of St. Anne's Cathedral, Belfast; the Rev. Lionel Hugh Lindsay Abercrombie, B.A., T.C.D., curate of Ballywillan; the Rev. Robert Charles Ross-Lewin Ellis, B.A., T.C.D., curate of the parish of Whitehouse; the Rev. Robert Eric Charles Browne, B.A., T.C.D., curate of St. Luke's, Belfast.

The Bishop of Down and Connor and Dromore conducted the Service; the sermon was preached by the Rev. W. H. Good, M.A., rector of St. Mary's Belfast, and the Gospel was read by the Rev. A. A. Buchanan.

Healthy Nerves

"I will take Sanatogen till my nerves are better"

THOUSANDS of people—as sceptical as you—have discovered that their decision: "I will give Sanatogen a fair trial," has changed their whole life.

Where formerly they felt worn and tired, they now enjoy radiant health and abundant energy. They are really and thoroughly healthy again, able to do a full day's work without feeling any fatigue.

Sanatogen revitalizes the whole cell life of your system and multiplies the number of red blood corpuscles. But its main strength lies in its remarkable influence on the nervous system. That is principally due to the phosphorus which is present in Sanatogen in the exact form in which it exists in the nerve cells. It is only from Sanatogen—an intricate chemical combination unique in the whole scientific world—that these delicate nerve-cells can fully absorb the energising phosphorus.

That's why that famous standard work: "The Elements of Pharmacy, Materia Medica and Therapeutics" says:

"In neurasthenia and neuralgic conditions, Sanatogen is clearly indicated"

NEWS FROM ALL IRELAND.

FARMER'S SAD END.

That the deceased man died from asphyxia, caused by hanging himself while suffering from temporary insanity, was the verdict returned at an inquest which was held at Gortnaderry, Kiltyclogher, CO. LEITRIM, on the body of Terence Ward (40), a farmer, who was found last Friday hanging from a beam in a stable. Evidence was given to the effect that Ward had worried over his wife's death.

A NOVEL SUMMONS.

At DUNGANNON Petty Sessions yesterday, before Mr. W. G. Moriarty, R.M., three Dungannon men—Hugh Harte, Peter Conway and Bernard Farley—were charged with "that, being passengers on a public service vehicle, they did combine with others to sing loud to the annoyance of passengers." Evidence was given by James Parkes, 'bus conductor, that he reprimanded the defendants twice for singing, and they refused to desist. A fine of 2s. 6d. and costs in each case was imposed.

PRISON FOR BEGGING.

James Stewart, Bisley street, BELFAST, was sent to jail for one month by the Belfast magistrates yesterday for begging in the street. District Inspector M'Farland said that on Saturday night last he was walking through Cliftonpark avenue when he was overtaken by the accused man, who said that he was stranded. The accused man also said that he had missed the 'bus from Belfast to Derry and that he was in need. The prisoner said that he had gone to Glasgow to join the Army. The Army would not take him, and he returned to Ireland and went into the Free State to join the Free State Army, but they would not take him.

OMAGH WATER SCHEME.

OMAGH Rural Council, at its meeting last Saturday, considered a scheme by Mr. J. M. Robinson, engineer, for the supply of water to the town from springs at Killyberry, about two miles distant. Mr. Robinson estimated the approximate cost at £2,900, with a supplemental scheme available for Stranisk at an estimate of £500. Mr. P. McCaffery urged the Council to adopt the scheme, stating that Fintona had no water supply and no sanitary system. When a few cases of typhoid occurred the water from eight wells and pumps was analysed, and only two samples were found pure. The Council decided to have the water for the proposed supply analysed before adopting the scheme.

NORTHERN HOTEL-KEEPERS.

A large and representative meeting of the Belfast and Northern Ireland Hotelkeepers' Association was held in the Marine Hotel, BALLYCASTLE, yesterday. Mr. Harold Tompkins, Imperial Hotel, Belfast, presided. The question of a more suitable date for the T.T. Race was discussed. An expression of opinion was that from a tourist point of view it would be more satisfactory to hold the race earlier in the season. Consideration was given to a request of the Ulster Provincial Licensed Traders' Defence Association in regard to a joint deputation to meet the Prime Minister of Northern Ireland on the question of licence regulations generally, and it was agreed that the provincial traders had a grievance, but as far as the hotels were concerned they felt they could not take part in the deputation.

SHOOTING COMPETITION.

Six of the leading teams from various parts of the COUNTY FERMANAGH took part in the final contest for the Sub-district small arms competition, which was held at Colebrooke Park, the residence of Sir Basil Brooke, Bart. Lieutenant-Colonel Richardson, County Commandant, had charge of operations, and Major Traill was in charge of the butts. The Florencecourt team won the county cup and silver medals with a score of 294, and also a prize presented by the County Commandant. Belnaleck were the runners-up with a score of 286, and also the winners of bronze medals and the headquarters staff prize. Other placings were:—Magheraboy, 282; Cooneen, 271; Ardess (last year's winners), 269, and Derrylin, 228. The prize for the highest individual score went to S. D. C. Baxter, Cooneen centre, and the instructor's prize went to Sergeant Instructor Barnes. The winning team will represent County Fermanagh in the inter-country competition.

NORTHERN EGG INDUSTRY.

When a prosecution was brought at OMAGH Petty Sessions yesterday against Mr. D. A. Clements, J.P., trading as Messrs. Clements and Sons., egg merchants, Omagh, for sending a quantity of eggs known as "seconds" in a consignment marked on the cases as "fresh," Mr. James Adams, an Inspector of the Ministry of Agriculture, stated that Northern Ireland eggs did not require to be marked when being consigned to Great Britain, as was required with eggs from other countries, because they were sent under guarantee that they were all fresh or new laid, and if it was found that they did not comply with this guarantee it would have a very serious effect on the whole industry in Northern Ireland. The evidence for the prosecution given by Mr. W. H. Dryden, Inspector, was that he examined two cases of eggs consigned by the defendant to London, and found thirty-three eggs in one case and thirty-four in another which were "seconds." For the defence it was contended that when tested and packed in the defendants' store the eggs were quite fresh, and the testers and packers were examined to prove this. Mr. Clements said that his instructions to his employes were to exercise the utmost care in testing and packing. The chairman said that the magistrates did not believe there had been any wilful negligence on the part of Mr. Clements, but there must be a mistake somewhere. They imposed a fine of £1 and costs.

HORSE-DEALER'S DEATH.

The death has taken place of Mr. Robert O'Neill, Lawrence street, BELFAST. Mr. O'Neill was a well-known horse-dealer and a successful exhibitor at all the principal shows in Ireland, his high-class hunters winning many prizes. Prior to the war he exported large numbers of horses to Germany and Italy, and America always was one of his best markets for hunters. He was a familiar figure at all the principal fairs in Southern Ireland. He leaves a widow and six children.

BENEFIT BENEFIT.

Medical benefit, with its system of panel doctors, will come into operation in Northern Ireland next month. The Belfast District Committee of the Shipbuilding and Engineering Trades' Federation has requested the Ministry of Labour to publish in the Press a list of doctors who are willing to take medical benefit cards, with a note explaining what is required of the insured workers who enrol with the doctor of their choice. The present method of lists being placed in Post Offices, in the opinion of the Federation, is inadequate.

POTEEN PROSECUTION.

When cycling along the road near Gortin, Co. TYRONE, recently, Constable Shiel, Royal Ulster Constabulary, observed a young man throw a bottle into the hedge, while his four companions ran away. The constable on searching the hedge discovered a bottle containing a pint of poteen, and at Omagh Licensing Court yesterday before Captain Gosselin, R.M., five defendants were charged with possession of the poteen. All the defendants denied the charge. The Court fined Thomas M'Farland, Greenan, whom the constable stated he saw throwing the bottle into the hedge, £10 and costs, and dismissed the charge against the other defendants.

NORTHERN POSTAL CLERKS.

At a meeting of the Northern Ireland Post Office Clerks' Association, the question of the absorption of the redundant postal clerks at DERRY was dealt with. The postal authorities propose compulsorily to transfer these redundant officers to other post offices in Ulster and England, and the meeting decided to oppose these steps, and representations to this effect were made to the postal authorities in London. The Executive also agreed to advocate before the Royal Commission on the Civil Service the stabilisation of the cost of living bonus on a basis of full bonus calculated on the average index figure of the three years ended December, 1929, rounded up to the next five points.

SHOT-GUN LICENCES.

At CLONMEL Court, before District Justice Troy, Mr. John Power was charged with having shot-guns in his possession without a licence. Superintendent FitzGerald, who prosecuted, said that, though not obliged to do so, Guard Fahy had called four or five times to defendant, advising him to take out the licence, but he had failed to do so. Mr. Shannon (for defendant) apologised for his client's negligence, and said that he was very busy at the time. He acknowledged the courtesy and patience of the Guards in the matter. The Justice said that defendant had acted very badly indeed, especially remembering the extraordinary courtesy and patience of the Guards. As defendant had apologised, he would only fine him 20s., but would not confiscate the guns, as the Superintendent did not ask for them.

ANOTHER BELFAST BRIDGE?

The BELFAST District Committee of the Shipbuilding and Engineering Trades' Federation is advocating the erection of another bridge across the River Lagan, and is placing the suggestion before the Belfast Corporation. In a letter to the Town Clerk the Federation states:—"The Minister of Labour has agreed to give sympathetic consideration to a grant being given in aid of the proposal—as an unemployment relief scheme. The Harbour Commissioners are of opinion that this question is primarily a matter for the Belfast Corporation, but are prepared to give the matter their careful consideration in the event of a suitable scheme being evolved. The considered opinion of representative people is that such a bridge is required, and the act of providing all possible employment for those unable to obtain it should be a first duty of public representatives, especially on work which would prove a valuable asset to our city."

MOTORING ACCIDENT SEQUEL.

In the CLONMEL Rural District Court, before District Justice Troy, Thomas Daly, Thurles, was charged with recklessly and negligently driving a motor car, and with not having a driver's licence. The case for the prosecution was that the defendant's car struck and knocked down a child, Mary Cullen, who afterwards spent thirteen weeks in hospital. The defence was that the accident was unavoidable. The Justice said that the defendant should have made an attempt to avoid the child and her companion, and he was guilty of negligence, but he did not take a serious view of the case. Mr. Walsh, solicitor (for defendant), asked to have the case dealt with under the Probation of Offenders Act. Defendant had a civil action for £500 hanging over him, and he had been put to much expense. Mr. Shannon, solicitor (for the girl)—I am told that the defendant has no money. It is a scandal that there is no law about this third party insurance, and that a man can buy a £20 or £30 car and do unlimited damage and not have to pay a penny. The Justice said that the defendant was responsible for what had happened, and it was a lucky thing the child was not killed. He imposed a fine of £1, with £2 witnesses' expenses, and a 2s. 6d. fine for not having a driver's licence.

NEWS SUMMARY

IRELAND.

Cork city proposes to organise a sweepstake in aid of four of the local hospitals, and Waterford is taking steps to participate in a sweepstake for the benefit of the County and City Infirmary.—(Page 7.)

While Colonel Goodwin, Commanding the Royal Ulster Constabulary Dépôt at Newtownards, was driving a new motor car to Killyleagh yesterday evening, it overturned and caught fire, and he was burned to death.—(Page 7.)

Speaking at a meeting held at Tullamore in support of the Grain Growers' Association, Mr. J. J. Bergin, General Secretary, mentioned that foreign oats were being used in this country not only by racehorse owners, but by the people who hunted over the farmers' land.—(Page 5.)

At the winter session of the Ard Chraobh of the Gaelic League, opened in Dublin last night, the Secretary said the Irish language prospects were worse than they were a year ago.—(Page 5.)

GREAT BRITAIN.

It was officially announced last night that the names chosen for the infant daughter of Their Royal Highnesses the Duke and Duchess of York are Margaret Rose. The christening will take place in the Private Chapel at Buckingham Palace next month.—(Page 7.)

Irish Free State representatives were present at the Wool Research Conference which was opened by Mr. J. H. Thomas in London yesterday.—(Page 7.)

The biennial Congress of the International Transport Workers' Federation opened in London yesterday.—(Page 5.)

The Atlantic Fleet was put through general drill in harbour yesterday prior to putting to sea to-day for the final stage of the autumn manœuvres.—(Page 8.)

It is announced that the opening meeting of the Imperial Conference has been deferred until October 1st.—(Page 7.)

ABROAD.

The discovery of a counter-revolutionary plot against the Soviet, which sought to bring about its end by cutting off food supplies, is reported from Moscow.—(Page 7.)

Many lives have been lost in the storm off the French coast during the past two days, and torpedo-boats have been sent out to assist fishing smacks which are in danger.—(Page 8.)

Mr. Lang, former Premier of New South Wales, made a strong attack yesterday on Sir Otto Niemeyer and his report on Australia's finances.—(Page 8.)

The downward trend on the Berlin Bourse continued yesterday. The Reichsbank has decided to transfer gold to Paris in order to bring relief to the exchanges.—(Page 7.)

Protests against "dumping" were made at the Second Committee of the League of Nations yesterday by various free trade countries, and a long discussion took place on tariffs. The German delegate said that he believed a number of European States would give Britain such assurances that it would be advantageous to her to consolidate her tariffs. He advocated a complete European Customs Union.—(Page 7.)

SPORTING.

At Leicester yesterday Empire Builder won the Oadby Breeders' Plate.—(Page 10.)

FINANCIAL.

London Stock Markets were again dull and easier. German Bonds were a weak spot. Industrials lost ground.—(Page 3.)

Money was a drug at 1½-1 per cent. for overnight loans. Discounts were easier. The Cape gold arrived too late to be dealt with, but £250,000 of the week's consignment had already been sold to France. The Bank sold £106,625 in bar gold.—(Page 3.)

In Dublin local securities were supported.—(Page 3.)

Sweepstakes for Hospitals.

As we expected when the Free State Parliament passed its Hospitals Sweepstakes Act, the lure of "easy money" is proving to be irresistible. At present, under the Act, a sweepstake is being organised for the benefit of six hospitals in Dublin, and now Cork proposes to follow Dublin's example. Like Dublin's hospitals, Cork's hospitals are doing admirable work among the poor and are pressed hardly for funds. Cork has decided, therefore, to organise a sweepstake on behalf of four local hospitals—the Fever Hospital, the North and South Infirmaries and the Erinville Lying-in Home. It will have no connection with the Dublin Sweepstakes Committee, but will be organised by a new body called the Charities Guild, which, as our Correspondent informs us, has acquired a proper status under the Sweepstakes Act. This venture will not become legal until the Free State Minister for Justice has sanctioned it, and the Irish public will await his verdict with much interest. Mr. FitzGerald-Kenney is confronted with a dilemma which, if he has given due thought to the subject, he must have anticipated. On grounds of merit and necessity no distinction can be made between the claims of hospitals in Dublin and in Cork. The Minister, having sanctioned a sweepstake in the one case, cannot refuse his sanction in the other, without a protest from Cork's high-spirited and somewhat jealous citizens. Yet, if he sanctions the Cork sweepstake, how can he refuse like sanction to demands from every other city or town in the Free State which is charged with the support of hospitals? We have no doubt that such demands will be forthcoming, since local hospitals may expect larger benefits from sweepstakes confined to themselves than from those in which they would participate with, perhaps, a dozen other hospitals under the auspices of a central committee. If the Minister's sanction comes to be granted as a matter of course, the term "hospital sweepstake" soon will be a noun of multitude in the Irish Free State.

Thoughtful Irishmen will be unable to regard this prospect without anxiety. We admit the hospitals' urgent need; their funds are waning, and unless new help comes from some quarter they are threatened with the doom of control by the dead hand of the State. Furthermore, we are not Puritans in the matter of gambling; we think that a man who can afford to stake a pound or two on a horse-race is entitled to purchase a moment's pleasurable excitement at that cost. For two reasons, however, we shall regret the Free State's abandonment to an orgy of hospital sweepstakes. In the first place, we agree with the Dean of Waterford's warning to the promoters of a hospital sweepstake in that city. To-day gambling is rampant among our working classes, with whom it is replacing drink as the greatest engine of domestic misery. The betting shops in our back-streets are crowded from morning till night; their influence is an increasing source of want, dishonesty and idleness. Can anybody doubt that the universal vogue of gambling on behalf of hospitals will throw a veil of respectability over the work of the betting-shops? The man who promotes a hospital sweep and chides an artisan whose last shilling has gone to the bookmaker will receive a blunt retort. In the next place, we are concerned for the Free State's prestige. She has ancient and honourable traditions; she is a fully-fledged Dominion of the British Empire; she sits on the Council of the League of Nations; already she has earned a name for economic self-respect. Now by her system of hospital sweepstakes she is throwing herself on the charity not only of her own citizens, but of the world. Tickets for these sweepstakes will be sold throughout the five continents; already they have been forged in Paris. The sores of our Lazarus will be exhibited in the "speak-easies" of New York and in the bazaars of India. Charity covers a multitude of sins, but can we blame other peoples if they assume that, for all her freedom, Ireland remains the Niobe of nations?

France and Italy.

The naval conversations between representatives of the French and Italian Governments at Geneva are reported to have collapsed. The Geneva meetings were arranged at the time of the London Naval Conference, which resulted in a three-Power pact between Britain, the United States and Japan. Neither France nor Italy would agree to the formula that was accepted by the three chief naval Powers. Italy insisted that she must have complete parity with France in every branch of naval armament, and the French argued that, as they had three coasts to defend, as well as a large empire beyond the seas, they were entitled to a greater number of ships than Italy, whose entire coast line lies in the Mediterranean. A deadlock was reached, and the matter was left in abeyance pending the result of the Geneva talks. Now that they, too, have failed to produce any measure of agreement, we must assume that the naval problem in the Mediterranean will become acute. According to present arrangements France and Italy have agreed to postpone the start of their naval programmes until the end of the year. Between them they propose to build about fifty new ships. Italy will build twenty-nine, of which no fewer than twenty-two will be submarines, while the French will replace some of their obsolete cruisers with newly-designed vessels. France claims a superiority of more than 200,000 tons over Italy, on the ground that she must guard her overseas possessions. Italy is ready to concede to her a superiority of 157,000 tons in ancient craft, but insists that there must be equality in all modern ships of war.

The whole structure of the London Treaty seems to be imperilled. When this instrument was signed Britain based her adherence to its clauses upon the assumption that the status quo as between France and Italy would be maintained. In order to guard against any increase in the French or Italian Navies, a special clause, known as the "escalator clause," was added to the Treaty, giving Britain the right to revise her attitude in the event of additions to other fleets. If, therefore, France and Italy begin to build new ships next year, the Admiralty hardly will allow them to strengthen their respective positions in the Mediterranean without an equivalent increase in the strength of the British fleet. Additions, however small, to Britain's programme undoubtedly would lead to fresh building by Japan and the United States, and the dreadful business of naval competition would begin all over again. Britain has taken the lead in naval disarmament, but she cannot afford to allow her interests consistently to be threatened. France now has a fresh argument against any proposal to weaken her naval forces, since she regards the success of the Hitler Party at the recent German elections as an indication of reviving aggression on the part of the Reich. Italy, of course, will use the same argument from a different point of view; but the truth is that neither trusts the other, and the peace-loving nations of the world must pay for their suspicions. The whole affair provides a deplorable commentary on Europe's present condition. Progress towards peace seems to be at a complete stand-still, and the advent of a new generation is accompanied by the prospect of a new war.

Turkish Politics.

There is a hearty simplicity about Turkish affairs, which, while it may amuse more sedate and longer established legislatures, in many ways is most admirable. Recently the all-powerful Ghazi Pasha sanctioned the formation of an opposition party under the guidance of Fethy Bey, and all things are being hastened to the consummation of this purpose. Since the prospective leader of the opposition lacks a seat in the Assembly, frantic measures are in hand to remedy the defect. In the words of the Stambul Correspondent of The Times, "the speed and manner in which this by-election is being carried out are likely to create a 'record' in the parliamentary annals of the world." General Ismet Pasha, the Prime Minister, in order to meet this attack upon a supremacy which he had come to regard as a vested interest, has resigned to reform his Cabinet. The immediate outcome of these moves may be guessed without much risk. Ismet Pasha will remain Prime Minister until he is defeated on a vote of confidence—an unlikely event. On the other hand, no longer will he be able to ignore criticism, since Fethy Bey, elected a Deputy, will be present to challenge his views. It may be argued that Fethy Bey is a man of small account, but behind him looms the shadow of the victor of Afiun Karahissar—Mustapha Kemal himself. This strange man surely is the ablest of the age. Potent in war, he appears to be equally potent in peace. He has allowed deliberately an opposition to his own Government's authority that he may mould their diverse proclivities to his own ends. An established order of things is, and in a few days criticism will be. In the meanwhile, the Ghazi Pasha holds the balances while the disaffected waste their energies in talk. Even Richelieu never accomplished so much.

The Promenade Concerts.

England may not be a musical nation. No State-supported grand opera ministers to the æsthetic needs of her provincial towns, but such national appreciation as she possesses at least has one all-embracing manifestation—the promenade concerts. Every autumn at the Queen's Hall the youngest aspirant to honour may jostle with Beethoven and Mozart, and a mixed audience, representative of every class and profession in the country, will listen with equal attention, if not with equal pleasure, to the ninth symphony or to a tone poem by an insignificant unknown. The same orchestra will render the master and the neophyte; the same audience will give its respectful attention. Thus we are glad that Sir Edward Elgar, the only man to-day on whom the mantle of Purcell has descended, produced his new "Pomp and Circumstance" march in this essentially national and democratic milieu. The new music may be small fry compared with the "Dream of Gerontius" or the composer's symphonies, but its production at a promenade concert shows Sir Edward's sense of the fitness of things. While more famous societies, like the Philharmonic, have greater names, the promenades are the true homes of music in these islands; for to them only do the blue-stockings and illuminati rally in common with humbler folk who come to hear a "good rousing piece tune." Britain's musical debt to Sir Edward is very great. Not only has he kept her flag flying, but he has eschewed the extravagances of the Russian school, to which so many have fallen victims. Another generation of British composers will owe him a gratitude which to-day hardly may be assessed.

SIR ROBERT WALLACE, K.C.

Sir Robert Wallace, K.C., for nearly twenty-four years Chairman of London Sessions, told a Press Association reporter yesterday that it was probable that he would retire at the end of the year. Sir Robert is eighty. "I think it is time, perhaps, that I gave way to someone a little younger," he said. "Events may happen to hold it up for a little time, but I think I shall be retiring towards the end of the year."

The son of the late Rev. Robert Wallace, of Dublin, Sir Robert was called to the Bar in 1874, and was made a K.C. in 1894. Before being appointed to London Sessions he was an examiner of the Supreme Court and Revising Barrister for Middlesex.

In his early days he took an active interest in politics. He unsuccessfully contested Wandsworth in 1885, West Edinburgh in 1886, and West Renfrewshire in 1892 before being elected Liberal M.P. for Perth three years later. He represented this constituency for twelve years, and retired when appointed Chairman of London Sessions.

About 400 delegates, representing firms of twenty-eight countries, are attending the Congress of the International Marine Transport Insurance Union which opened at Vichy yesterday.

COURT AND PERSONAL.

The Duke and Duchess of York hope to leave Glamis Castle towards the end of this week. They will be the guests of Lord and Lady Elphinstone, at Carberry Tower, Musselburgh, before they return to London.

LONDON LETTER

EXPENSIVE ENTERTAINMENT.

59 FLEET STREET, LONDON,
MONDAY NIGHT.

Lavish entertainments at Geneva in connection with the League of Nations are not uncommon, and the number of banquets given by the delegations to one another is really extraordinary, though these are comparatively small affairs, with only some forty or fifty guests. Mr. Arthur Henderson, the Foreign Secretary, who is now in Geneva for the meeting of the Assembly, is said to have given a reception to which over a thousand persons were invited. The number seems out of all proportion, but, in any event, it appears that the party was a very large one. The question of the expense involved has not escaped notice, and it is possible that steps will be taken to ascertain the reason why Mr. Henderson thought it necessary to entertain so lavishly.

Holiday Weather.

Any Londoner, on being asked his opinion of the summer, probably would say that it had been the wettest in his experience, and would reject the suggestion that the rainfall from June 1st to September 21st has been less than normal. Such is the case, however; for the total rainfall from June 1st to September 21st registered at Kew was 7.80 inches, against the normal rainfall of 7.89 inches. The weather in London has been better than it has been in towns by the sea, and most people who have been on holidays have returned deeply disappointed with their wet and sunless sojourn. Yet there has been more sunshine than is usual; for up to the present there have been 750 hours, against a normal 686. Last year was abnormal in this respect, and there were 793 hours up to September 21st.

Crime in London.

Scotland Yard is somewhat exercised in its mind about the recent epidemic of outbreaks by motor bandits and other criminals in London of late—particularly the daring outrage at Barking railway station. A special conference of the heads was held this morning, and it is understood that a number of decisions were reached whose object is to tighten up the police's grip on a most unpleasant situation. The police believe that an increase in the number of flying squad cars and the completion of the telephone box ring are essential if success is to crown their efforts. Good work has been done in districts where the two systems are in operation, and the urgent necessity for progress in both these directions is being pressed upon the authorities. Red tape and expense, however, interfere to a considerable extent. The police hold that every police station ought to have its own flying squad of cars fully equipped with wireless, the number of which would vary according to the needs of the district.

Another Challenge?

Sir Thomas Lipton, as it is stated to-day, quite possibly may challenge the Enterprise to another defence of the America's Cup, and declares that he never will be satisfied until he has recovered the trophy. Sir Thomas Lipton appears to have changed his mind, because only the other day he said that he would not issue another challenge. The Shamrock, after her mast has been changed, will be taken in tow by the Erin for the Atlantic voyage, proceeding directly to Ireland, where she will race next year. In the meanwhile, Sir Thomas Lipton's invitation to Mr. Henry Vanderbilt to sail the Enterprise against the Shamrock in British waters next Spring for a cup offered by the King has excited much interest. It is concluded that the cup mentioned will be quite a new one, and, possibly, will be presented by the King through the Royal Ulster Yacht Club. The competitions for the only British yachting cup—that known as "The King's Cup"—are held during Cowes Week by yachts over thirty tons, but the race is limited to British yachtsmen, and the Enterprise could not compete.

The Prince of Wales.

Some few days ago I mentioned that the Prince of Wales had been making rapid progress with his golf, and it is understood that he owes much to the tuition of Holdright, the well-known coach. Recently Holdright received a telegram from Le Touquet, signed by the Prince, which mentioned that His Royal Highness had won the thirty-six holes competition with gross scores of 82 and 83, and expressed a hope that the coach was pleased with him. The telegram, framed, enjoys a place of honour in Mr. Holdright's office. The Prince is expected to return to London to-morrow from Paris, having cancelled a proposed visit to the South of France. He is still on holiday, and his first engagement will be the Royal dinner party to the Dominion Premiers on October 3rd. The Prince will give a series of dinner parties at York House next month, with the overseas Premiers as the principal guests.

The Dangers of Smoke.

Importance will be lent to the conference of the National Smoke Abatement Society, which opens at Leicester on Friday next, by the startling disclosures which have been made during the past year concerning the effect of smoke on national health. The industrial North naturally has particular concern with the problem, and it is significant that Dr. J. S. Taylor, Assistant Medical Officer of Health for Manchester, has called attention to the possibility of a close connection between smoke and cancer. Scientific experts hold that tar and mineral oils produce cancer—for example, in the shale oil, mule-spinning and many other industries. Dr. Taylor has stated that no less than 75,000 gallons of tar are discharged into the air every year by chimneys in the Manchester city area. He has pointed out also that a striking additional piece of scientific evidence has been foreshadowed in investigations, supporting the view that there is an appreciably greater incidence of cancer of the thorax in places where the atmosphere is smoke-laden.

Alsatian Dogs.

The Alsatian dog had a gala time at the Crystal Palace to-day, when the grand stand on the sports ground was filled with young women in tweeds watching twenty-five of the most intelligent dogs in the world being put through their paces at the working trials arranged by the Alsatian, Sheep, and Police and Army Dog Society. Of the twenty-two owners no fewer than seventeen were women, and there was an equal number of women trainers. The work performed by the animals was extraordinary. Some searched the ground for a hidden criminal in the form of a stuffed effigy, and barked loudly when he was found, while others retrieved objects dropped by running men, defended their masters against attack, and guarded objects which they were told to guard. The most remarkable achievement was their ability to discriminate between a revolver and other objects; for no well-trained dog would attempt to pick up a dropped pistol. It was stated that Alsatians are very easy to train—perhaps, easier than any other dog. Training is started at the age of six months, and at least six months are devoted entirely to general obedience work. When they once are taught implicit obedience the rest is easy.

MR. W. ADAMSON, M.P., SEES THE KING.

Mr. William Adamson, M.P., Secretary of State for Scotland, arrived at Balmoral Castle last night, and had an audience of the King.

SCOTTISH NAME FOR ROYAL BABY.

TEXT OF OFFICIAL STATEMENT.

THE CHRISTENING CEREMONY.

DISTINGUISHED MARGARETS.

The following statement was issued last night:—

"145 Piccadilly, W.1.

"It is officially announced that the names chosen for the infant daughter of Their Royal Highnesses the Duke and Duchess of York will be Margaret Rose.

"The christening will take place in the Private Chapel at Buckingham Palace next month."

A SCOTTISH NAME.

Margaret is an old Scottish Royal name. It was the first name that sprang to the lips of the villagers in Glamis when the good news of the birth of the Princess was brought to them a month ago. To every villager there the choice of this name will come as another pleasant reminder of the fact that the new Princess is a "daughter of Scotland." Rose, the second name, is that of the Duchess's sister, Lady Rose Leveson-Gower, who was one of the first visitors to see the Duchess after the birth of the Princess.

It is understood that the Princess will be known as Princess Margaret.

It was only after a considerable amount of consultation between the Duke and Duchess and Lord and Lady Strathmore, the Duchess's parents, and the King and Queen that the names were finally decided upon. The Duke, during his visit to Balmoral Castle just after the birth, discussed the matter with the King, and, although it was then tentatively arranged that Margaret should be included, both names were not definitely chosen until some time later. The choice, however, has been known for some time to those in intimate touch with the Duke and Duchess at Glamis Castle.

PRIVATE CHRISTENING.

The christening ceremony at Buckingham Palace next month will, it is understood, be entirely private. The King and Queen will return to London from Balmoral on Tuesday, September 30, and the Duke and Duchess, together with Princess Elizabeth and Princess Margaret, will probably travel to London by train early in October. The christening ceremony will take place almost immediately after the Duke and Duchess's return. Much thought was given to the choice of the place for the christening ceremony. Originally it was hoped that the baby might be christened in Scotland—possibly in St. Giles Cathedral, Edinburgh—but it was decided that a private ceremony would be better. Accordingly, the chapel at Buckingham Palace was chosen. This is in accordance with the arrangements observed at the christening of Princess Elizabeth, which took place in Buckingham Palace Chapel.

Nothing is yet known as to who will perform the ceremony, but it is possible that the Archbishop of Canterbury may act.

The Prince of Wales may be one of the godfathers.

A FAVOURITE NAME.

Margaret is one of the favourites among girls' names, and is extremely popular under various equivalents in many countries. According to legend, St. Margaret, a virgin and martyr, was the daughter of a pagan priest, who scorned her for her Christian faith. She lived in the country with a foster-mother, keeping sheep. She was offered marriage if she would renounce Christianity, but refused, and was cruelly tortured and put to death. More than 250 churches in England are dedicated to St. Margaret. Another St. Margaret was the Queen of Malcolm III., King of Scotland, who rebuilt the monastery of Iona, and was canonised some years after her death. Margaret of Anjou, who lived from 1430 to 1482, married Henry VI., and was Queen of England, is, perhaps, the most famous of the Margarets.

A brief, but dramatic, life was that of Margaret, the titular Queen of Scotland, who was known as "the Maid of Norway," and lived only from 1283 to 1290.

The names of the Duchess of York are Elizabeth Angela Marguerite.

It will be recalled that the elder daughter of the Duke of Connaught was christened Margaret. Born in 1882, she married the Crown Prince of Sweden, and died in 1920.

OFFICIAL TITLE.

The Princess's full title, which will be used in Court Circulars and other official documents, will be "Her Royal Highness the Princess Margaret Rose of York."

Margaret has been a family name among the Strathmores for five hundred years. In the fifteenth century, John, third Lord Glamis, named his fifth daughter Margaret, and a hundred years later John, the sixth Lord Glamis, called his first daughter Margaret. The eighth Lord Glamis, who married in 1586, called his first daughter Margaret, and in 1618 the Earl of Kinghorne (Lord Glamis) married Margaret, third daughter of John, Earl of Mar, High Treasurer of Scotland.

The Hon. Michael Claude Hamilton Bowes-Lyon, one of the Duchess's brothers, married, in 1928, Elizabeth Margaret, only daughter of John Cator, of Woodbastwick Hall, Norfolk, and three cousins of the Duchess—grand-daughters of the thirteenth Earl of Strathmore—also bear the name Margaret.

Colonel Goodwin served in both the Boer War and the Great War, receiving both the C.M.G. and D.S.O. for his gallantry. He commanded the 12th Battalion of the Royal Irish Rifles in the Great War, and had been Commandant of the Royal Ulster Constabulary Dépôt at Newtownards for five years.

GERMAN GOLD FOR PARIS.

DECISION OF THE REICHSBANK.

EFFORT TO RELIEVE HOME EXCHANGES.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.
BERLIN, Monday.

In spite of the reassuring statements of the Chancellor, the Minister of the Interior and the Prussian police, that no putsch was possible, the downward trend of the Berlin Bourse continued to-day. The nervousness of German and foreign investors was increased by the threat of the Communist Party in the Reichstag to demand the cessation of payments under the Young Plan, and the maximum taxation of those with means, and of employers generally.

The leading banks were unable to take up all the securities thrown on the market, with the result that quotations gave way further, prices in some cases declining as much as fifteen points, and reaching the lowest levels for several years.

ALL MARKETS SUFFER.

All markets on the Bourse suffered, and even Exchequer Bonds, which have hitherto resisted bearish attacks, gave way. The situation was aggravated by the increasing stringency of private discounts and the growing demand for foreign currencies.

The Reichsbank has decided to transfer gold to Paris in order to bring relief to the exchanges. The Reichsbank is well able to export gold without endangering the stability of the Reichsmark, as for a long time past it has been accumulating gold.

Recent Reichsbank returns show that the cover of notes amounts to 69.2 in gold and foreign currencies, thus exceeding the minimum legal cover by nearly thirty per cent.

FRENCH "RENTES."

CLAIMS OF BRITISH HOLDERS.

GOVERNMENT NOTE.

FROM "THE TIMES" CORRESPONDENT.
PARIS, Monday.

I learn that a Note has been addressed by the British Government to the French Government on the subject of the claims of British holders of French Rentes. It presents a summary of the British case with regard to the rate of payment of interest and redemption of the four issues of French Rentes made in the United Kingdom during and immediately after the War. These loans were as follow:—

(1) November, 1915—Five per Cent. Rentes, 602,425,400f., issued at £3 4s. per 100f.

(2) October, 1916—Five per Cent. Rentes, 450,709,800f., issued at £3 4s. 6d. per 100f.

(3) November, 1917—Four per Cent. Rentes, 67,972,900f., issued at £2 10s. 6d. per 100f.

(4) November, 1918—Four per Cent. Rentes, 520,000,000f., issued at £13 12s. 4d. per 500f.

Since the franc was stabilised at one-fifth of its pre-war value, interest on these Government loans has been paid in the paper franc, worth about 2d., and the French Government, through the Caisse d'Amortissement, has been buying up stock on the open market for extinction. On behalf of the British holders it has all along been claimed that they lent the principal in pounds at the rate of 25 francs to the pound, and that they are entitled to the payment of interest and principal at that rate, which was the rate of exchange prevailing when the loan was issued.

OLD RATES AND FRENCH CLAIM.

The claims of the British holders were put forward in a question in the House of Commons last March, when it was pointed out to Mr. Snowden, Chancellor of the Exchequer, that the French Government, where it was in the position of lender, had claimed to be paid in francs at the old rate of exchange, and had received judgment in its favour on at least two occasions.

Mr. Snowden then replied that he was aware of the judgments in question, that he was in sympathy with the claims of the British holders, and that he would cause some representations to be made. I understand that the present Note is, in effect, a fulfilment of that promise, and that the principle of the Note is that the claim should be submitted to arbitration. On this point the French Government will, no doubt, make known its views; but on a former occasion when the proposal was put forward it met with a very unsympathetic reception in France, partly owing to the large sum involved, and partly to the fact that the French holders would strongly object to what they would regard as the preferential treatment of foreigners. At the time of the stabilisation a good many voices were raised in regret that nothing was done to compensate all the holders of public funds. To-day, in discussing the subject in various financial quarters, I encountered the opinion that, even if it did come to arbitration, the award of any banker competent to handle the matter would almost certainly be in favour of the French Government.

CHEAPER PETROL.

REDUCTION OF TWOPENCE PER GALLON.

A reduction of twopence per gallon in the price of petrol and of one penny per gallon in the price of kerosene (lamp oil) is announced by the Irish-American Oil Company, Shell-Mex, Ltd.; Irish B.P. Company, Glico Petroleum Company, Ltd., and McMullan Bros., of Dublin. The reduction will take effect as from to-day.

A similar reduction was announced in London last night.

The following statement was made to the Press Association on behalf of the National Petroleum Distributing Companies:—

REASONS FOR REDUCTION.

"Following weaker prices for petrol and kerosene in America, together with lower tanker freights, the National Petroleum Distributing Companies announce that, from September 23, the price of motor spirit is reduced twopence per gallon, and the price of kerosene is reduced a halfpenny to a penny per gallon, according to areas.

"In London, which is the lowest priced zone, petrol will now cost 1s. 4½d. a gallon, instead of 1s. 6½d.

"In England, Wales and Southern Scotland the new price will be 1s. 5d.; in outlying districts 1s. 6d."

VERGIL CELEBRATIONS

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.
ROME, Monday.

The celebrations of Vergil's bi-millenary were begun this morning at Mantua by the opening of an exhibition of live-stock, by Signor Marescalchi, the Under-Secretary for Agriculture. He declared that the author of the "Georgics" could be no more worthily celebrated than by such an exhibition. The raising of cattle, he said, was one of the greatest economic assets of the nation. The Minister opened a fine park called the "Wood of Vergil," in which a specimen of every tree and flower named by the poet has been planted.

CONVERSION BY STARVATION.

OGPU UNEARTHS ANOTHER PLOT.

ATTACK ON THE SOVIET DINNER TABLE.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.
MOSCOW, Monday.

An official communiqué was published here to-day about the activities which have been disclosed by the State Political Department of a "counter-revolutionary, mischievous spying organisation," in connection with the supply to the population of meat, fish, tinned goods and vegetables.

According to the published statements of seventeen members of this organisation, it aimed at bringing the country to famine, so as to cause discontent amongst the masses of the workers and thus achieve the overthrow of the dictatorship of the proletariat. "Its harmful activities," states the communiqué, "embraced the Central Trusts dealing with meat, fish, tinned goods and vegetables, and the corresponding sections of the Department of the Commissariat for Trade."

This counter-revolutionary, mischievous organisation, the communiqué says, was headed by Professor Riazantsef, a former land-owner and Major-General, and Karatyguin, who before the revolution was the chief editor of the Trade and Industrial Gazette, the leading organ of the Russian bourgeoise, and of the Financial Messenger, the organ of the Ministry of Finance.

FOREIGN AID SOUGHT.

The majority of the members of the organisation were once nobles or officers under the Tsarist régime, while others were farm officials, fishermen or manufacturers belonging to the constitutional, democratic and Menshevik parties. The organisation, it is declared, was closely connected with the White Guards' bodies and foreign capitalists abroad, and received from them monetary assistance and instructions. The whole organisation, the official statement proceeds, has now been discovered, and the Government has transferred the case for investigation to the Ogpu.

The head of this organisation, Alexander Riazantsef, stated in his evidence, says the communiqué: "My political convictions compelled me to tread the path of struggle against the Soviet power. I had to prove that the proletariat cannot restore and raise the economical life of the country. I could achieve this only with the existence of a counter-revolutionary organisation, making all the measures for improving the meat and refrigerating business miscarry, thereby leaving the country without meat and bringing it to hunger in order to facilitate the possibility of a change in the existing Government of the country to a Government according to my political convictions, which are the establishment of a bourgeois democratic Republic.

MYSTERIOUS ENGLISH FIRM.

"I clearly understood that the establishment of this bourgeois democratic Republic would only be possible on condition that this régime was supported by capitalistic States which would invest their capital in our country because our bourgeoisie has been annihilated. I particularly believed that participation in such a régime would come from England.

"In 1924 representatives arrived in Moscow of a big English firm which tried to obtain a concession. As the representative of this firm there arrived a man with whom I was acquainted before the War. After our first conversations he offered to create a counter-revolutionary organisation which would fight against the Soviet power. He said that the members of the organisation must be specialists with anti-Soviet feelings, who were connected in the past with the capitalistic world. For the successful activity of this organisation he offered me ten thousand pounds.

WIDESPREAD ORGANISATION.

"I accepted his proposals and started forming this counter-revolutionary, harmful organisation with the help of a man called Drosdof, who worked in the Commissariat of Agriculture, where he also created a mischievous organisation. Besides him the chief members of the organisation were Estrin, Lefandofsky and Dennisof, who had to recruit members in the Commissariat of Trade, the State Planning Organisation, the Central Co-operative Society and other distributing organisations."

PROFESSORS AS LEADERS.

The communiqué next gives a statement by Karatyguin, the other leader of the movement, who declared that he and other specialists joined Riasantsef in order, by hampering development, to prove to the Soviet Government the necessity for attracting foreign capital.

He further said that there was in agriculture systematically planned, harmful activity by a counter-revolutionary organisation aimed against the Soviet, which included several prominent specialists, and was led by a group of professors, whose names he gave, working in the Commissariat of Agriculture. The characteristic of all these groups, he stated, was disbelief in the restoration of the national economy under the Soviet power.

PLOTTERS TO BE "DESTROYED."

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.
RIGA, Monday.

The Soviet Government has ordered the Press to publish an explanation of the deplorable food shortage which the Russian newspapers themselves recently described as "abominable." The Soviet Press promises that the Ogpu will mercilessly destroy "these old plotters against the five-year plan" and find new incorruptibles to replace them.

CHILEAN PLOT.

REVOLT FRUSTRATED.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.
SANTIAGO DE CHILE, Monday.

An attempt to start yet another South American revolution yesterday has apparently been nipped in the bud. The first news of the plot became known last night, when the Chilean Government issued a communiqué, stating that a number of exiled army officers and others had tried to foment a revolt in the garrison at Concepcion.

It appears that an aeroplane, piloted by two United States citizens, landed near Concepcion yesterday afternoon, with two Chilean Generals and three civilians on board. All were promptly arrested, and will be tried by courtmartial, according to a Government announcement, which adds that "this crazy adventure" has been completely repressed.

Although the Government insists that the plotters were easily circumvented, there is good reason for believing that the attempt was more serious than the public is allowed to know. It is known that several infantry and artillery regiments, and at least a part of the naval forces in Concepcion, were in sympathy with the revolt.

The newspapers are only allowed to publish the official bulletins.

LEAGUE AND TARIFFS.

PROTESTS AGAINST "DUMPING."

SUGGESTION TO BRITAIN.

A EUROPEAN CUSTOMS UNION.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.
GENEVA, Monday.

Fiscal problems loomed large in the discussion at the Second Committee on Economic Matters at the League to-day, which seemed at some periods to resemble the fiscal debates in the House of Commons.

In the course of the debate the Swedish delegate, speaking on the "most favoured nation" clause, submitted a resolution proposing that the League should conduct an inquiry into "dumping" and the system of export bounties, with a view to determining the feasibility of international action to obviate the serious economic efforts resulting from the practice.

The Rumanian and Finnish delegates both complained of the "dumping" of Russian timber and agricultural produce, and the former declared that, if the policy of "dumping" were to be continued, South-Eastern Europe would have to revise its economic policy in the direction of more stringent restrictions.

THE DUTCH VIEW.

The Netherlands delegate pleaded that the interpretation of the clause should be liberal and as unconditional as possible, avoiding discriminations, so as not to create difficulties for free trade countries in maintaining their policy. He pointed out that there was already a strong feeling in free trade countries in favour of a change of policy, and that pressure in this direction grew proportionately with the difficulties which the export trade suffered owing to measures adopted by other countries.

Holland, he said, desired to do her utmost to limit or prevent economic warfare. The best way to achieve this object would be for protected countries to reduce their tariffs to a reasonable level, but if, as was feared in the present circumstances, this were impossible, Holland would be willing to collaborate under a scheme whereby countries with low tariffs should undertake to maintain them at that level for a fixed period in return for a reduction of tariffs by high tariff countries.

He opposed the Rumanian plea that agricultural countries should receive preferential treatment from importing countries on the ground that free trade Holland would have to impose duties in order to grant such preference, and that that would mean the raising of the price of foodstuffs to the Dutch population.

FRANCE AND TARIFF TRUCE.

The French delegate said he hoped to see the speedy ratification of the commercial convention dealing with the "tariff truce," but, in view of the brief period provided for ratifications, he favoured a postponement to the November meeting of the Tariff Commission, which would consider the tariff reduction proposals.

France, he added, was prepared to enter the negotiations with the idea of placing the tariff systems on the old basis of equal opportunity for all on the home market, providing that there was a general plan which would give a measure of security in tariff matters.

A SOUTH AFRICAN WARNING.

The South African delegate uttered a warning against the doctrine of European producing countries combining against overseas producing countries. "It was undesirable," he said, "that the good offices of the League should be enlisted by groups of countries in one quarter of the globe for the purpose of obtaining what amounted to discriminatory treatment against countries in other parts, and which must injure the interest of the other countries."

The German delegate declared that the time had come to dispense with speeches and conferences of experts and to get on with practical common action by the Governments concerned in order to deal with the serious economic situation which had arisen.

"MOST FAVOURED NATION."

He remarked that preferences between European mother countries and their colonies were often so extensive that they rendered the "most favoured nation" treatment largely nugatory. Germany, he said, was ready to discuss the consolidation of tariffs.

He believed that a number of European States would be ready to give Great Britain such assurances that it would be advantageous to Great Britain to consolidate her tariffs. He advocated the co-operation of all European countries in a complete Customs Union as a solution of the agricultural and other economic problems.

PROBLEM OF THE MINORITIES.

ELOQUENT SPEECH BY M. BRIAND.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.
GENEVA, Monday.

The discussion by the Sixth Committee this morning of the minorities problem, which has attracted much attention, again revealed a nervous attitude in the representatives of those countries having minorities, particularly Greece, Yugoslavia and Poland. Their emphatic opposition to any extension of the existing League method of dealing with minority petitions was certainly very striking. Nevertheless, it is generally felt that some good will result from the three days' debate by showing minority populations that their interests are being safeguarded by the League of Nations.

The important speeches this morning were those of Dr. Curtius, the German Foreign Minister, and M. Briand. Dr. Curtius declared most emphatically that Germany did not want to use the question of the protection of minorities to further ulterior motives, and added that he wanted to create among minorities the sentiment that the League was attending to their interests. For that reason, he said, the Secretary-General should give as much information as possible in the annual reports to the Assembly.

SUGGESTION TO GERMANY.

M. Zaleski, of Poland, suggested the conclusion of a minority treaty with Germany, to which Dr. Curtius made no objection.

Mr. C. R. Buxton moved that the discussion be closed and the matter left in the hands of the Rapporteur, M. Motta.

M. Briand, in one of the finest speeches he has made at the League meetings, concluded the debate. His eloquent speech was intended not only for minorities, but made a wide appeal. "Treaties," he said, "must be respected. Peace is our chief duty. The minority question is a very grave one, though the sentiments expressed during the debate were perfectly justifiable."

He warned his hearers of associations, which, he said, were using the minorities for the purpose of undermining treaties. "They must know," he continued, "that we have an honest and reasonable procedure in dealing with minority petitions," and this procedure he warmly defended, concluding by saying: "We must not give the impression abroad that the League of Nations, the Council and Secretariat of the

EMPIRE'S WOOL INDUSTRY.

A CORNER-STONE OF TRADE.

CONFERENCE OPENED BY MR. THOMAS.

Mr. J. H. Thomas, as Chairman of the Empire Marketing Board, yesterday opened, at the Imperial Institute, London, the Wool Research Conference, organised by the Wool Industries Research Association, under the auspicse of the Board.

In addition to representatives of Government departments and research organisations in Great Britain, there were delegates from the Irish Free State, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, Canada, the Falkland Islands, Palestine and Kenya.

Sir Robert Greig, of the Department of Agriculture for Scotland, was appointed chairman of the Conference.

THE FIRST CONFERENCE

Mr. Thomas described the gathering as "a miniature Imperial Conference"—the first Imperial Conference ever held where delegates from all the Dominions had met to discuss a single raw material from its scientific aspect in all its stages from the farm to the factory. The delegates represented the sheep population of the Empire, which numbered well over 170,000,000.

"Wool," said Mr. Thomas, "accounts for practically one-fifth of the United Kingdom's annual imports of raw material. Over half of South Africa's total exports (excluding gold and precious stones), just under half of Australia's, and nearly one-third of New Zealand's exports, consist of wool. The Empire as a whole exports in round figures 1,400,000,000lb. of the total quantity of wool entering world trade.

GROWTH OF WOOL TRADE.

"The rapid growth of this trade is shown by the fact that the first sheep to reach Australia—a flock of twenty-nine animals, picked up at the Cape of Good Hope by the first English fleet to sail for New South Wales—did not arrive until 1788. Now there are about one hundred million sheep—more than ten times as many as human inhabitants—in Australia, and the Commonwealth exports about 750,000,000lb. of wool a year, more than one-third of the total quantity of the raw material entering world trade.

"Great Britain has been exporting wool for at least 1,700 years. In the third century a bishop of Alexandria wrote that British wool was well known in Rome, being so fine as to be comparable with a spider's web.

CORNER-STONE OF TRADE.

"Wool has always been one of the corner-stones of our trade. It has been protected by parliamentary statutes. On one occasion a law was passed decreeing that all women should wear flannel next to the skin. The Woolsack was intended as a constant reminder to the Lord Chancellor of the need of preserving and advancing the trade and manufacture of wool.

"To-day nearly half of our total production of wool, amounting to about one hundred million pounds, is exported. Although wool is one of the Empire's oldest and biggest industries, the study of wool itself is one of the youngest sciences. The Empire Marketing Board has made several grants to stimulate research; one of these was to the Wool Industries Research Association, which is supported by the home Government and by the manufacturing side of the industry in this country. Overseas contributions have also been made towards research carried out in England by the Association, and it is hoped that this very valuable co-operation will be maintained and extended in future.

OBJECT OF THE WORK.

"The object of this work is to evolve standards of wool quality which will enable the manufacturer to expalin to the farmer what types of wool he wants, and will enable the farmer to know what to aim at in production. It is essential to think of wool production as one composite industry, and the producer and manufacturer must be brought into closer touch.

"Another grant to the animal breeding department of the University of Edinburgh is providing for a study of the biology of the fleece and genetical problems. The sheep blow fly is estimated to cost Australian wool-growers four million pounds a year. The investigation at Edinburgh—an attempt to cross brown Shetland sheep which show marked immunity to blow fly attack with white wool breeds—may, if successful, prove a very valuable contribution in the effort of scientists to cut down this loss.

DISCOVERY OF NEW USES.

"The scientist, Dr. S. G. Barker, has confessed in his monograph on wool that he does not yet know what wool really consists of. He is, therefore, working at a disadvantage compared to the manufacturer of artificial fibres produced scientifically as a direct result of laboratory research. There is a vast scope for future developments in research, particularly from the chemical and electrical points of view.

"Another important field for the scientist is the discovery of new uses for wool. Already it is used for fine light-weight textiles demanded by modern fashion, which were unknown ten years ago. The possibilities of wool have never yet been exploited, and new uses mean new markets. There is a vital need for co-ordination of research effort throughout the Empire in order to restore the industry to its old-time prosperity.

POLICY AND TRADE.

"In a week's time the Prime Ministers of the United Kingdom and all the Dominions will meet to discuss the complex problems of imperial policy and trade. There never was an Imperial Conference held in more difficult circumstances than at the present moment; but, equally, never was there a conference more necessary. At this moment each constituent part of the Empire is faced with its own domestic and economic problems. We in the old country are passing through a period unexampled in history.

"I know there are a number of people ready with remedies—some of them I would call quack remedies—but the one thing we ought to avoid in a time of crisis is panic. Nothing disturbs one more in this critical period than to hear folks talk as if this country was down and out. Of course we are having a rough passage, but so is every country in the world. I have confidence that the old spirit of grit and determination that saw this country through many of its difficulties in the past will pull us through in the future.

"At the forthcoming Imperial Conference I am sure we shall sit down, not with the desire to think for ourselves alone, or with the desire to get the best of each other, but with the single-minded desire to realise that this Empire is a thing to be proud of, with potentialities and possibilities unlimited, and to see how we can combine our brains and energies to make the best use of the Empire for the common good of all." (Cheers.)

RESIGNATION OF SPANISH FOREIGN SECRETARY.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.
MADRID, Monday.

It is stated that the Duke of Alba has handed in his resignation as Minister for Foreign Affairs, and that his decision to resign is irrevocable.

LATE NEWS.

BY SPECIAL ARRANGEMENT WITH "THE TIMES."

POLITICS IN SPAIN.

THE NEW GOVERNMENT'S TASK.

The last few days have been marked by a slight, but perceptible, improvement in the political situation in Spain, remarks The Times to-day editorially. A month ago the "neutral" Government of General Berenguer was faced by so many difficulties that it seemed doubtful whether it would survive long enough to carry out the elections to the new Cortes, which is to restore parliamentary institutions this winter. Until recently the new Government had been returning so slowly towards the constitutional "normality" which it had proclaimed as its goal that a large section of the public accused it of merely prolonging in an attenuated form, the Dictatorship, which it professed to have superseded. The Republican "intellectuals" have been its noisiest critics, but their attacks have been less important for their substance than for their effect upon the nerves of the trading and investing classes.

It would be as absurd to ascribe the recent fall of the peseta solely to the orations of this or that opponent of the Monarchy, as it would be to lay the entire responsibility for it upon the admitted financial errors of the last Administration. But it is clear that a currency lacking a gold basis is more liable than another to fluctuations in times of political uncertainty. Happily for the Government, the decline in the value of the peseta has been arrested as much, no doubt, by a revival of confidence as by the regulations issued by Senor Wais, the new Minister of Finance.

THE CENSORSHIP.

Another sign of an improvement in the situation has been the abrogation of the Censorship, which expired last Wednesday, after a life of seven years. It is true that the Spanish editor has still to walk warily; for the law of 1906, in virtue of which journalists criticising the Army are liable to prosecution by a military court, will come into force again. But the concession at least opens the door to free speech and to the liberty of association. It has been accepted as the signal for the beginning of the electoral campaign, and the diversion of much pent-up energy to party polemics is likely to benefit a neutral Government.

On the other side of the political ledger, adds The Times, the cessation of the big strike in the building trade and allied industries at Barcelona furnishes no proof that the relations between Capital and Labour in Catalonia will improve in the near future. The Sindicato Unico is a Syndicalist and Communist rather than a Socialist body. It was formed in 1918, when Bolshevist emissaries, with fugitive foreign anarchists and devotees of the "class struggle," abounded in Barcelona, and when Spain, like other countries which were not engaged in the war, was shaken by its vibrations. The abolition of all trade unions tended to increase the influence of violent and conspiratorial elements.

THE CATALANS.

More recently political uncertainty and the rise in the price of commodities which followed the depreciation of the peseta, have stimulated labour troubles in many Spanish provinces. But it is among the hard and stubborn Catalans, who have so often made a point of going in the opposite direction to that followed by the rest of Spain, that labour unrest is most likely to take a violent form, and General Berenguer's Government is likely to watch the doings of the Sindicato Unico of Barcelona with particular vigilance this autumn.

SOVIET DUMPING.

The Cardiff Correspondent of The Times says in a message yesterday:—There has been very heavy chartering of South Wales steamers by the Russian Soviet Government for Black Sea trading. Vessels have been chartered by the Soviet Government on time rates, at 3s. to 3s. 6d. per ton per month, while those engaged in Archangel and the Kara Sea have ruled up to 5s. per ton. Much anxiety exists among millers as to the position which is likely to obtain in five or six weeks, when heavy supplies of Russian wheat are shipped unsold in this country, and, anxious as to the outcome of Russia's attempt to distribute wheat in large quantities in this country, they are holding off the market wherever possible. I am credibly informed to-day that no fewer than 24 Cardiff steamers are engaged in the Black Sea grain trade, and that chartering on the Russian Soviet Government account continues.

DATE OF IMPERIAL CONFERENCE.

MR. J. H. THOMAS ON ITS PROSPECTS.

It is officially announced that, as the Prime Minister of Canada will not be able to arrive in London until September 30, the opening meeting of the Imperial Conference has been deferred until October 1.

Mr. J. H. Thomas, Chairman of the Empire Marketing Board, at a luncheon of the members of the Trade Advisory Committees of the Board in the Agricultural Hall yesterday, referred to the forthcoming Imperial Conference.

"In a week," he said, "there will be assembled for the first time responsible statesmen from our Dominions, who naturally will feel, at their first visit to the old country, not only pride and pleasure that they are privileged to take part in this great Conference, but equally a consciousness that they have a responsibility to their own peoples. It will not be for us to complain or to criticise if they feel that their obligations rest primarily with their own people, nor will it be for them to complain if we share that view with regard to our own domestic difficulties. But, whatever our mutual difficulties may be, if we sit down to solve them free from prejudice or passion, nothing but good can come out of the Conference."

Referring to the work of the Empire Marketing Board, Mr. Thomas said—"Although to the public mind the Board is given the credit for doing all the work, like everything else in life those who take the credit know damned little about the work." He added that whatever the difficulties of Governments might be, and whatever the changes in our political conception of life, the disinterested and impartial service that was given to the country by business men evoked the whole-hearted tribute of all parties.

Replying to a vote of thanks, Mr. Thomas said—"Never make the mistake of assuming that because you talk imperial sentiments and give utterance to imperial platitudes you will be able to sell to the British housewife that which she does not want or cannot afford to buy. Efficiency is the order of the day, and you cannot have imperial sentiment or protective tariffs as a substitute."

CANADIAN DELEGATES.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.
OTTAWA, Monday.

Mr. Bennett, the Prime Minister, announced in the Dominion House of Commons to-day that the Ministers accompanying him to the Imperial Conference would be Mr. Guthrie, the Minister of Justice; Mr. Stevens, Minister of Trade and Commerce, and Mr. Dupre, Solicitor-General. There will also be several technical officials, including Dr. Tory, the head of the National Research Council; Mr. Coates, the Dominion Statistician; Mr. Gilchrist, the Tariff expert of the Department of Trade and Commerce; General MacNaughton, Chief-of-Staff of the Department of National Defence; Colonel Steele, representing the Radio Branch of the Department; Mr. E. J. MacPhail, President of the Canadian Wheat Pools; Dr. McGibbon, Vice-President of the Board of Grain Commissioners; Professor Swanson, the Economist at the University at Saskatchewan, and Mr. John MacFarlane, a prominent grain exporter. The delegates will sail to-morrow from Quebec on the Canadian-Pacific liner Empress of Australia for England.

SWEEPSTAKES AND CHARITY.

CORK HOSPITALS' PROPOSAL.

LOCAL SCHEME TO RAISE MONEY.

DISCUSSION IN WATERFORD.

FROM OUR SPECIAL REPRESENTATIVE.
CORK, Monday.

Cork proposes to have a hospitals' sweepstakes scheme of its own, independent of any that is being run in aid of the Dublin hospitals. It has been decided that in the first sweepstake four Cork hospitals shall take part. They are the Cork Fever Hospital, the North and South Cork Infirmaries, and the Erinville Lying-in Home.

The organising and controlling of the Southern sweepstake will be in the charge of Mr. Maguire, a Dublin barrister, who, along with a few other Dublin men, recently formed what is known as the Charities Guild, which is legal under the Sweepstakes Act. Mr. Maguire visited Cork this week, and laid the plans that he has prepared before the members of the Boards of the hospitals and institutions which will take part, and it is understood that his aims have met with approval.

THE MINISTER'S AUTHORITY.

He has returned to Dublin, but before he can proceed with the proposal to establish a sweepstake for Cork he must secure the sanction of the Minister for Justice, in whom lies the power to grant or withhold a licence for such projects.

This power is contained in one of the clauses of the Hospital Sweepstakes Act, and if the approval of the Minister is forthcoming, Mr. Maguire will return to Cork, where further details, such as the amount of the prize money and the plan of campaign generally, will be discussed. I understand that it has not yet been decided definitely on what sporting event the sweepstake will be run, but it is hinted that it may be the Grand National or the Cesarewitch. It may be, also, that the office will be located in Cork, thus giving local employment, but these matters must await further discussion.

HOSPITALS' SLENDER MEANS.

There is no doubt that the Cork hospitals are in need of money. All of them are existing on very small incomes, and although they always have been able to provide first-class treatment for patients, their slender finances do not allow them to adopt many new improvements.

The Matron of the Cork Fever Hospital told me to-day that the hospital depended on grants from the Cork Corporation and the Cork County Council, but those grants were altogether too small to maintain the institution properly, or in the way that was desired. A large percentage of the poor of Cork were treated in the Fever Hospital, and thus it was all spending without any return, for they could not expect the very poor to contribute anything to their upkeep and treatment while in hospital.

MORE MONEY NECESSARY.

Owing to the prevalence of diphtheria and scarlatina during the past year the hospital had been very full, and all the financial resources had been exhausted, or nearly exhausted, in caring for the sick poor, leaving no money to be spent on extensions or improvements of any kind. The members of the staff of the hospital certainly were doing all in their power to relieve suffering, but owing to a lack of funds to tide them over a trying time they had run into debt, and, failing other means of finding money, the sweepstakes scheme was the only way out.

"We must get money somewhere, or I fear to think what may happen," she added.

WHY THE SCHEME WAS STARTED.

The reason for the starting of a separate sweepstake for Cork hospitals was given to me by Mr. Michael Daly, who is Treasurer to the Fever Hospital Committee. He pointed out that Cork hospitals were in dire need of funds, and, if they joined up in any Dublin scheme, they would be put in along with fourteen or sixteen Dublin hospitals and made to share the profits, which might be negligible from the point of view of the amount coming to each of the institutions. It was generally felt in Cork that it would work to the better advantage of the local institutions if a separate sweepstake scheme were formulated.

The committee in Dublin managing the sweep on the Manchester November Handicap had been approached to run a separate and distinct sweep for the Cork hospitals, but they refused to do so, making them an offer, however, to join with the Dublin hospitals in the next sweep promoted. Cork declined that offer, and, as the result of discussion and negotiations, this Cork sweep had been set on foot.

TWO HOSPITALS STANDING OUT.

So far the committees of management of the Mercy Hospital and the Victoria Hospital have not agreed to take part in any sweep for raising funds. It is suggested that they have an objection to raising money by means of gambling, and so are content to exist on the generosity of their subscribers.

Another reason which I have heard is that, as they do not provide the number of free beds requisite under the Hospital Charities Act, they are debarred from taking part.

THE WATERFORD INFIRMARY

TO PARTICIPATE IN A SWEEP.

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.
WATERFORD, Monday.

At the annual meeting of the Waterford County and City Infirmary to-day a discussion took place on the question of participation by the Committee of Management in a forthcoming hospitals' sweep.

say that he was prejudiced against gambling in any form apart from his clerical position. He thought that it would do no good to set an example like that on the part of the Committee, because, as everybody knew, there was a great deal of poverty in the town. That poverty, he believed, was due to the gambling spirit. Everybody that one came across had a stake on something or another—they put money on some horse which they knew nothing about. It was only by mere chance that one out of a thousand would win anything.

Gambling had got such a hold on people that they were wasting their substance on it. They might say that it was all very well for people who could afford it, but what about the unfortunate people who had very small incomes—practically nothing to subsist on—and who had scarcely enough to keep body and soul together? These were the people who, unfortunately, put their money on horses which they knew nothing about, and in most cases they lost their money. If the Committee of Management set an example by approving of participation in these sweepstakes, he thought it was simply gambling. If they gave their sanction to it, it would simply be an encouragement to people to continue wasting their money in this way.

THE BOY AND THE TICKET.

He encountered a little boy in the street some time ago. The little boy had a card in his hand and he asked him to mark it. He could not say why the boy should select him. It was a racing card, and the boy had sixpence, and he wanted him to mark the card for him. He, of course, did not do it, but he thought it such a pity to see a child of seven years of age beginning so early to waste his money on gambling and betting.

It might be said that these remarks had nothing to do with the resolution before the meeting. It might be said that whether they passed the resolution or not, it would not prevent people from betting. All the same, by so doing the Committee were setting an example, and they ought to be very careful before they took such a serious step.

Mr. D. O'Brien, President, Trades Council, said that he was sorry to see the worthy Dean take such a view of the matter. The question had already been discussed at a meeting of the subscribers and governors, who went fully into what he might term the conscientious objection to taking part in a sweep, and they came to the conclusion that when money like this was to be had they would be criminals if they did not take part in it.

After all, if the Committee of Management did not take part in the sweepstake, they would not hinder other people from taking part in it. In justice to the institution, he said that he believed they ought to do something to relieve the pressure on its funds. He did not think that they would be injuring their consciences by taking all the advantage that they could take of the sweepstakes for the benefit of the infirmary.

GAMBLING TO EXCESS.

Mr. A. J. Phelan, in giving his views on this question, said that they largely considered their own individual views and opinions. If they considered gambling morally wrong or considered it deleterious to engage in it in any shape or form, then people who held that position should vote against it. He personally, like most people, did not look upon gambling itself, but the excess of it, as deleterious, and the point of view he thought which should be considered was, will it benefit the infirmary? His individual feeling on the matter was that he did not look upon gambling as wrong of itself. He looked upon the question much in the same way as the question of drink. He could see no harm in a person putting a few shillings on a horse, nor could he see any harm in a person taking a bottle of stout or a glass of whiskey if he wanted to.

CHURCH BAZAARS.

Mr. John Kiersey, Chairman of the County Council, in formally seconding the proposal, said that he did not know what they would say in regard to bazaars or church fêtes, etc., where they threw the dice and hid the half sovereign, and so on. They might say, no doubt, that that was gambling also. He did not think that that was the right way to look at this matter.

He thought that it would be a big mistake if they did not try to get some of this money, the big bulk of which was subscribed by other countries.

Dean Mayers said that he agreed that people who could afford it were entitled to bet. His objection was to people who could not afford it, and who deprived their families of the necessaries of life. Such people were certainly acting very wrongly in betting and wasting their money. Mr. Kiersey and Mr. Phelan, he said, had practically said as much as he had himself said in that connection. Everybody could not win, and the majority and their families more or less suffered.

In regard to Mr. Kiersey's statement concerning church bazaars he said that he did not wish to make aspersions on any church, but in his church they did not advise such methods.

SWEEPSTAKES AND POVERTY.

The Rev. Father McCarthy, Adm., said that he fully agreed with Mr. Phelan's remarks. They did not object to betting in itself. It was excess in betting, as in everything else, to which objection should be taken. As regards their giving an example, he believed that the people themselves saw the great benefit that would accrue to the infirmary and the hospitals in general by participating in the sweepstake.

Regarding Dean Mayers's remark he said that they all knew there was a great deal of poverty in the town, but if the committee dropped this sweep, would that help such poverty in any way? If it did, he would agree with Dean Mayers, but from what they knew he was sure that they would agree that, if they stopped the hospital sweep, the poverty referred to by Dean Mayers would be in no way alleviated.

The Rev. Canon Norris questioned the legality of participating in a sweepstake, but was reassured on this point by Dr. J. J. Hogan.

The motion was passed, Dean Mayers and Canon Norris dissenting.

THE PRINCE OF WALES.

DURATION OF PARIS VISIT.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.

PARIS, Monday.

The Prince of Wales, it is understood, has made no definite arrangements for his departure to-morrow, and the impression is gathered here that he may remain in the French capital for another day. Up to the present the Prince's private aeroplane has not been returned to Le Bourget. At the aerodrome it is expected that the 'plane will arrive as soon as His Royal Highness decides to leave Paris. The belief that he has now changed his plans and will return to England instead of going to the Riviera is gaining ground here, but no official confirmation is forthcoming.

BIGAMY CHARGE AGAINST MAN OF SIXTY-FOUR.

James Driver, aged 64, of Sarah Ann street, Beswick, Manchester, was committed for trial at Manchester City Police Court yesterday on the charge of bigamy. It was alleged that Driver the day after he left his wife went through a form of marriage with a Miss Gertrude Roseblade at a register office in Manchester.

Miss Roseblade stated that he told her that he was a single man. He had courted her for two years.

Driver, it was stated in evidence, had five children; the oldest was 43 and the youngest 23.

THE NIEMEYER REPORT.

FORMER PREMIER'S ATTACK.

AUSTRALIA AND HER FINANCES.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.

SYDNEY, Monday.

A slashing attack on Sir Otto Niemeyer and his now famous report on the cause and cure of Australia's financial position was made to-day by Mr. Lang, former Premier of New South Wales and leader of the Labour Party in the State.

Mr. Lang said that Sir Otto had treated the statesmen like so many schoolboys, and had told them that, unless Australia reduced her tariffs and lowered her standard of living, London financial interests would take advantage of her temporary embarrassment to "squeeze her" on the London money markets.

Mr. Lang pointed out that Australia's granaries were bulging with unsold wheat, and her store-houses crammed with unsold wool, while there was a prospect of a record harvest for all primary products.

TWO MAIN FACTORS.

The two outstanding factors governing the position were the floating debt in London and the adverse trade balance. These were not new; for both had been operating for a decade. New features in the situation were, firstly, the high tariff imposed recently by the Scullin Government, which must result in a diminution of Australia's imports and a restoration of her credit in London within eighteen months; and, secondly, the action of the Loan Council, which, by forcing the provincial Governments into one pool for borrowing purposes, had given the financial interests in London as great control over Australian finances as before. In short, the Loan Council had given Sir Otto Niemeyer and his colleagues the opportunity they had long sought.

A WHEAT GUARANTEE.

Mr. Lang concluded his speech by promising that the Labour Government would promote closer settlement by breaking up large estates. In addition, they would guarantee to the wheat farmers a stable market for a number of years, would give more generous treatment to soldier settlers, would secure better conditions for coal miners, would resort to the 44-hour week, would restore widows' pensions and establish family endowment, would introduce regulations governing mortgage and interest charges, and would co-operate with other States for the abolition of State Governors. In short, they would aim at maintaining the standard of living, reducing unemployment, and developing the resources of New South Wales.

INTERVIEW WITH SIR OTTO NIEMEYER.

MINISTER'S STATEMENT DENIED.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.

CHRISTCHURCH, Monday.

When interviewed here to-day Sir Otto Niemeyer declined to discuss the statement of Mr. Arthur Blakeley, the Australian Minister for Home Affairs, that it was not at the invitation of the Commonwealth Government that he had gone to Australia.

Commenting on Mr. Blakeley's further statement, that the Bank of England had suggested to the Commonwealth Government that they should send a representative to Australia with a view to taking over the Australian Government's overdrafts at the Commonwealth Bank and at the Westminster Bank, Sir Otto said that the statement was incorrect, and that the Bank of England was not interested in such business.

MR. SCULLIN IN PARIS.

MINISTER'S STATEMENT ON TRADE.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.

PARIS, Monday.

Although Mr. Scullin stood the voyage from Australia very well, he is still far from strong, and after a drive round Paris this morning to see the city was obliged to rest this afternoon.

The visit of the Prime Minister and of Mr. Parker Moloney, the Minister of Markets and Transport, to Paris is purely private, its object being mainly to enable Mr. Scullin to accomplish his journey without unnecessary fatigue.

Mr. Parker Moloney, in an interview on his arrival in Paris, seized the opportunity of assuring the French people that, if Australia had been obliged to restrict her imports, such action was taken for the sole purpose of rectifying Australia's overseas exchange position, and it was hoped that as soon as the situation had improved such restrictions might be modified.

Mr. Parker Moloney made it very clear that no discrimination whatever against any country was intended. So far as France was concerned, he said the trade balance was distinctly in favour of Australia.

While expressing satisfaction at the prosperous trade which Australia had already built up with France, he hoped that it might be extended, and suggested tinned fruit as a commodity which might find a ready market in France. No less than 50 per cent. of Australian tinned fruits were available for export.

In preparation for the Imperial Conference Mr. Parker Moloney has devoted much time on the voyage to the study of such questions as the bulk purchase scheme, wool publicity and research, and matters connected with the Imperial Economic Committee and the Empire Marketing Board.

JACK DIAMOND ARRESTED.

"A SUSPICIOUS CHARACTER."

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.

PHILADELPHIA, Monday.

Jack, otherwise "Legs" Diamond, the "star" of New York's underworld, returned to his native shores to-day on board the freighter, Hanover, from Hamburg.

An army of reporters and motion-picture camera men assembled on the quay to meet him, but Diamond kept himself in the seclusion of his cabin.

Two Philadelphia detectives later boarded the vessel and escorted Diamond to the City Hall, for, as they said, "a talk and to see what it was all about."

THE ARREST.

A later Philadelphia message says:—Jack Diamond was placed under arrest here late to-day as a suspicious character.

The Hanover's officers declared that Diamond had told them that he attributed all his troubles in Europe to a campaign against him, run by a certain London newspaper, which, he says, hounded him from pillar to post until the German authorities finally ordered him out of the Fatherland.

AN ACRIMONIOUS DISCUSSION.

SIR ERIC DRUMMOND CRITICISED.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.

GENEVA, Monday Afternoon.

The Budget Committee of the League of Nations continued the discussion of the organisation of the League Secretariat this afternoon.

Most of the speakers were in favour of the majority report of the Committee of Thirteen, which recommended improving the position of the Secretariat staff by rendering it more stable, opening up prospects of promotion and guaranteeing pensions.

The Spanish member paid tribute to Madame Kluyver (Netherlands), Rapporteur of the Committee of Thirteen, and also to Lord Cecil, who, he said, was the "animator" of that committee.

SECRETARIAT AND BUDGET.

An altercation lasting several minutes, and giving rise to the display of a certain amount of acrimony, took place at the afternoon sitting of the Committee.

M. Hambro (Norway), supported by Signor Gallavrasi (Italy), strongly criticised the circular issued by Sir Eric Drummond forbidding members of the Secretariat to attend Budget discussions if by doing so they neglected their ordinary work. He moved the immediate withdrawal of the order.

Sir Eric Drummond protested, and declared emphatically that either he was responsible for the arrangements of the Secretariat or not. If not, then he would withdraw from his post.

After some further explanations by the Secretary-General regarding the object of the circular,

M. Hambro withdrew his motion, and the incident was declared closed by the Chair.

Not only Dr. Dalton, but also the general feeling of the Committee, was in favour of Sir Eric Drummond.

PREVENTION OF WAR.

THE COVENANT AND THE KELLOGG PACT.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.

GENEVA, Monday.

The First Committee to-day began the examination of the report of the Committee of Jurists on the thorny problem of reconciling certain articles of the League Covenant with the Kellogg Pact for the outlawing of war.

Viscount Ito (Japan) doubted the desirability of amending the Covenant, in view of the differences of opinion found among the Committee of Jurists.

M. Under (Sweden), who is a member of the Committee, declared that his Government was prepared to accept the general principle the Covenant of provisions prohibiting war as an instrument of national policy, but without increasing the sanctions contained in Article 16 of the Covenant.

LEAGUE COUNCIL'S POWER.

During the discussions in the Third Committee to-day regarding the draft model Treaty to strengthen the means of preventing war, Viscount Cecil declared that, in their anxiety to see the Convention accepted, the British Government had gone a long way to meet the views of other countries. Britain was prepared to accept the general principle that, in the case of war or threat of war, the League Council might direct the withdrawal of the invading troops behind a line to be fixed by the Council.

WRAPPED CHEESE DANGER.

CONTAMINATION BY TINFOIL.

In 1929 133,584 samples of food and drugs were analysed in England and Wales, and 7,260, or 5.4 per cent., were adulterated or not up to standard, states the annual report of the British Ministry of Health, issued yesterday. The percentage was a slight reduction on the 1928 figure, which was 5.8 per cent.

Of the 230 samples of non-alcoholic wines analysed, eight were not genuine. One was a solution of sugar and water, acidified and coloured with aniline dye. A "pure coffee" sample contained 65 per cent. of chicory.

There is a warning note as to the presence of tin in several samples of wrapped cheese. The analyst states that the cheese was found to be "highly contaminated by the tinfoil in which it was wrapped, and, no doubt, the person who lodged the complaint to the effect that he had been made ill as a consequence of eating the article was fully justified in doing so.

"As a result of this disclosure several more samples of wrapped cheese of varying brands were purchased and submitted for analysis, and in no single case were they found to be free from contamination by tin. It seems, therefore, that the practice of wrapping these cheeses in tinfoil—although very convenient for the use of the public—constitutes a potential danger, especially to those individuals who are susceptible to irritant poisons, and manufacturers would be well-advised to prevent the actual contact between the cheese and foil by grease-proof paper or other practical means."

SHIPLEY BY-ELECTION.

LIBERALS SELECT THEIR CANDIDATE.

Mr. Arthur Davy was chosen last night as the prospective Liberal candidate to contest the by-election in the Shipley Division of Yorkshire, necessitated by the death of Mr. William Mackinder, who held the seat for Labour from December, 1923.

The Conservatives are the only party who yet have to select a candidate.

There are already in the field Alderman W. A. Robinson (Labour) and Mr. William Gallagher (Communist).

Mr. Arthur Davy is head of the firm of Arthur Davy, Limited, export merchants, of Bradford, and resides at Bradford. He stood as Liberal candidate for the Shipley Division in 1922.

The figures at the general election in 1929 were:—

W. Mackinder (Lab.)	18,654
Sir Robert Clough (Con.) ...	13,693
F. W. Hirst (Lib.)	11,712
Labour majority	4,961

HEALTH OF A NATION.

BRITISH MINISTRY'S ANNUAL REPORT.

The British Ministry of Health's annual report for the year, issued yesterday, states that the loans sanctioned in 1929-30 for public parks and playing fields amounted to £1,810,865, or £94,864 more than for 1928-29.

Scarlet fever cases in 1929 were 18,000 in excess of the number in 1928. The death-rate was slightly higher. The progressive increase in notifications of diphtheria since 1924 was maintained. Smallpox figures were down, there being 10,957 cases notified, as against 12,420 in the previous year.

Infantile mortality (under one year) was higher, being 74 per thousand deaths, as against 65 in 1928 and 70 in 1927.

The houses completed in England and Wales in 1929-30, excluding those built for rehousing purposes in connection with slum clearance, was 202,060.

ATLANTIC FLEET AT DRILL.

WARFARE TO BEGIN TO-DAY.

FINAL STAGE OF THE MANŒUVRES.

FROM PRESS ASSOCIATION SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT ON BOARD H.M.S. WARSPITE.

INVERGORDON, Monday.

To-day was the last day in harbour for the Atlantic Fleet before putting to sea to-morrow for the theoretic warfare in the last part of the autumn exercises. This morning the Fleet had a foretaste of how brisk its work in the next few days is likely to be, and everybody seemed to find the foretaste appetising.

This appetite was a specially brisk general drill. Warspite's eleven hundred people had a hectic time, and at "stand-easy" no more cheerful body of men could have been found afloat or ashore. The morning's serve out of general drill was a mixed grill and was enlivened by competition. Ships were given orders simultaneously and they were carried out in rivalry of speed. Had all these ships been in suitable line the Commander-in-Chief might have set all the ships competing.

SECRET ORDERS.

As it was, the game was in each division. Warspite, the flagship, competed with Barham and Malaya, which were nearer Invergordon. A warship's general drill is always a surprise packet. The orders chosen are secret until actually given.

Warspite thus took them when the signals fluttered up from her own flat deck. "Hoist out pinnace by hand" was Rear-Admiral C. J. C. Little's first requirement. Quick and well-trained muscles rigged the jiggers and set the pinnace afloat in an astonishingly short time.

"Prepare to be towed forward" came next, an intricate business, as viewed by a landsman from the flag deck, complicated, but useful, as Lion found after Jutland. Hard on the heels of the towage order came "Rig a hand capstan."

THE BAND JOINS IN.

With its spectacle of man power along the steel cable there were no shanties. The marine band went at it like men inspired, and all along the line legs were pulled, as well as the cable. Malaya did so smartly in this exercise of hand capstan rigging that the Rear-Admiral signalled to her: "Evolution well executed."

"Take kedge anchor to next ship ahead," was the next order. The flood tide made this a work of grit. Warspite's boat caught a particular "rip" in the current, and, with the kedge anchor carried astern, could only hold the position with oars bending. A cutter was got away to assist.

"All pulling boats pull round the division leading ships on port hand," said the flags. The three battleships shed gigs, cutters and pinnaces, and they came stringing along in fine fashion.

A MANLY RACE.

Seen in the sunlight, it was a manly race, and the excited screaming of the seagulls did a good turn to those to whom cheering was impossible.

"Send demolition party" was an unusual item, and brought into being in each ship a body of men equipped to go ashore with a complete outfit of gear to blow up or pull down.

The order was given: "Prepare one marine platoon for landing." This meant service rig in fighting order.

As each ship completed each order by a specified act she signalled, and by a stop-watch on the flagship instant note was made of the results of the day.

Warspite won two of the events. The seaplanes carried by the new cruisers, York and Norfolk, apparently entered into the general drill.

If the present weather holds, the programme of exercises at sea will be accomplished in full. Choppiness would interfere with the moving of targets.

EX-SERVICE MAN'S COTTAGE.

PORTADOWN CASE DISMISSED.

At Portadown Petty Sessions yesterday, before Mr. George McElroy, R.M., and other Justices, the Irish Sailors' and Soldiers' Land Trust had a summons against Joseph Weir, an ex-soldier, for possession of a cottage occupied by him at Alexandra Gardens.

Mr. E. C. Doogan (Messrs. E. D. Atkinson and Son) appeared for the complainants; and Mr. John Gallery (Lurgan) for the defendant.

Mr. Doogan said that the rent was 6s. 8d. a week, and there were four weeks due.

Mr. Gallery said that the last payment was made on August 18th.

Mr. McElroy observed that ejectments were not usually brought within three or four weeks.

Mr. Gallery—The summons states that this man is being evicted for non-payment of rent. Since August 18th I have offered the rent and I have the amount here now.

Mr. McElroy—What are you putting this man out for?

Mr. Doogan—We are just putting him out, and there is no necessity to state any reason.

Mr. McElroy—Well, you will have to state a reason here.

Mr. Doogan—It is not necessary under the agreement.

Mr. Gallery—They did not talk that way in 1914 and 1918. My client has a wife and a family of six children.

Mr. McElroy—It is admitted that he is a paying tenant, and I think they have very few of them.

Mr. Gallery—They have another house lying vacant for seven or eight months.

MAGISTRATE'S REMARKS.

Mr. McElroy—These houses do not seem to be of any benefit to the ex-soldiers, who are the last people thought of. Although the Imperial Government gave one million pounds for the erection of these houses, they go and put a rack rent on the ex-soldiers. Why are you putting this man out?

Mr. Doogan—They are not inclined to state the reason.

Mr. Gallery—They are afraid to state the reason in Court.

Mr. McElroy—I think they ought to be glad to have a paying tenant. Very few of these ex-soldiers are able to pay, and there are some who should not be asked to pay. Here they are asked to pay a rent of 6s. 8d., whereas the County Council can build houses to let at 3s. and 4s. a week. We must have a reason for ejecting this man.

Mr. Doogan—The Trust has power to put this man out without giving any reason.

Mr. McElroy—By the powers they have, they can put a million pounds in their pocket without any consideration for the ex-soldiers.

Mr. White, agent for the Trust, proved service of the notice to quit and the demand for possession.

Mr. Gallery—The week following the last payment did you call for the rent?—No.

CASE DISMISSED.

Mr. McElroy said that the rent must be forty days in arrears, and only four days' rent was due when the notice to quit was served. The complainants have given no reason why they wanted to evict the defendant, who was a respectable man, an ex-soldier, and entitled to a house. The magistrates were very glad to dismiss this case on the merits, and give as their reason that a summons for non-payment of rent did not lie.

"The proceedure of this Trust," he said, "is the most peculiar I have come across. They seem to have no consideration for the ex-soldiers, and they act arbitrarily without giving any reason for anything. As long as I come here I will not give decrees against ex-soldiers without some reason. They can go to some other Court if they want to."

THE FLIGHT TO AUSTRALIA.

CAPTAIN MATTHEWS MAKES GOOD TIME.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.

KARACHI, Monday.

Captain Matthews, the English airman, who is attempting to beat Hinkler's "record" flight to Australia, arrived here at 7 o'clock this evening in his Puss Moth 'plane.

He is now ahead of the time taken by Mr. Hinkler for this stage of the flight.

ENGLISH PILOT IN AN ACCIDENT.

A LUCKY ESCAPE.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.

HAZEBROUCK, Monday.

Mr. James Grey, of London, came uninjured out of an accident when his machine turned over in landing at St. Eloi, near here.

Mr. Grey was piloting the machine, a three-seater biplane, belonging to Mr. Leslie Watt, of Ford, Sussex, from Paris to Brussels, when he had to come down in a field.

The aeroplane turned completely over, its propeller being broken.

NORWAY TO SCOTLAND

MASTER OF SEMPILL'S FLIGHT.

Colonel the Master of Sempill left Stavanger, in Norway, at noon yesterday in a Puss Moth seaplane, and landed safely at Aberdeen Harbour shortly before 4 o'clock. This is the first flight in a single-engine machine from Norway to Scotland, a distance of about 350 miles.

He stated that he had an uneventful flight, although the winds during a part of the journey were adverse.

He added that he had travelled direct for Cruden Bay, the point on the Aberdeenshire coast from which Major Grant, the Norwegian flier, left on his flight to Norway fifteen years ago.

"Major Grant's flight," said the Master of Sempill, "was a magnificent performance, in view of the fact that one would not think nowadays of flying across the Firth of Forth in the machine which he used."

O'CONNELL BRIDGE CONGESTION.

WORK BEGUN ON TRAMWAY TRACK.

Preparations for the work of removing the existing double sets of tramway lines from either side of O'Connell Bridge, Dublin, and replacing them by single lines, to be laid within three feet of "the island" at either side, were begun yesterday morning

The altered track will afford a great easement in the traffic flow over this very congested part of the city. All tramcars coming from the south side will be confined to a single line running over the bridge in the direction of Sackville street, while those going from the north side to the south will proceed by the single line laid at the eastern side of the bridge.

The change will give a forty-foot roadway to all traffic passing from the Westmoreland street side to the Sackville street end of the bridge, while a fifty-foot roadway will be available for horse and motor traffic coming from the northern to the southern side of the bridge.

The work at the eastern side of the bridge will be completed first, so that that side of the bridge will be available to traffic when Butt Bridge is closed for reconstruction purposes.

The work on Butt Bridge will take about two years to complete. It is intended to widen the bridge to take four lines of traffic, instead of the present two lines, and when both these schemes are completed it is expected that much of the costly congestion of transport which takes place in the city at present will be removed.

CHAUFFEUR DIES WHILE DRIVING CAR.

REMARKABLE CASE AT HASTINGS.

The remarkable fact that a chauffeur was dead when an accident occurred to the car in which he was driving was revealed at an inquest at Hastings last night. The chauffeur was Bert Edward Foster (55), employed by the Rev. Mr. Spencer Aldridge, of Hurst Dene, St. Helens, near Hastings, who, along with his wife, was in the car when the accident occurred. The widow said that her husband had never complained of heart trouble.

Thomas Harmer, night porter at a hotel, said that Foster came to get the car from the garage, and fell down, but got up again, and said: "Its only a little heart attack."

The House Surgeon at the Royal East Sussex Hospital said that Foster was dead on admission. He had scalp wounds, but these were not sufficient to cause death. The cause was, in fact, syncope, due to valvular disease of the heart. The man's heart, he added, was in a very bad state, and his opinion was that either the man was dead before the accident or at the time it occurred. The state of the heart was such that he might have dropped dead at any moment.

A verdict of death from natural causes was returned.

U.S. MARKETS.

STOCKS CLOSE WEAK.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAMS.)

NEW YORK, Monday.

An easy tendency prevailed at the opening of to-day's Stock Markets. Week-end business surveys provided little enlightenment, and, with commission houses advising caution, offerings from professional shorts, together with some liquidation of pool holdings, resulted in a decline. Many important issues lost from 2 to 5 points, with International Telephone, United Fruit, Republic Iron and Steel, and St. Louis South-Western touching new low levels for the year. Unsettlement on the wheat market, coupled with weakness of prices on some large European exchanges, also were unfavourable factors. Rallying tendencies followed the publication of a statement by Mr. Lamont, Secretary for Commerce, that Government indices on business showed some distinctly encouraging features, including an advance in August exports, while preliminary figures on retail trade indicated a gain larger than usual at this season. The market later was subjected to renewed selling, and the closing was weak. United States Steel, American Telephone and Telegraph, Johns Manville, North American, American Power and Light, Dupont, International Telephone, Columbia Carbon, American Can, Westinghouse Electric, and International Harvester declined from 3 to 4 points; and Case Threshing Machine, Allied Chemical, and People's Gas lost from 8 to 12 points. Government Bonds steady; Railroad Bonds firm. The day's sales totalled 2,327,000 shares.

Money on call closed steady at 2 per cent. bid and 2¼ per cent. asked. All business during the day was concluded at 2 per cent. Sterling exchange easier. Silver ¼c. up at 36¼.

AIR ACCIDENT AND LOW FLYING.

STATEMENT MADE TO CORONER.

The inquest on Edouard Sobry (27) and Fernard Cooremans (25), the pilot and mechanic of the Belgian air liner which crashed near Croydon Aerodrome and caught fire on September 11, was resumed at Bandon Hill Cemetery yesterday.

The aeroplane, which was carrying mails, belonged to the Belgian Air Lines S.A.B.E.N.A., and had just left Croydon with the night mails.

The Reigate Coroner (Mr. F. J. Nightingale), adjourning the inquest a week ago said that possibly Major Cooper, of the Air Ministry, might be able to give some explanation which would elucidate the matter.

Mr. Reginald Barnard, of Buckingham Way, Wallington, asked the Coroner's permission to make a statement concerning low flying. He said that he had formed the opinion that a connection could be established between the practice of leaving the aerodrome at low altitude and the accident. On more than one occasion he had been violently disturbed from sleep by an aeroplane passing overhead.

"DANGEROUS ALTITUDE."

"My contention is," he added, "that they left the aerodrome at a dangerous altitude. On this particular occasion it led directly to this accident."

Major Cooper, of the Air Ministry, said the Ministry authorised him to say that they were prepared to take action in any case of low flying brought to their notice, and, if necessary, to take the matter further.

"I personally," added Major Cooper, "am of the opinion that unnecessarily low flying is not practised around the aerodrome."

A witness of the accident said that when the 'plane crashed flames shot into the air and lighted the whole neighbourhood.

Major Cooper said that wreckage was scattered over the ground for a distance of 135 yards. He concluded that the machine struck the ground while making a sharp turn. There was a thick mist.

The jury returned a verdict of accidental death, and added that there was no evidence to show the cause of death.

THE LUCAN TRAMWAY ACCIDENT.

DEATH OF ONE OF THE INJURED WOMEN.

Miss Mary McMahon, aged 27, of Kickham road, Inchicore, Dublin, who was injured in a tramcar accident at Conyngham road on Sunday night, died yesterday morning in Steevens's Hospital, Dublin.

Miss Dunne (27), of 10 West terrace, Inchicore, Dublin, who was injured at the same time, is still in a critical condition in Steevens's Hospital.

MOTOR ACCIDENT AT RATHCOOLE.

TWO BROTHERS INJURED.

Thomas Clancy, of Swanville place, Rathmines, Dublin, and Philip Clancy, Milltown terrace, Dundrum, Co. Dublin (brothers), were seriously injured when the motor car in which they were travelling ran into a stationary lorry near Rathcoole, Co. Dublin, on Sunday morning.

Thomas Grazier, the lorry driver, was attending to the lights at the front of his lorry when he heard a thud, and the lorry jumped forward. On going to the back he found Thomas and Philip Clancy in a two-seater car which had run into his lorry.

The men appeared to be badly injured, and he brought them to Steevens's Hospital, Dublin, where their condition was regarded as serious.

Late last night it was learned that they are making satisfactory progress.

POLITICAL MURDER SEQUEL.

SEVENTEEN COMMUNISTS ON TRIAL IN BERLIN.

BERLIN, Monday.

The trial began in the Berlin Court to-day of seventeen men and women, mostly Communists, who are implicated in the murder of the student Wessel, one of the leaders of the National Socialist "Storm Troops."

Wessel, who was detested by the Communists, refused to quit the furnished room which he rented from a widow, Frau Salm, who objected to her house being used for political meetings. She appealed for help to some friends, and one of them, named Hoehler, recognising Wessel, is alleged to have shot him.

The Communist Party first helped Hoehler to get out of the country, but when he returned, the money promised him by the Communists not being forthcoming, they disclaimed all connection with him.

The trial is expected to last several days.

How Lovely Teeth are best protected

Remove FILM daily. Try this special way

HERE is a way to combat film . . . to give to teeth brilliant whiteness.

Run your tongue across your teeth, you feel a slippery film. It clings to teeth, gets into crevices. Stains from food and smoking lodge in film and make teeth dingy.

Based on scientific study, a special dentifrice, Pepsodent, has been compounded. It removes film in gentle safety.

Your dentist will tell you that when Pepsodent removes film it plays an important part in tooth protection.

Use Pepsodent twice daily. See your dentist at least twice a year. That is the surest way to lovely, healthy teeth.

Send a postcard for free 10-day tube to The Pepsodent Co., Dept. 231, 8, India St., London, E.C.3.

WIRELESS IN THE FAR NORTH.

CANADIAN ARCTIC SCHEME.

Two new avenues of communication with the Far North have been completed with the installations of wireless stations at Coppermine, on Coronation Gulf, and at Chesterfield Inlet, on the north-western shore of Hudson's Bay.

With the completion of the new stations, Reuter's Ottawa Correspondent adds, there is an inter-connecting wireless chain around the Canadian mainland, from the Mackenzie River, in the Arctic, to Port Arthur, on Lake Superior, running via Coppermine to the Hudson's Straits Division, thence down the East coast of Labrador to the Atlantic Division, and then joining the St. Lawrence chain and the Great Lakes system.

The transportation of the construction crew to Coppermine was effected by aeroplane. Their equipment had been taken North from Vancouver through Behring Strait. Earlier in the year men and material for the station at Churchill were carried by a steamer, which sailed round Labrador and through Hudson's Bay.

WESTMEATH FARMERS AT ALBERT COLLEGE.

VISIT OF INSTRUCTION AND INSPECTION.

A party of farmers from County Westmeath, led by Mr. P. Moore, County Instructor for Agriculture, and Mr. J. Young, Horticultural Instructor, visited the Albert Agricultural College, Glasnevin, yesterday, where they were received by the Director of the College, Professor Drew, who welcomed them on behalf of the authorities of University College, Dublin.

He then took them over the herds of dairy cows, where great interest was taken in the high milk yields and in the general dual purpose character of the animals. He afterwards escorted them over the farm buildings. The visitors were very much impressed by all they saw.

During the visit lectures were delivered by Mr R. McKay, plant diseases; Mr. G. Sherrard, horticulture; Mr. M. Caffrey, plant breeding; Mr. M. J. Gorman, forage crops; Mr. E. J. Sheehy, animal nutrition; Mr. F. O'Connell, dairy cattle and milking machines, and Mr. J. Carroll, insect pests.

The party had tea with Professor Drew.

GOSSIP FROM THE COURSE

A LOST DAY.

BRIGHTON IN A MIST.

EMPIRE BUILDER WINS AT LEICESTER.

FROM OUR TRAVELLING CORRESPONDENT.

BRIGHTON, Monday Night.

I made an unfortunate dip in the "lucky" bag when electing to come here to-day, instead of going to Leicester, where I see that Empire Builder justified some of what I wrote about him last night by winning the Oadby Breeders' Plate. Alcester (another Cambridgeshire candidate) finished third, the three-year-old filly, Termite, separating the two.

One who was at the Midland meeting tells me that Termite soon slipped into the lead and swung into the straight fully ten lengths clear. She weakened up the hill, and Empire Builder and Alcester began to narrow the margin. The former of the pair got the better of it, and drawing away a furlong out got to grips with Termite, and beat her by a head in a rousing finish, Alcester being a length and a half further off. It was an interesting and spectacular race, and went to the best horse. The race was run in a heavy shower.

TWENTY YARDS AHEAD.

At mid-day here there was a thick mist on the course, and, instead of lifting, it grew steadily thicker and thicker. When it was decided at half-past two that it was impossible to race one could not see twenty yards ahead.

This is a very unusual occurrence at this time of the year. We expect it at Manchester and other Midland and Northern meetings in November, but not on the South Coast in September.

SELECTIONS.

Three races out of to-day's programme, including the Brighton Cup, will precede the regular programme arranged for to-morrow. Lady Angela, whom I selected to win the Cup, does not appear to have come here, so in her absence I will take JOHN SILVER.

The Hove Nursery may be won by CLOVE HITCH; BLUE DRIFT is likely to be a well-fancied candidate for the Palace Handicap, and may win; while ORANGE TIP should win the Preston Park Handicap.

At Leicester the Leicestershire Handicap should be won by FLUTE, the Kegworth Nursery by BAWBEE, and the Loughborough Plate by ASPIRATION.

GALTEE MORE.

SPORTING GOSSIP

No Flooding at Limerick.

Mr. J. Cahill, Clerk of the Course of Limerick meeting, informs us that conditions are normal at the Greenpark course, and that there is no indication of flooding.

Caerleon Back in Training.

Lord Derby's Caerleon, who has been out of training, has rejoined Frank Butters' team at Stanley House, but up to the present has done only walking exercise.

Brighton Tote Double.

The races selected at Brighton for the daily totalisator double to-day are the Brighton Autumn Cup and the Hove Nursery.

Mr. J. B. Joel May Reduce Turf Interests.

Mr. J. B. Joel informs the Press Association that, while he has no intention of retiring from racing or of giving up breeding, he has seriously considered a reduction of his interests.

Cesarewitch Betting at Brighton.

At Brighton yesterday 2,000 to 120 against Brown Jack was taken on the Cesarewitch.

Came Under Starter's Orders.

Before the start for the Maiden Plate at Leicester yesterday Bay Lady colt slipped up and dislodged J. Childs and galloped away riderless. The starter sent the others off without him, but he was under orders. Alalcona refused to start and was left there.

Leicester Tote—"Daily Double."

Backers of either Last of the Estelles or Story Teller at Leicester yesterday received 22 18s. 2d. to 10s., as no one backed the two winners in a combination.

Brighton Racing Postponed.

Racing was found to be impracticable at Brighton yesterday afternoon, owing to a heavy sea fret and bad visibility. The Stewards, after arriving at their decision, postponed three of the day's events—namely, the Aquarium Selling Handicap, Brighton Autumn Cup and Beach Maiden Plate, until to-day, and abandoned the Kemp Town Selling Plate, the Newhaven Nursery, and the Black Rock Plate.

BRIGHTON TO-DAY:

NINE RACES ON CARD.

JOHN SILVER FOR THE CUP.

The rearrangement of the Brighton programme in consequence of the postponement yesterday brings nine races on to-day's card. The Palace Handicap is one of the most open races, and the betting should take a wide range. Ann Bridget and Tyltyl are not without obvious chances, but the one for which I have most liking is Blue Drift, a filly who won the Egerton Handicap at Manchester last time out.

Clove Hitch, a good winner at Lewes a month ago, is fancied to carry top weight successfully in the Hove Nursery, and John Silver is my choice for the Autumn Cup.

Aquarium Handicap—Smile.
Beach Maiden Plate—Puttalong.
Autumn Cup—John Silver.
Pier Selling Welter—Phantasia.
Hassocks Selling Nursery—Tiggol.
Palace Handicap—Blue Drift.
Hove Nursery—Clove Hitch (nap).
Preston Park Welter—Denison.
South Coast Plate—Tetragem.

PROBABLE STARTERS AND BETTING.

Eclipse.

MRS. CHESTER BEATTY'S HORSES.

It is stated that Mrs. Chester Beatty, the well-known American lady, intends to race on a much larger scale in Egypt than hitherto. R. Fergusson will be her trainer and W. Lister her jockey. It is probable that her racing activities in England will, in consequence, be curtailed. Her horses here are trained at Newmarket by Tom Leader and Ted Leader, the last-named having charge of the jumpers.

Mrs. Chester Beatty has spent money freely in the purchase of bloodstock, and during the last few years has been steadily building up her stud at Charing, in Kent. Last year she paid the large sum of 11,000 guineas for a yearling from the National stud, a brown filly by Tetratema, out of Dolabella, which has not yet run.

Her success in England has not been commensurate with her big outlay on the sport, her best-known runners on the flat being Great Scot and Pegasus. In Egypt last season she headed the list of winning owners.

CURRAGH TRAINING NOTES.

THE CURRAGH, Monday.

A very wet morning, and there was nothing doing of a noteworthy character up to a late hour.

BEHAN'S Happy Prince, Bwana, Wounded Prince, Swinburne, and the rest of the team, had healthy exercise.

BRABAZON'S Cloverdale, Carey Dennis, Chelsea, and others, cantered steadily five furlongs.

DAWSON'S Prudent Ross, Jurat, Flashing Dawn, Helicon, and others of the team, were usefully employed over five furlongs.

DOYLE'S Kildare's Pride, Battle Bridge, Some Gift, and the remainder of the horses, had good bouts of healthy exercise.

FETHERSTONHAUGH'S Silver Threads, Copper Court, Captol, Prince Pat, Silver Pheasant, and others, were usefully employed.

HARTIGAN'S Ananias, Some Power, Hakeen, and a few others of the team, exercised on the roads.

HUNTER'S Stormproof, Overall, and the rest of the team, walked and trotted on the roads.

PARKINSON'S Little Blackbird, Nugget Lady, Rathcannon, Irish Piper, Sabre, and others, were usefully employed.

The two-year-old Ballyspellin, bay filly by Achtoi—Avril, has left the Mountjoy Lodge stables for her owner's place.

LAWN TENNIS.

PROVINCIAL TOWNS LEAGUE SEMI-FINAL.

The semi-final of the Provincial Towns' League was played on Saturday at the Anglesea Club between Carlow and Skerries. The match was played in very unfavourable conditions, heavy rain falling all the time, and two of the courts were partially under water. The Skerries Club adapted themselves to the conditions better than their opponents, and won the match by five matches to none. Three matches were abandoned. Details:—

MEN'S DOUBLES.

P. J. O'Brien and J. Robbins (S.) beat P. B. Tynan and J. Conway (C.)—7-5, 7-5.

R. Hogan and F. Healy (S.) beat W. Smith and R. Canthou (C.)—6-4, 9-7.

LADIES' DOUBLES.

Miss Evans and Miss Maxwell (S.) beat Mrs. Good and Mrs. Smith (C.)—6-2, 6-2.

Miss McAuley and Miss Fulton (S.) beat the Misses G. and E. Carty (C.)—7-5, 14-12.

MIXED DOUBLES.

R. Hogan and Miss Evans (S.) beat W. Smith and Mrs. Good (C.)—6-3, 6-4.

Skerries Club now meet Navan in the final at Dundalk on Saturday.

PROFESSIONAL DOUBLES FINAL.

FOREST HILLS, Monday.

Vincent Richards and Howard Kinsey defeated Kozeluh and Romen Najuch in the final of the American Professional Lawn Tennis Doubles Championship—6-2, 15-13, 7-5.

SWIMMING.

WESLEY COLLEGE GALA.

What promises to be one of the most attractive galas of the season will be held by Wesley College S.C. in the Iveagh Baths on Friday 3rd October, at 7 p.m. In addition to the usual club events, there will be several interesting items, including the 100 Yards Back-stroke Championship of Ireland, and the Irish Water Polo Cup-tie between Sandycove and the winners of Dublin University and Pembroke. The programme also includes an open 88 yards handicap, and a handicap diving competition (open to Leinster schoolboys). Entries for the latter events, accompanied by the entrance fee, should be sent to Mr. A. J. Cullen, 112a North Strand road, before the 26th inst. Entries for the 50 Yards Old Boys' Handicap (Seale Cup) will be taken on the night of the gala.

LEICESTER TO-DAY:

FLUTE FANCIED FOR THE HANDICAP.

The Leicestershire Handicap is the principal item at the Oadby Racecourse to-day, and it should be an attractive betting medium, as several of the probables are reported to be fancied by their connections. Duchess of Mars was an easy winner at Brighton a month ago, but she appears to have her full share of weight, and a much better chance appears to be the one held by Flute, who is showing a return to her spring form. She was successful in the Tadcaster Stakes at York in May and the Coleford Handicap at Chepstow in June, and if reproducing that form she should win this afternoon.

The Kegworth Nursery is an open sprint affair, and the pick at the weights appear to be Misty Cloud, Happy Scot, Vincent and Fairy Friend. The first-named won the Wigston Plate on this course in July, and should do well again, while Happy Scot is penalised only 7lb. for his runaway Birmingham victory. Fairy Friend has not yet caught the judge's eye, but is certainly not overweighted, and may spring a surprise. My preference is for Happy Scot.

The Loughborough High-Weight Handicap concerns, among others, Peradventure, Aspiration, Marble and Valediction. The last named ran a good race when second to Soranette at Birmingham, and he is preferred to Aspiration, in spite of the fact that the latter went very well in a gallop on Sunday. Marble has been placed in his last five races, and presents danger to the best of the opposition, but Valediction appears to be the safest selection.

JONES' GREAT START.

ON THE WAY TO HIS FOURTH TITLE.

ONE UNDER PAR.

ARDMORE, PA., Monday.

"Bobby" Jones to-day began his "attack" on the fourth premier golf title of the world in a manner which presages the realisation of his ambition. Holder of the British Open and Amateur and American Open titles, Jones needs to secure the American Amateur Championship to achieve a record unparalleled in golf.

In the first round of the qualifying test of 36 holes on the Merion Country Club course, here he had a brilliant score of 69—one below par.

Among the 170 competitors who will play for the thirty-two places in the match stages of the championship are six English golfers, Cyril Tolley and T. H. Perkins two former British champions,

R. T. ("BOBBY") JONES.

the latter of whom is entered from the Fox Hills Club, New York; T. A. Bourn, Brig.-General A. C. Critchley, Captain J. R. A. Stroyan and Edward R. Tipple, the twenty-one years old player of Langley Park.

BRILLIANT GOLF.

Jones played the eighteen holes easily, having all his shots well under control, and, evidently satisfied, took no chances. He was level par for each of the first nine holes, missing several "birdies" by inches. The champion was in fine form on the homeward journey, and experienced trouble at only four holes. Twice he was in traps and twice in the rough, but recovered sensationally. He was over par at only one hole—the eleventh—where his drive went into deep rough and he failed to reach the green with his second. As against this, however, he had "birdies" at the tenth and thirteenth, holing putts of twenty-four and twelve feet respectively. On five other greens, "calamity Jane," Jones's famous putter, just lipped the cup with long putts.

The par figures for the course are:—

Out... 4 5 3 5 4 4 4 4 3—36

TOLLEY DISAPPOINTS.

The soft turf and water hazards and traps and the opportunities of out-of-bounds took severe toll of the country's leading amateurs, and scores in the eighties were posted by the dozen.

Cyril Tolley disappointed his admirers with a wild streak, taking 43 out and 39 in to total 82. He left himself only the slimmest chance of qualifying. Bourn, another of the English competitors, did badly with 87—45 out and 42 in, but Perkins somewhat retrieved matters for Britain with a fine score of 74.

The eight players who will be "seeded" in the match stages of the championship are:—R. T. Jones, junior; Harrison H. Johnston, George J. Voigt, George Von Elm, Dr. O. F. Willing, John Goodman, Francis Ouimet, Cyril J. H. Tolley, Donald K. Moe and Jesse W. Sweetser.

In the event of vacancies selections will be made by lot from the following:—Frank Dolp, G. R. Dunlap, junior; H. Chandler Egan, Eugene Homans, John Lehman, Maurice J. McCarthy, junior; Roland Mackenzie, Max R. Marston, T. P. Perkins and C. Ross Somerville.

RUGBY FOOTBALL.

THE GAME IN CANADA.

THE BRITISH CODE SPREADING.

OVER 200 CLUBS.

At the second annual meeting of the Rugby Union of Canada, says a Toronto correspondent, the President, Mr. J. Fyfe Smith, outlined the progress of British Rugby football in Canada. There are more than 200 clubs now actively operating and deeply interested in the sport in the Dominion. British Columbia possesses more than half of these, the maritime provinces about 60, Manitoba 35, and Alberta 8. Two years ago Ontario was represented by only two teams, but the number has now been increased to 10. The young British sportsmen who have been so enthusiastically engaged in stimulating an interest in the game deserve a great deal of credit for the signal success that has attended their efforts.

THE NATIVE GAME.

Rugby football has been for many years a very popular sport in Canada, but, although founded on British "Rugger," it has developed features of its own and borrowed others from the Americans, until it has become in many respects a different game. In many ways, too, it differs markedly from United States Rugby. "Interference," for instance, which is such an important feature of American matches, is forbidden by the Canadian rules. The Canadian game also does not adapt itself so readily to the machine-like tactics used on American college fields.

It is not at all certain, of course, that British "Rugger" will displace the Canadian game in Canada. At the same time the open play is a decided point in its favour, and it is undoubtedly rapidly increasing in popularity, not only in the Eastern and Western provinces of Canada, but also, though to a less marked degree, in the stronghold of Canadian Rugby, the province of Ontario.

TOURISTS RUN RIOT.

HUGE SCORE IN THE FINAL MATCH.

PERTH, Monday.

The British Rugby tourists ran riot against Western Australia to-day in the last match of their Australian tour, scoring no fewer than 73 points to 3. The British team, for whom Ivor Jones, R. S. Spong, and T. E. Jones Davies were outstanding, treated the large crowd to a fine exhibition of Rugby. Though they played pluckily, the locals were completely outclassed by the speed and clever passing movements of the Britishers. Carpenter, who secured his side's only points from a magnificent penalty goal from the half-way line, and Sinclair were the best of the Australians.

The British team sails for home to-day in the s.s. Otranto.

DUBLIN UNIVERSITY R.F.C.

The annual general meeting of the Dublin University R.F.C. will be held in the pavilion, College Park, to-morrow, at 4.0.

CLONTARF R.F.C. ANNUAL MEETING.

The annual general meeting of the Clontarf Club was held on Friday last in the pavilion, Castle avenue, Mr. E. H. Taylor (past president) occupied the chair. A report was submitted by the hon. secretary on the working of the club for the past season and adopted. The hon. treasurer's statement of accounts and balance sheet showed the club to be in a sound financial position, there being a credit balance on the season.

The following officers were elected for the season 1930-31:—President, David G. Baird; vice-presidents, J. G. Aston, T. Bell, D. Borland, A. E. Bradbury, W. T. Crawford, C. R. Denvir, W. J. Field, R. H. Feary, S. P. Mercier, R. C. Panton, C. P. Stuart, Rev. R. M. Gwynn, F.T.C.D.; captain, P. H. Mooney; vice-captain, J. P. Cavanagh; committee, N. H. Cooke, H. O. D. Foulkes, D. J. Langan, O. L. Mahony, E. A. Roche, W. D. Ryan; hon. treasurer, R. H. Feary, Dinarth, Old Finglas road, Glasnevin; hon. team secretary, M. F. French, 283 Clontarf road, Dublin; hon. secretary, S. E. Polden, Lodebar, Victoria road, Clontarf, Dublin, N.E.7.

WANDERERS F.C.

The following will represent the 1st XV. against Old Wesley at Lansdowne road on Saturday at 3.30—D. Kennedy, R. L. Bermingham, J. Hewat, F. W. Williamson, J. H. Laing; L. Hall, E. R. Wellwood; J. D. Clinch, L. Halligan, H. J. Hilton, W. J. McCormick, M. McQuaid, H. N. Potterton, G. Robertson, D. T. Young.

General practice to-morrow at 5.15 p.m. All members are particularly requested to be present.

NAVAN R.F.C.

The annual general meeting of the Navan Club was held in the C.Y.M.S. Hall. The election of officers for the ensuing year resulted:—President—J. L. Finnegan. Vice-Presidents—R. Barnes, C. E. R. Carson, C. F. Watkins, A. J. Lambkin, T. W. Pyper, A. P. Matthews, T.D.; J. J. Spicer, and D. O'M. Leahy. Captain—P. Russell. Vice-Captain—Fred Hodgett. Hon. Secretary—W. M. Kirk. Hon. Treasurer—P. C. Taylor. Team Secretary—R. Byrne. Committee—J. J. Doris, R. Byrne, E. Davis, M. Crinion, J. Duffy. Selection Committee—P. Russell, F. Hodgett, P. J. Morgan, Wm. M. Kirk, E. Davis.

SCHOOLS SECTION LEINSTER BRANCH I.R.F.

The annual general meeting of the Schools Section, Leinster Branch I.R.F.U., was held yesterday at 12 Westmoreland street, Dublin. Mr. W. H. Acton, President, Leinster Branch, presided. Representatives of twenty-two schools attended.

The following officers were elected for the season:—Hon. secretary, W. E. Crawford; committee, Rev. W. J. Finn, Rev. T. K. Donovan, T. Quinlan, C. D. Sutton, and the hon. secretary; representatives on Leinster Branch executive, Rev. W. J. Finn and W. E. Crawford.

ASSOCIATION OF REFEREES.

Until further notice the official time of starting for all Saturday matches in Leinster will be 3.15 p.m.

ENNISKILLEN CLUB'S LOSS.

By the transfer of Mr. F. Cummings from the Enniskillen branch of the Ulster Bank to Dublin, the Enniskillen Rugby Club will lose its newly-elected captain and one of its best players and scorers. It was due to Cummings's clever three-quarter play that Enniskillen got so far in various competitions during the past two years. Last evening he was the recipient of a presentation and a complimentary farewell dance in Enniskillen Town Hall.

IRISH PLAYER WITH BLACKHEATH.

S. T. A. Radcliffe, who a couple of seasons back played as full back for Dublin University, made a very favourable impression when playing in a similar position for Blackheath against Rosslyn Park last Saturday. Blackheath won by a penalty goal and two tries to a dropped goal, and Radcliffe's play is described in an English contemporary as being so satisfactory that he is nearly certain to be retained in the position for the club throughout the year.

CROSS-CHANNEL RESULT.

Newport, 27 points; Pill Harriers, 9 points.

RUGBY LEAGUE.

Oldham, 4 points; Salford, nil.

BOXING.

CONTESTS AT WOODENBRIDGE.

At Woodenbridge on Sunday Snowball Walsh met J. Quigley in a fly-weight contest. After six rounds the referee, Gunner Smith, declared a draw. J. Whelan and Battling Ryan met in a middle-weight bout over six rounds. Whelan being declared the winner. A three-rounds exhibition was given by McCall, London, and G. Kelly.

MILITARY NOVICES AT COLLINS BARRACKS.

The novices' tournament at Collins Barracks last night provided several good bouts, all of which suggest that the Army is to be well served this year in the matter of boxing talent. Much interest was centred in the appearance for the first time of Acting Corporal O'Sullivan, a powerfully-built young policeman. He was pitted against Pte. Smullen, the Army champion, in a cruiser-weight contest, and at the start raised enthusiasm by putting the champion clean out of the ring. A fine bout developed, and Smullen's experience alone pulled him through a stiff contest.

Pte. Ney (Portobello) had a well-merited victory when knocking out Pte. Kelly (Collins) in the second round in a light-weight contest.

Two earnest welters in Pte. O'Regan (5th Batt.) and Pte. Sherry supplied a fierce mill over four rounds, the verdict going by a narrow margin to the former. Pte. Connolly, of the 17th Reserve Batt., and St. Andrew's Club, had a good points victory over Pte. Travers in a fly-weight contest. Details:—

Bantam-Weight (4 rounds)—Pte. J. O'Connell (McKee) beat Pte. Skerritt (5th Batt.) on points. Boy Conroy (A.S.M.) beat Pte. O'Leary (5th Batt.) on points.

Fly-Weight (3 rounds)—Pte. Connolly (17th Reserve and St. Andrew's) beat Pte. Travers (Portobello) on points.

Feather-Weight Competition (4 rounds)—Pte. Yeates (5th Batt.) beat Pte. Collins (Islandbridge) on points. Boy C. Kelly a bye. Final—Kelly beat Yeates on points.

Light-Weight (4 rounds)—Pte. Ney (Portobello) k.o. Pte. Kelly (Collins B.C.) in the second round. Pte. Flood (Islandbridge) beat Pte. Uzell (Collins B.C.) in the second round.

Welter-Weight (4 rounds)—Pte. Jordan (Collins) beat Pte. Keating (McKee) on points. Pte. O'Regan (5th Batt.) beat Pte. Sherry (Portobello) on points.

Cruiser-Weight (4 rounds)—Pte. Smullen (Islandbridge) beat Acting Corporal O'Sullivan (Police Corps) on points.

Juvenile Contest—Boy Delahunty beat Boy Payne on points.

Result of Mrs. Maunsell's prize:—Mrs. Irwin (17 bisques), 2 down; Miss Byrne (11 bisques) and Miss Tedcastle (16 bisques) 7 down. Friday, October 3rd—Mrs. Knapp's prize, 9-hole, match play.

HEADFORT (KELLS).

Mrs. J. C. Fitzsimon's Prize—Won by Mrs. J. McGill; second, Mrs. J. H. Johnston.

BLUE CRESCENT CUP.

There was a tie for first place in this competition at Kingstown between Mr. Hugh McMahon, of J. McMahon and Co., Ltd., Limerick, and Mr. McGowran, Brooks Thomas and Co., Ltd. In the play-off Mr. McGowran won. The course, owing to rain, was very difficult. Mr. McGowran is handicap 5, and Mr. McMahon 20.

GREYHOUND RACING.

UPSETS IN HURDLE RACES AT SHELBOURNE PARK.

Further heats of the Produce Stake and the Championship Hurdle featured an excellent programme at Shelbourne Park last night, and a large gathering were rewarded with some interesting sport.

The hurdle events provided surprises, as in both heats the odds-on favourites were beaten. Our Bill was all the rage for his heat, but he came down at the second hurdle, and Silent Marble won from Hop Along Cassidy.

Keep Closer, the favourite in the second heat, also fell at the second obstacle, and Kankajou went on to win by six lengths from Listulk Bunty.

Boaster Joker and Yankee Speed won their respective heats of the Produce Stake. The former was fully extended to beat Sgeolan Elie, but Yankee Speed won in decisive fashion from Battery Point, the favourite, Croxtown Rover, being only able to get third. Details:—

BILLIARDS.

BREAK OF 1,130 BY FALKINER.

The first four figures break of the season was made by Claude Falkiner in his match at Thurston's against Lindrum. This is the second four figures break which Falkiner has made, the other being made in Australia six years ago. In the run were sequences of 148 and 97 close cannons. It was a simple red loser at which Falkiner failed, about as easy as the red winner which had stopped Lindrum when the latter had gone from 660 (unfinished) to 710 (full). The other breaks of note in the afternoon session were 171 and 91 (unfinished) by Lindrum, who did comparatively little with a total of 527, and an average of 85. Falkiner scored 1,279 for an average of 213. Interval.—Lindrum (in play), 15,418; Falkiner (rec. 8,000), 13,682.

Falkiner again outpointed Lindrum in the evening session, which contained some very moderate billiards by the Australian. At one stage he paid seven visits to the table and scored a total of only 49 points. He opened by taking an unfinished break to 192, and then added 332, but thereafter he failed to produce his real form. His only other items were 64, 47, and 57. Falkiner's breaks were 119, 51, 41, 223, and 68 (unfinished). Closing scores:—Lindrum, 16,040; Falkiner (rec. 8,000) (in play), 14,416.

HANDBALL.

THE ARMY CHAMPIONSHIPS.

Owing to a continued downpour only one game was played yesterday in the semi-final stages of the Dublin District series of the Army Championship, this being in the Soft Ball Doubles, which was won by the Army Air Corps pair, Privates Moonan and Scanlon, who beat the Department of Defence representatives, Sergeant-Major J. J. Kneafsey and Private O'Donovan, by 21-12, 21-8.

The semi-finals and finals have been postponed until Thursday morning at 10 o'clock.

HOCKEY.

RAILWAY UNION H.C.

There will be practices at Park avenue to-morrow and Thursday evenings between 4 and 7 o'clock. All members are requested to attend. New members invited.

KINGSTOWN GRAMMAR SCHOOL P. AND P.

CRICKET.

NEW CAPTAIN FOR DERBYSHIRE.

G. R. Jackson has resigned the captaincy of the Derbyshire County Cricket club, and his place next season will be filled by A. W. Richardson. In 1928 Richardson played in 20 matches for Derbyshire and had a batting average of 22, while in 1929 he made six appearances for the County.

ASSOCIATION FOOTBALL.

CHANGE ON IRISH LEAGUE TEAM

Kilpatrick (Ballymena) has cried off the Irish League team to meet the English League on Wednesday, owing to an injury, and his place will be taken by Houston (Linfield).

NEW FULL-BACK FOR BRAY UNKNOWNS.

Bray Unknowns, who are evidently determined to have a sound defence, have secured the signature of David Chalmers, a right full-back, who has played several good games in that position for Armadale, the Scottish Second Division League club. Chalmers will be available to assist his new club against Dundalk at Bray on Sunday next.

GAELIC GAMES.

KILDARE COUNTY PLAYER IN FORM.

At Rathmolyon tournament on Sunday, for a set of medals, Leixlip (Kildare) defeated Kinnegad (County Westmeath junior champions of last year) by 1 goal and 6 points to 5 points. M. Goff, of the Kildare County team, was largely responsible for Leixlip's win. Dunne, captain of Kinnegad, was easily the best of the losing side.

In a challenge game between Trim, divisional winners, and Rathmolyon, Trim proved their superiority by 2 goals 3 points to 3 points.

FOOD AND PRODUCE MARKETS.

Birkenhead—Cattle steady: Lambs lower. London—Steady. Merklands Wharf—Business good around recent values. Hull—Fair. Wakefield—Large supplies and good demand. Birmingham—Pigs easier. Rubber lower. Copper and Tin weaker.

CATTLE.

LONDON (METROPOLITAN).—Entries of fat beasts were rather larger compared with the corresponding market day last week. Trade proved quiet, but sellers required generally steady prices; Devons 6/6 to 6/8, shorthorns 6/- to 6/6, Herefords 6/4 to 6/6. Sheep supplies were on a lighter scale, but trade without improvement, late rates being repeated in most instances. Home and Midland Counties wethers 8/- to 9/-, Kent ewes 5/- to 5/8, and lambs 9/- to 9/8, as to quality, all per stone of 8lb. to sink the offal. Total supplies: 197 beasts and 935 sheep and lambs.

BIRKENHEAD.—On offer: 690 Irish cattle and 2,999 lambs. For the larger supply of cattle on offer a very slow trade was experienced, and late rates governed most transactions. Choice small heifers made 9d., strong descriptions 8½d., bullocks 8d. to 8½d., cows and bulls 5d. to 6½d. The supply of lambs was in excess of demand, and values ruled lower, the general run of prices being around 1/-, all prices per lb. sinking the offal.

WAKEFIELD.—Large supplies and good demand. Small hogg sheep 1/3 per lb., medium 1/2, large 1/1, ewes 6d. to 8d., tups 5d., lambs 1/2½ to 1/3. Best English beef 8½d. per lb., secondary 9d., fat cows and bulls 7½d. to 9d., Irish 9d. to 9½d. Cattle, 255; sheep, 951.

HULL.—Cattle: Best 10/6 to 11/-, second 9/9 to 10/3, small young cows 8/3 to 8/6; small young sheep 1/1, strong sheep 11½d. to 1/1; large pork 10/-, medium pork 10/9, small pork 12/3.

MERKLANDS WHARF.—Big show of fat Irish bullocks and heifers; 1,385 offered, and 110 bulls and cows. Good business done around recent values. Top bullocks, extreme of 52/-, current 47/- to 50/-; secondary sorts, 42/- upwards, live weight. Bulls ranged from 30/- to 38/- per cwt.

BIRMINGHAM PIG.—Fair supply, but trade less active, being on the quiet side, with values for bacons and sows a definitely easier tendency. Quotations:—Sizeable bacons 14/-, cutters 15/- to 15/6, and sows 12/6 per score, dead-weight.

LONDON WOOL SALES.

Two catalogues were offered, totalling 9,811 bales, including 962 New South Wales, 2,948 Queensland, 400 Victorian, 1,783 New Zealand, 2,214 Punta Arenas, 1,002 Patagonian, 430 Falkland Islands, also 499 reconditioned. The above comprised a fairly attractive assortment, and the sale proceeded with good spirit. Offerings mostly cleared to home and Continental buyers, at fully steady rates, the latter accounting for the bulk of merinos. Bradford houses were interested in New Zealand cross-breds.

AUSTRALIAN WOOL SALES.

At yesterday's wool sale at Sydney, 11,421 bales were offered, of which 9,744 were sold. Wool sold privately consisted of 3,284 bales. There was an average selection. The market ruled on a par with last week's closing rates. There was good competition from all sections of buyers, especially for wools of fine quality, but barry, faulty and broad-fibred sorts were still neglected. Greasy merinos fetched up to 13¼d., comebacks 11½d. and cross-breds 12d. The average price realised at last week's sales was 8.6d.

MANCHESTER MARKETS REVIEW.

THE FALL IN BUTTER AND BACON

FROM OUR COMMERCIAL CORRESPONDENT.

So far as this centre is concerned a quiet feeling is reported in all departments of the provision trade. The firmer feeling in the butter market reported last week has not been maintained, and heavier shipments from Denmark have resulted in a decline of six kroner in the official quotation, which now stands at 248 kroner per 100 kilos, as compared with 333 kroner at the corresponding period of last year and 376 kroner in 1928. Reports from Denmark state that the Continental markets have shown more activity, and this has resulted in a firmer tone in this country. Increased orders were received from the Midland and Northern markets, and also Scotland, but in the South there was evidence of lack of demand. It appears, however, difficult to make progress with the overseas butter, of which such large quantities are still in store, and so long as these conditions prevail it is hardly to be expected that butter prices generally could be able to continue their upward course. The bacon market generally has been weaker, and at the weekly meeting of the Manchester Bacon Committee in this centre it was decided to reduce the price of Irish bacon by 3s., Danish 3s. to 4s., Swedish 2s. to 3s., and Dutch 2s. for lean selections. There is no doubt that the heavy killings in Denmark of bacon pigs during the past few weeks are affecting the position. Dutch has been in smaller supply and slightly less Swedish has also been marketed. In other pig products lard shows a sharp advance, and there appears to be little prospect of any giving way in prices; in fact, advices from America show that buyers on a wholesale scale would be well advised if they would operate during the month of January. So far as home-produced cheese is concerned, business can by no means be described as brisk, but after some falling back in the price of Colonial the market shows signs of recovery, and values of Canadian are occasionally the turn dearer. During the present week the egg trade has taken a decidedly firmer turn, the low prices and the cooler weather facilitating business. Reverting to the bacon position, although it is no secret that the number of hogs in Denmark has increased considerably of late surprise was occasioned when the census just completed showed an increase of about 37 per cent. The census has been very accurate in classifying the hogs according to age, etc., and as the largest increase was in pigs less than two months old there is no likelihood of any abatement in the killings for some little time, although warning voices have been raised against excessive hog raising. In view of the attention which has been given of late to the subject of pig breeding and bacon supplies in the United Kingdom these figures are extremely interesting as showing what can be done when the industry is conducted on proper lines. A revival of agriculture at home would help to relieve unemployment, and is greatly to be desired.

At Salford Cattle market on Tuesday Irish fat cattle were shown in larger numbers, but both dairy cattle and lambs were in smaller supply. An improved demand was experienced for fat cattle at rather more money, but no change was recorded in other departments. The question of the removal of Salford Cattle Market, the closing of which at the time of writing has been definitely fixed for the 1st October, continues to exercise a wide variance of opinion with wholesale butchers here. If it is finally decided to close down at Salford, the venue suggested by the Manchester authorities at Mode Wheel would be decidedly convenient for the Irish trade, as the moderate of the stock are landed at this point on the Manchester Ship Canal. At the Manchester Pig market supplies have been on a moderate scale, and with weather conditions more favourable to business prices have moved slightly in an upward direction. A steady tone has prevailed at the Manchester Dead Meat market throughout the week.

Dead poultry quiet and prices the turn lower as compared with last week. Grouse have been in fair supply, young birds being quoted at 5s. 6d. and old 2s. 6d., and young partridge 5s. and old 2s. per brace (wholesale), but when farmers have finished the harvesting increased supplies are expected.

TROPICAL PRODUCE MARKET STEADY.

PALM OIL EASIER.

FROM OUR COMMERCIAL CORRESPONDENT.

LIVERPOOL, Saturday.

There has been a steady demand for tropical produce during the week, with the ruling rates for the chief commodities somewhat lower. Palm oil, for instance, has changed hands at 5s. to 7s. 6d. per ton lower, with business rather restricted, home consumers being merely content to buy from hand-to-mouth. The Northern continent has also shown but a moderate demand, and in the case of soft oils closing rates are mainly nominal. For spot material early on £22 2s 6d. and £22 was accepted, but to-day buyers will not go beyond £21 18s. 9d., with sellers at £22. For distant material £21 15s would be accepted, with near-at-hand offered at £21 18s. 9d. Hard oils and mediums have also been on the quiet side, with rates a shade under those of last week.

Palm kernels have been in steady demand, following a quiet commencement, and values have shown a tendency to harden. Hamburg paid £11 16s. 3d. down to £11 13s. 9d. for September-October position, with October-November at £11 18s. 9d. and £11 15s. and November-December at £12 and £11 16s. 3d.; but the market gradually displayed a hardening tendency, and £11 15s. was paid for September-October shipment, with November-December done at £11 17s. 6d. To-day the tone is steady, with values, though showing a drop of 10s. on the week, inclined to move up again. Hull consumers have been interested mainly in near-at-hand material, and have paid £11 13s. 9d. and £11 12s. 6d. for September-October position.

Copra has been on the easy side, and values have declined roughly 10s. per ton. For sun-dried Straits down to £16 10s. has been accepted for September-October material to Rotterdam, with November-December at £16 12s. 6d. Dutch East Indies mixed September-October was done to Marseilles at £16 6s. 3d.

Ground nuts have shown an improved demand, after a quiet start, and, compared with a week ago, are 3s. 9d. per ton dearer. Coromandel machined September-October was done at £13 6s. 3d., with October-November at £13 5s., November-December £13 2s. 6d., and December-January at £13 7s. 6d., and then values moved up further on continued demand, November-December and December-January making £13.

Cottonseeds have been a neglected market, and values are more or less nominal for forward shipment of Brazilian f.a.q. Linseed has eased 15s. per ton to £14 2s. 6d. for September-October shipment of River Plate. New crop tended 10s. easier at £13 7s. 6d. for January-February. Seed oils have been in quiet demand at 6d. decline. Common edible cottonseed on spot made 30s., with deodorised nett naked ex mills done at 32s.

SUSPENDED AUSTRIAN NEWSPAPERS.

"SPREADING DISQUIETING RUMOURS."

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.

VIENNA, Monday.

The Wiener Neueste Nachrichten was confiscated to-day because it had pointed out that the resignation of the Chancellor, Dr. Schober, might result in serious financial complications—above all, in the withdrawal of foreign capital, and might affect the stability of Austrian currency. The Radical paper Abend was also confiscated on the ground of spreading "disquieting rumours."

YACHTING.

THE GRETTON CUP.

The race for the Gretton Cup, under the flag of the Lough Erne Yacht Club, took place on the lower lake, eight yachts starting from Rossclare at 2.50 p.m. in an easterly light breeze. The course was No. 8 starboard, and the finish was fought out between Iris, Snipe, Cygnet and Petrel, which took the north side of the lake. The finishing times were:—

	H.	M.	S.
Cygnet (Messrs. R. and C. H. Herbert)	5	52	47
Snipe (Mr. H. D'Arcy Irvine)	5	53	17
Iris (Colonel Richardson)	5	54	0
Petrel (sailed by Lady Viola Dundas)	5	56	0
Fay (sailed by Mr. G. C. Richardson)	6	1	10
Storm (Mr. Geoffrey Irvine)	6	7	20
Pastime (Major and Mrs. Irvine)	6	9	30
Doreen (Dr. James Herbert)	6	12	23

SPEED BOAT RACING AT VENICE.

VENICE, Monday.

In the final heat for the Volpi Cup for motor boats here yesterday, Cabac (Italy) was first, Baby (Spain) second, and Dream Girl (England) third.

Cabac was first in the Motonautique Federation's Cup, with Dream Girl second.

FINANCIAL PARAGRAPHS.

GENERAL ELECTRIC DEBENTURES.

The subscription lists for cash applications for the issue of £3,500,000 5 per cent. Mortgage Debenture stock of the General Electric Company Ltd., were closed at 12 o'clock yesterday morning, the whole issue having been heavily over-subscribed. In accordance with the terms of the prospectus, applications by holders of the existing 7 per cent. Mortgage Debenture stock desiring to convert the whole or a portion of their holdings, will be received up to and including Monday, the 29th September, 1930. The prospectus appeared in the Irish Times yesterday morning.

GERMAN LOAN.

Following the recent fall of the issue on the London Stock Market, there was heavy selling of German Reparations Loan on the Amsterdam Bourse on Saturday. Other German Securities also gave way.

RHODESIA COPPER.

The Johannesburg Correspondent of the Financial News wired on September 21:—"Mr. Heath Steele, Vice-President of the American Metal Company and its associated companies, as well as the U.S. Metals Refining Company, has just completed a tour of the Rhodesian copper belt, in which his company has considerable interests. Mr. Steele says he was greatly impressed with the development and prospects of the belt, and considers that the expenditure on developing and equipping the various concerns has been fully justified by the reserves in sight."

TRANSVAAL WORKING PROFIT.

The Transvaal Chamber of Mines announces that the working profit of the gold mines in August amounted to £1,174,828, compared with £1,184,107 for July.

NORTHERN MINERALS (TRANSVAAL).

In 1929 the Northern Minerals (Transvaal) sold its surface and mineral rights in the Transvaal, and decided to alter its title to "Financial Development and Securities Corporation, Ltd.," the business of the company now being entirely financial. The directors, in their annual report now to hand, state the name of the company remains unchanged as a result of the refusal of the Board of Trade to permit the proposed alteration.

BRITISH CONTROLLED OILFIELDS.

British Controlled Oilfields announces that at the meeting of holders of Common and Preferred Shares of the company, held in Montreal on 17th September, resolutions approving the scheme for reorganisation of capital were passed by both classes of shareholders. Application to the Court of King's Bench, Quebec, for approval will now be made, and it is hoped that this will be given in about two weeks' time. Shareholders who lodged their certificates for the purposes of voting at the meeting will now have their certificates returned.

NORTH CHARTERLAND EXPLORATION.

The directors of the North Charterland Exploration Company (1910) have issued a long circular dealing with the disposal of some of its property (as it claims) by the British South Africa Company to the Crown for native reserves. Events leading up to the petition of right heard and dismissed by Justice Luxmoore last term are recounted at length in the circular. The company acquired from the British South Africa Company a concession for which it paid £700,000 in shares. By an Order in Council issued in March, 1928, half of the company's cultivable land was taken for native reserve without payment, although the grant made it clear that payment would be made for all land acquired for public purposes. The directors of the North Charterland Exploration (1910) now propose to ask the Prime Minister for a public inquiry into the circumstances under which the company was deprived of part of its properties.

TEA PRODUCING COMPANIES' HANDBOOK.

This handbook has been compiled by Mr. L. G. Stephens. The details given are in such a form as to enable a comprehensive study of the various companies to be made, and also a comparison of the results obtained over a series of years. The particulars include directors, secretaries, capitals, estates, capitalisation per acre, reserves, tabulated details of the past four years' results, with an analysis for each year showing yield per acre, percentage of profits on capital, profit per acre, reserve per acre, liquid assets. The handbook is issued in conjunction with the Mincing Lane Tea and Rubber Share Brokers' Association and the Indian Tea Share Exchange. The price, post free, is 3s. 10d., and the publishers are The Financial Times, 72 Coleman street, London.

NEW DIRECTOR OF VICKERS-ARMSTRONGS.

It is understood that Colonel J. B. Neilson has been appointed to a seat on the Board of Vickers-Armstrongs, Ltd., to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Mr. G. G. Sim. Colonel Neilson, who is Chairman of the English Steel Corporation, was appointed Director and Deputy Chairman of Vickers, Ltd., a few weeks ago in the place of Mr. Sim. It was pointed out then that, although he retained his appointment as Deputy Chairman of Baldwins, Ltd., that did not imply any connection or working arrangement between the two companies.

ARTIFICIAL SILK SALES.

The artificial silk producing concerns associated with the Glanzstoff concern at Elberfeld—the Bohemian Glanzstoff (Lobositz), the Austrian Glanzstoff (St. Poelten), the Enka (Arnheim) and its associated companies, and Glanzstoff Courtaulds (Cologne)—have agreed with the latter to establish united sales organisations at Prague and Vienna, reports Reuter's Cologne correspondent. The aim of the agreement is to eliminate internal competition and to stabilise prices.

MOLASSES INTERIM PASSED.

No interim dividend is to be paid this year by the United Molasses Co., whose interim report was issued last night. The directors say, however, that the financial position is one of great strength. It is revealed in the report that the company has come to an agreement with the Distillers Company for an exchange of shares in the proportion of two Molasses shares for one Distillers share. This arrangement cements a close business relationship that has existed for some time.

"The accounts for the seven months to July 31st last, subject to audit, show that the company and its subsidiary companies made a net profit of £535,000, after providing for depreciation on the same basis as before. In June and July the demand for Molasses began to drop off, and the freight market began to weaken. These factors have continued to operate with increasing force during the last six weeks. During the last few days the company has been notified by some of its customers abroad that owing to accumulation of stocks and declining prices they may not be able to carry out their commitments. In consequence quantities of molasses, which would, under normal conditions have gone into consumption, are accumulating in our tanks. Unfortunately, this coincides with a serious depression in the tanker freight market, and for the first time in our history we are experiencing difficulty in finding employment for all of our vessels. The directors have, therefore, determined not to pay any interim dividend, feeling satisfied that by conserving its resources the company will be in a stronger position to finance the stocks which it will be called upon to carry."

The report states:—"The financial position of the company is fortunately one of great strength, there being no debentures or mortgages outstanding. An arrangement has been concluded with the Distillers Company, Ltd., of Edinburgh, for an exchange of shares in this company for shares in the Distillers Company, Ltd., at the rate of two United Molasses Company fully-paid Ordinary shares for one fully-paid Ordinary share of the Distillers Company, Ltd. This arrangement will necessitate the issue of an additional 375,000 Ordinary shares in this company, making a total issue of Ordinary paid-up share capital of the company of £4,851,251. It has further been agreed that Mr. W. H. Ross, the chairman of the Distillers Company, Ltd., will join the board of this company, and that our chairman, Mr. F. K. Kielberg, will join the board of the Distillers Company, Ltd." The report concludes: "The directors feel sure that these arrangements will not only strengthen the cordial business relations already existing between the two companies, but will prove of great advantage to your company."
